Philip Kenworthy Breaks Right Leg

Philip Kenworthy, 14-year-old son of Mr and Mrs. Robert Kenworthy, 41 East Broadway, broke his right leg while practicing football at Delone Catholic high school, McSherrystown, late Tuesday afternoon The fracture is between the knee and ankle.

Kenworthy was practicing open field running and attempting to elude posted tacklers. As he swerved to evade a tackler his cleats caught in the turf just as he was tackled, snapping the leg bone below the knee He was removed to the Hanover hospital where the fracture was reduced and he was returned to his home Wednesday afternoon.

FIND ADEQUATE WATER SUPPLY IN CAMPUS TEST

Tons of water cascaded over the campus of Gettysburg college Wednesday evening in a test of water supply and fire fighting facilities in the northern section of the borough

The demonstration was arranged by John Long, manager of the Municipal Authority which operates the water supply system, in cooperation with Fire Chief Donald G Jacobs and the Gettysburg Fire department.

It proved several things, most important of which was the fact that this section of Gettysburg and the college in particular now have an adequate supply of water for any emergency

Eight Streams In Air

Firemen took two pumpers and the ladder truck to the college campus One pumper was placed at a hydrant near the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity house The new Mack truck and the ladder truck took up positions on the east side of the Eddie Plank memorial gymnasium.

Eight streams of water were playing over the outfield of the baseball field at one time, including a double stream from the nozzle at the top of the 65-foot extension ladder

The demonstration was not without its humorous incidents. Youngsters ran or rode their bicycles through the spray from the various nozzles Several spectators "got a soaking" when two sections of hose burst.

Numerous residents of the north end, as well as college officials, witnessed the demonstration. Fire Chief Jacobs said weekly fire drills would be held as long as weather permits

The demonstration was the first since the new ten-inch water line was laid through the college campus.

Piggy Banks Periled By Mints' Appeal

A shortage of pennies and nickels caused bank officials said, by hoarding today brought a request from federal authorities to national banks throughout the country to issue appeals to help get these coins back in circulation Gettysburg banks received these appeals

The telegrams were addressed to all national banks by Preston Delano, comptroller of the currency, at the request of Mrs Nellie Taylor Ross director of the mint Banks were warned that because of an acute shortage of copper, mints were unable to meet the demands for pennies and nickels

There are enough of these coins lying idle in home depositories like piggy banks' and similar containers, to relieve this shortage and provide the coins for everyday demands the mint said

The habit of saving pennies and other coins, while very commendable, has resulted in a drain on the mints for new coins which they have been unable to meet. Delano said

Arensberg Collection Is Added To College Library; Father Of Donor Wounded At Gettysburg

The Gettysburg college library acquired recently, through the gift of Francis Louis Arensberg, wealthy Pittsburgh manufacturer, a collection of books, all of them valuable and many of them rare editions, pertaining to the Civil war, the reconstruction period, and in lesser numbers, to the American revolution, with a few books on art

With the collection also is a bust of Napoleon, a "distinguished service" award made to a soldier of Bonaparte's army signed by Napoleon when he was first consul of the French Republic, and the signature of his minister of war, A Berthier It is dated 1799

Value Not Known

Only half of the books have been unpacked, and John H Knickerbocker college librarian, said he was unable to place a definite value on the collection. They were shipped to the college library in 30 cartons

When all of the books have been catalogued, they will be placed on library book shelves, with the following book plates in each volume:

Was Wounded Here

According to Mr Knickerbocker Conrad Arensberg was wounded at Gettysburg and cared for here after the battle This made of Gettysburg more than just a national shrine to him, and he visited here frequently in the years following the Civil war, up to his death in 1924.

Conrad Arensberg started his collection of books on the Civil war shortly after the termination of his service in the Union army

Among the collection are numerous works on Lincoln Lee and various generals and Civil war leaders on both sides Many of the books have been long out of print. Some are extremely rare editions

Limited Editions

A set of three books on "The American Commonwealth," by Bryce is among the noteworthy inclusions They are valuable because of the limited number of this particular edition published

According to Mr. Knickerbocker, the author included in this edition a history of Tammany Hall, powerful New York city political organization There were parts of this his-

USE PARACHUTE CLOTHS TO MAKE MANY GARMENTS

Parachutes that once were insurance for air force pilots' lives will soon become dresses, slip covers and many other things in the home economics departments of the county's high schools.

A number of the silk parachutes were purchased by the schools earlier this week under the government's surplus property program, and distributed, along with other articles bought under the same set-up at the same time, to the county high schools.

Home economics teachers said that every part of the parachutes is usable, even the shrouds from which the person using a parachute dangles. The shrouds, pencil thick strands of silk, are used as a decorative effect on slip covers.

Buy 6,150 Pounds

A total of 6,150 pounds of surplus material was purchased by the schools, at the standing price to educational institutions of five cents per pound

Among the articles were wooden tables from which the legs can be removed for storage, paint, typewriters, a large bolt of blue denim which is also scheduled for the home economics departments several spools of cable, aluminum strap, notebook covers, tools including hammers, drill bits, etc, bandages, heavy plastic seat covers, green and red lead pencils, a large quantity of cafeteria materials including baking pans, griddles, serving dishes and the like, telephones — which are probably scheduled to wind up in school plays, two radios typewriter and adding machine ribbons, filing cabinets and even a dentist's probing light, which will come in handy when school nurses examine throats.

High schools securing the material included Gettysburg, Biglerville New Oxford, Fairfield, Littlestown East Berlin and York Springs

Theaters To Drop Movies On Sunday

The management of the Caledonia and Cross-Keys drive-in theaters today announced that by reason of the developments here and in Franklin county they will no longer show Sunday movies unless authorized by the voters of Oxford and Franklin townships to do so at the November election

The theater managements, however, announced plans to hold after-midnight shows soon, to replace the Sunday shows.

EXERCISES AT THEATER OPEN COLLEGE YEAR

"We should check upon the blessings of our day rather than the faults," Dr. Henry W A Hanson told the student body of Gettysburg college this morning at formal exercises, held in the Majestic theater opening the school for its 120th year.

"Our country is alarmingly disturbed by a short view of where we are and what we are" the college president declared "There is pessimism and even more bewilderment because we take but a day to day view of our world

Greater Opportunities

"We forget that 25 years ago the people of America lived much more circumscribed lives than we today We forget that never before have we had greater prosperity, greater comforts, greater facilities and greater opportunities than we have today.

"I am thinking of the times at the start of our college 120 years ago, but you can bring the comparison much, much closer But 50 years ago the largest room was the room for improvement We can offer our students today far greater opportunities than were dreamed of but 50 years ago, and this is true not

Truman Predicts Victory In '52; Says GOP Lacks Issues

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP)—President Truman today predicted a Democratic victory in 1952 He said the opposition is without issues and has resorted to misrepresentation and smears

Mr Truman declined anew to say at a news conference whether he will seek renomination but he did say he expects to have a hand in drafting his party's 52 platform

Told that Edward J Flynn Democratic national committeeman from New York had said yesterday Mr Truman could beat anyone including Gen Dwight D Eisenhower the President was asked if he agreed

He said he was happy to hear of Flynn's estimate because he regards the New Yorker as a very able prognosticator But, the President added he had no comment on Flynn's remarks

From the Republican camp Flynn's prediction brought a retort that the GOP nominee will win next year if he wages a fighting campaign

Much of the news at the Presidential press conference this morning had a political flavor In addition to his prediction of a Democratic victory in 52 the President said quite strongly that he is opposed to any official of the Democratic national committee collecting fees for helping secure an RFC loan And he added that he is convinced Chairman William M Boyle Jr has not done so He stood behind his nomination of two federal judges for Illinois, despite the fact that opposition by Senator Douglas (D-Ill) has resulted in the nominations being bottled up in committee

And on foreign affairs he reiterated that this country will continue to seek agreements with Soviet Russia—and will build up U S armed strength to see that the agreements are enforced He said that the strengthened arms program has brought about a stronger prospect for preserving peace

Reds Want To Resume Peace Talks At Kaesong; 32 Jets Battle 50 MIGS Over Korea

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sept 20 (AP)—American F-86 Sabre jets damaged two Russian-made MIG-15 jets today in a high speed battle that swirled for 20 minutes over northwest Korea

All Allied planes returned safely to base, the U S Fifth Air Force said

Clearing weather on the eastern front brought back needed air support to Allied infantry fighting the bloody "battle of the hills"

There were no reports of major air and action from other fronts

The jet battle ranged from 43,000 feet down to tree-top level Thirty-two Sabre jets were pitted against 50 MIGs

At least 112 jets tangled Wednesday in the same area The Reds lost one plane destroyed and five damaged

Seek To Regain Losses

On the ground U N infantrymen pulled themselves together for a drive to regain Wednesday's losses The final score for Wednesday—no hills won, three lost and seven Allied attacks turned back— was relieved only by the successful defense of three other peaks against strong Communist attacks

With clearing weather, however, the Doughboys had help from air force and marine fighter pilots plus artillery fire that is more accurate when directed from spotter planes

The "battle of the hills" flared from northwest of Yanggu almost to the Sea of Japan, west of Kansong

Action Is Savage

The Allies were fighting for a series of east-west positions that if taken would bring them close to more open country

Once there, the U N army would be in the best position yet to launch a wheeling movement to the northwest That could gradually swing the front from an east-west line to one running northeast-southwest

Ground action in that area was savage

North Korean troops stormed ahead in the rain to recapture three peaks They forced back the Allies at several other points On three peaks the Allies stood fast.

Tokyo, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Communist high command reversed itself today and suggested that Korean cease-fire talks be resumed immediately in Kaesong

The Reds broke off the talks 28 days ago They charged then that an Allied plane bombed and strafed the neutral Kaesong area August 22 in an attempt to murder Communist truce delegates The Allied command called the charge fraudulent and faked

Heretofore the Reds have demanded that the Allies admit responsibility for a string of alleged neutral zone violations before the truce talks could be resumed

Ridgway Is Silent

They proposed today only that a "suitable organization" be set up to guarantee the neutrality of Kaesong, Korea

Gen. Matthew B Ridgway made no immediate comment

But a release from the supreme headquarters said, "There is reason for hope that the latest Communist reversal in policy and agreement to renew the peace talks may bring some sort of a cease-fire in Korea"

It cautioned, however, that "it is a hope that must be tempered by the realization that a renewal of the talks does not mean necessarily that previous difficulties will suddenly iron themselves out"

Chinese Gen Peng Teh-huai and North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung proposed

Guarantee Neutrality

1—That liaison officers of both sides meet to fix the time for reopening the meetings

2—That at the first session after the conferences resume, delegates discuss a plan "to establish a suitable organization" for guaranteeing the neutrality of Kaesong and settling differences over previously charged violations.

The United Nations command has admitted the validity of only two alleged violations

Ridgway's headquarters said an Allied plane strafed Kaesong by mistake September 10 and four unarmed South Korean soldiers mistakenly approached the neutral zone Tuesday afternoon.

The Red leaders said they were willing to consider reopening the talks because of the "responsible attitude" the Allies have taken regarding the admitted violations.

Reds Favor Kaesong

They added "In order not to let the previously mentioned unsettled incidents continue to obstruct the progress of the negotiations of both sides we therefore propose that the delegates of both sides should immediately resume the armistice negotiations at Kaesong without any need for further discussion on the conditions for the resumption of armistice negotiations"

FIND ADEQUATE WATER SUPPLY IN CAMPUS TEST

Tons of water cascaded over the campus of Gettysburg college Wednesday evening in a test of water supply and fire fighting facilities in the northern section of the borough.

The demonstration was arranged by John Long, manager of the Municipal Authority which operates the water supply system, in cooperation with Fire Chief Donald G. Jacobs and the Gettysburg Fire department.

It proved several things, most important of which was the fact that this section of Gettysburg and the college in particular now have an adequate supply of water for any emergency.

Eight Streams In Air

Firemen took two pumpers and the ladder truck to the college campus. One pumper was placed at a hydrant near the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity house. The new Mack truck and the ladder truck took up positions on the east side of the Eddie Plank memorial gymnasium.

Eight streams of water were playing over the outfield of the baseball field at one time, including a double stream from the nozzle at the top of the 65-foot extension ladder.

The demonstration was not without its humorous incidents. Youngsters ran or rode their bicycles through the spray from the various nozzles. Several spectators "got a soaking" when two sections of hose burst.

Numerous residents of the north end, as well as college officials, witnessed the demonstration. Fire Chief Jacobs said weekly fire drills would be held as long as weather permits.

The demonstration was the first since the new ten-inch water line was laid through the college campus.

TO RAISE FUNDS AT FILM SHOW FOR ART GALLERY

The second in the series of four films being made by Charles N. Noss and his wife on "The Pennsylvania Dutch" will be shown Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the South Mountain Fairgrounds Memorial auditorium under sponsorship of the Associated Arts and Crafts Guild of Adams county.

Through the public showing the guild hopes to raise funds toward improvement of its public art gallery located in the Leatherman room on Lincoln Square here.

In addition to the Pennsylvania

Piggy Banks Periled By Mints' Appeal

A shortage of pennies and nickels caused, bank officials said, by "hoarding" today brought a request from federal authorities to national banks throughout the country to issue appeals to help get these coins back in circulation. Gettysburg banks received these appeals.

The telegrams were addressed to all national banks by Preston Delano, comptroller of the currency, at the request of Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, director of the mint. Banks were warned that because of an acute shortage of copper, mints were unable to meet the demands for pennies and nickels.

There are enough of these coins lying idle in home depositories, like "piggy banks" and similar containers, to relieve this shortage and provide the coins for everyday demands, the mint said.

The habit of saving pennies and other coins, while very commendable, has resulted in a drain on the mints for new coins which they have been unable to meet, Delona said.

SPEEDER FINED

Fred J. Brunner, Oak Park, Ill., arrested Wednesday by state police of the Gettysburg substation on a charge of speeding, paid a fine of $10 and costs to Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore.

Arensberg Collection Is Added To College Library; Father Of Donor Wounded At Gettysburg

The Gettysburg college library acquired recently, through the gift of Francis Louis Arensberg, wealthy Pittsburgh manufacturer, a collection of books, all of them valuable and many of them rare editions, pertaining to the Civil war, the reconstruction period, and in lesser numbers, to the American revolution, with a few books on art.

With the collection also is a bust of Napoleon, a "distinguished service" award made to a soldier of Bonaparte's army signed by Napoleon when he was first consul of the French Republic, and the signature of his minister of war, A. Berthier. It is dated 1799.

Value Not Known

Only half of the books have been unpacked, and John H. Knickerbocker, college librarian, said he was unable to place a definite value on the collection. They were shipped to the college library in 30 cartons.

When all of the books have been catalogued, they will be placed on library book shelves, with the following book plates in each volume:

Was Wounded Here

According to Mr. Knickerbocker, Conrad Arensberg was wounded at Gettysburg and cared for here after the battle. This made of Gettysburg more than just a national shrine to him, and he visited here frequently in the years following the Civil war, up to his death in 1924.

Conrad Arensberg started his collecttion of books on the Civil war shortly after the termination of his service in the Union army.

Among the collection are numerous works on Lincoln, Lee and various generals and Civil war leaders on both sides. Many of the books have been long out of print. Some are extremely rare editions.

Limited Editions

A set of three books on "The American Commonwealth," by Bryce, is among the noteworthy inclusions. They are valuable because of the limited number of this particular edition published.

According to Mr. Knickerbocker, the author included in this edition a history of Tammany Hall, powerful New York city political organization. There were parts of this his-

USE PARACHUTE CLOTHS TO MAKE MANY GARMENTS

Parachutes that once were insurance for air force pilots' lives will soon become dresses, slip covers and many other things in the home economics departments of the county's high schools.

A number of the silk parachutes were purchased by the schools earlier this week under the government's surplus property program, and distributed, along with other articles bought under the same setup at the same time, to the county high schools.

Home economics teachers said that every part of the parachutes is usable, even the shrouds from which the person using a parachute dangles. The shrouds, pencil thick strands of silk, are used as a decorative effect on slip covers.

Buy 6,150 Pounds

A total of 6,150 pounds of surplus material was purchased by the schools, at the standing price to educational institutions of five cents per pound.

Among the articles were wooden tables from which the legs can be removed for storage, paint, typewriters, a large bolt of blue denim which is also scheduled for the home economics departments, several spools of cable, aluminum strap, notebook covers, tools including hammers, drill bits, etc., bandages, heavy plastic seat covers, green and red lead pencils, a large quantity of cafeteria materials including baking pans, griddles, serving dishes and the like, telephones — which are probably scheduled to wind up in school plays, two radios, typewriter and adding machine ribbons, filing cabinets and even a dentist's probing light, which will come in handy when school nurses examine throats.

High schools securing the material included Gettysburg, Biglerville, New Oxford, Fairfield, Littlestown, East Berlin and York Springs.

Truman Predicts Victory In '52; Says GOP Lacks Issues

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP)—President Truman today predicted a Democratic victory in 1952. He said the opposition is without issues and has resorted to misrepresentation and smears.

Mr. Truman declined anew to say at a news conference whether he will seek renomination, but he did say he expects to have a hand in drafting his party's '52 platform.

Told that Edward J. Flynn, Democratic national committeeman from New York, had said yesterday Mr. Truman could beat anyone, including Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the President was asked if he agreed.

He said he was happy to hear of Flynn's estimate because he regards the New Yorker as a very able prognosticator. But, the President added, he had no comment on Flynn's remarks.

From the Republican camp, Flynn's prediction brought a retort that the GOP nominee will win next year if he wages a fighting campaign.

Much of the news at the Presidential press conference this morning had a political flavor. In addition to his prediction of a Democratic victory in '52, the President:

Said quite strongly that he is opposed to any official of the Democratic national committee collecting fees for helping secure an RFC loan.

And he added that he is convinced Chairman William M. Boyle, Jr., has not done so; stood behind his nomination of two federal judges for Illinois, despite the fact that opposition by Senator Douglas (D.-Ill.) has resulted in the nominations being bottled up in committee.

And on foreign affairs he reiterated that this country will continue to seek agreements with Soviet Russia—and will build up U. S. armed strength to see that the agreements are enforced. He said that the strengthened arms program has brought about a stronger prospect for preserving peace.

Theaters To Drop Movies On Sunday

The management of the Caledonia and Cross-Keys drive-in theaters today announced that by reason of the developments here and in Franklin county they will no longer show Sunday movies unless authorized by the voters of Oxford and Franklin townships ~~to do so at the~~ November election.

The theater managements, however, announced plans to hold after-midnight shows soon, to replace the Sunday shows.

EXERCISES AT THEATER OPEN COLLEGE YEAR

"We should check upon the blessings of our day rather than the faults," Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson told the student body of Gettysburg college this morning at formal exercises, held in the Majestic theater, opening the school for its 120th year.

"Our country is alarmingly disturbed by a short view of where we are and what we are," the college president declared. "There is pessimism and even more bewilderment because we take but a day to day view of our world.

Greater Opportunities

"We forget that 25 years ago the people of America lived much more circumscribed lives than we today. We forget that never before have we had greater prosperity, greater comforts, greater facilities, and greater opportunities than we have today.

"I am thinking of the times at the start of our college 120 years ago, but you can bring the comparison much, much closer. But 50 years ago the largest room was the room for improvement. We can offer our students today far greater opportunities than were dreamed of but 50 years ago, and this is true not

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS

Daughters were born at the Warner hospital today to Mr. and Mrs. Carleton E. Ferguson, 21 Breckenridge street, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hull, Littlestown R. 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Miller, Gettysburg R. 4, announce the birth of a son at the hospital today.

A son was born Wednesday at the hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Jacob I. Sweeney, Gettysburg R. 4.

Cars Collide At CrossKeys Wednesday

An automobile operated by Samuel Saloman Greenburg, 57, of Baltimore, and one driven by Elizabeth Bross Zeigler, 30, of Abbottstown, collided at 12:45 p.m. Wednesday at the Cross Keys intersection on the Lincoln highway, according to state police of the Gettysburg substation.

No one was injured, but damage to the Greenburg car was estimated at $75 and to the Zeigler car at $400. Police said Greenburg, driving north on the Hanover-Cross Keys road, failed to stop at the intersection and ran into the Zeigler car. He was taken before Justice of the Peace David Mickley, of Hamilton township, and paid a fine of $5 and costs for a stop sign violation.

SEVERAL NEW OFFICERS ARE NAMED BY AAUW

Fifty persons attended the covered dish supper and first meeting of the year of the Gettysburg branch of AAUW Wednesday evening at the YWCA.

A feature of the program was a play, "Mama's Metamorphosis," directed by Mrs. Luther Wisler, with the following cast of members: Miss Louise Ramer, Mrs. Walter Coleman, Mrs. Richard Schubart and Mrs. William Harbaugh.

Letters of resignation were read from Miss Reida Longanecker, president, and Miss Christine Cunningham, member-at-large of the executive board. Upon recommendation of the nominating committee, Mrs. Coleman, chairman, Miss Virginia Troxell and Mrs. Francis Mason, Mrs. Donald McPherson was chosen vice president and Mrs. H. F. Thomas, Gettysburg R. D., member-at-large to the executive board. Mrs. Robert Fortenbaugh, former vice president, was automatically elevated to the presidency.

Two Installed

The newly chosen officers, Mrs. Fortenbaugh and Mrs. McPherson, were installed by Mrs. Kenneth Smith, parliamentarian.

Two amendments to the constitution were read and will be voted upon at the next meeting. The first would bring local branch reinstatement fees in line with the national policy and the second would create the office of a second vice president.

Reports were given by the following committee chairman: Mrs. McPherson, program; Mrs. Norman Richardson, fellowship; Mrs. Frank Hewetson, international relations; Mrs. R. S. Saby, legislation; Mrs. C. W. Weikert, Littlestown, status of women, and Mrs. Elizabeth Pennington, membership. Mrs. Richardson announced a "white elephant" sale will be held November 24 at the National garage for the benefit of the fellowship fund. It was also

ANNUAL COUNTY SCHOOL OPENS HERE OCT. 15

The annual Adams County Leadership Training School will be held at St. James Lutheran church here October 15, 22 and 29 and November 5, 12 and 19. Each session will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Four courses will be offered: one on the beginnings of the Hebrew nation, designed to cover the Sunday school lessons for the first quarter of the coming year, which will be taught by Dr. Jacob Myers of the local Lutheran seminary; a course on "My Christian Beliefs" to be taught by Dr. Jacob Heikkinen, of the seminary, and a course on "Use of the Bible with Children" to be taught by Dr. H. D. Hoover, of the seminary and a course on "Guidance in Christian Homemaking."

The homemaking guidance course will be taught in workshop fashion by a number of instructors including Dr. Joseph Baker. Attorney Daniel E. Teeter will be coordinator for the homemaking course. The Adams County Council of Christian Education, sponsors of the school, today urged husbands and wives to attend the course together.

Ask Early Registrations

All of the courses are open to Sunday school superintendents, teachers, or anyone interested.

Associated Deans Luther Lady, Arendtsville, and R. R. Starner, Bendersville, urged registration for the courses before they open so that officials of the school will know what quantities of supplies to obtain. However, registrations will also be received on the opening night. Miss Mildred Moser will be registrar for the school.

The committee on worship for the school includes R. R. Starner and Mrs. O. D. Coble, of Bendersville. The publicity committee includes C. I. Raffensberger, Richard C. Lighter and C. William Harbaugh.

Reds Want To Resume Peace Talks At Kaesong; 32 Jets Battle 50 MIGS Over Korea

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sept. 20 (AP)—American F-86 Sabre jets damaged two Russian-made MIG-15 jets today in a high speed battle that swirled for 20 minutes over northwest Korea.

All Allied planes returned safely to base, the U. S. Fifth Air Force said.

Clearing weather on the eastern front brought badly needed air support to Allied infantry fighting the bloody "battle of the hills."

There were no reports of major ground action from other fronts.

The jet battle ranged from 43,000 feet down to tree-top level. Thirty-two Sabre jets were pitted against 50 MIGs.

At least 112 jets tangled Wednesday in the same area. The Reds lost one plane destroyed and five damaged.

Seek To Regain Losses

On the ground, U. N. infantrymen pulled themselves together for a drive to regain Wednesday's losses. The final score for Wednesday—no hills won, three lost, and seven Allied attacks turned back— was relieved only by the successful defense of three other peaks against strong Communist attacks.

With clearing weather, however, the Doughboys had help from air force and marine fighter pilots, plus artillery fire that is more accurate when directed from spotter planes.

The "battle of the hills" flared from northwest of Yanggu almost to the Sea of Japan, west of Kansong.

Action Is Savage

The Allies were fighting for a series of east-west positions that, if taken, would bring them close to more open country.

Once there, the U. N. army would be in the best position yet to launch a wheeling movement to the northwest. That could gradually swing the front from an east-west line to one running northeast-southwest.

Ground action in that area was savage.

North Korean troops stormed ahead in the rain to recapture three peaks. They forced back the Allies at several other points. On three peaks the Allies stood fast.

Tokyo, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Communist high command reversed itself today and suggested that Korean cease-fire talks be resumed immediately in Kaesong.

The Reds broke off the talks 28 days ago. They charged then that an Allied plane bombed and strafed the neutral Kaesong area August 22 in an attempt to murder Communist truce delegates. The Allied command called the charge fraudulent and faked.

Heretofore the Reds have demanded that the Allies admit responsibility for a string of alleged neutral zone violations before the truce talks could be resumed.

Ridgway Is Silent

They proposed today only that a "suitable organization" be set up to guarantee the neutrality of Kaesong, Korea.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway made no immediate comment.

But a release from the supreme headquarters said, "There is reason for hope that the latest Communist reversal in policy and agreement to renew the peace talks may bring some sort of a cease-fire in Korea."

It cautioned, however, that "it is a hope that must be tempered by the realization that a renewal of the talks does not mean necessarily that previous difficulties will suddenly iron themselves out."

Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-huai and North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung proposed:

Guarantee Neutrality

1—That liaison officers of both sides meet to fix the time for reopening the meetings.

2—That at the first session after the conferences resume, delegates discuss a plan "to establish a suitable organization" for guaranteeing the neutrality of Kaesong and settling differences over previously charged violations.

The United Nations command has admitted the validity of only two alleged violations.

Ridgway's headquarters said an Allied plane strafed Kaesong by mistake September 10 and four unarmed South Korean soldiers mistakenly approached the neutral zone Tuesday afternoon.

The Red leaders said they were willing to consider reopening the talks because of the "responsible attitude" the Allies have taken regarding the admitted violations.

Reds Favor Kaesong

They added: "In order not to let the previously mentioned unsettled incidents continue to obstruct the progress of the negotiations of both sides, we therefore propose that the delegates of both sides should immediately resume the armistice negotiations at Kaesong without any need for further discussion on the conditions for the resumption of armistice negotiations."

EX-MANAGER OF EGG CO-OP LOSES TWO PACKARDS

Two Packards owned by Albert Eberight, ex-manager of the Adams County Egg Cooperative will be sold at sheriff's sale Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the Gettysburg National garage.

Sheriff Dorsey J. Schultz has impounded a convertible owned by Eberight on a writ of fieri facias issued by the Arendtsville National bank in connection with an overdue note of Eberight's for $4,680.

Later the sheriff was able to recover a two-door sedan of Eberight's which has also been placed at the National garage to await the sheriff's sale Friday afternoon

At 2 o'clock Friday afternoon the sheriff is scheduled to sell a GMC truck and a number of other articles, including truck tires, scales, egg crates, etc., at the Adams County Egg Cooperative, Gettysburg R 4. The articles are being sold in connection with an overdue note for $2,320 of Eberight and the egg cooperative.

"Too Optimistic"

Eberight has been discharged as manager of the cooperative, officials of the cooperative said today.

Isadore Feldman, auditor for the cooperative told the Gettysburg Times last Friday that arangements had been made to release the truck and the cooperative from the sheriff's sale. However, that did not develop and Richard Musselman, president of the cooperative said today that Feldman "had been too optimistic" when he gave the story.

The Gettysburg Building Supply today filed a mechanics lein with the prothonotary against Eberight for $1,050.73 for construction work at Eberight's home along the Fairfield road.

Rites Saturday For Miss Dillman

Funeral services for Miss Mary Elizabeth Dillman, 83, Cumberland township, who died Wednesday morning, will be held Saturday morning, meeting at the Bender funeral home at 8:30 o'clock followed by a requiem mass at 9 o'clock at St. Francis Xavier Catholic church conducted by the Rev. Fr. Anthony F. Kane. Interment in the church cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday evening after 7 o'clock. The Rosary will be recited at 8 o'clock.

Just received boys' 8-oz. Sanforized dungarees, sizes 6 to 16; also Huskeys. Benn's Store, on the Square.

OPEN CRIMINAL JUSTICE COURSE HERE NEXT WEEK

A training program for those whose work is connected with criminal justice will open next Wednesday evening at the court house.

The 24-week long course will attract justices of the peace, policemen, representatives of various public agencies which deal with varying aspects of the criminal justice program and those engaged in probation and parole work. The Public Service Institute of the state Department of Public Instruction, which is sponsoring the course, hopes that at least 15 will sign for the course.

The course will be offered without any tuition charge and a certificate of attainment will be awarded to those who successfully complete the 24 sessions of the class, which will meet weekly.

To Have Guest Speakers

Elton Smith, assistant superintendent of parole supervision, Harrisburg, will be the instructor for the course, while guest speakers will deliver talks on various phases of criminal justice work during the course.

Subject matter will be divided into two fields—"The Criminal Justice Program" and "The Behavior and Treatment of the Delinquent." Topics to be covered include development and function of the police, arrest and apprehension, crime prevention and individual case studies, correctional institutions, allied agencies and resources, the state correctional program, normal behavior of the delinquent, maladjustment, physical and mental defects, institutional behavior, modifying behavior through treatment, institutional diagnosis and classification, treatment of individual cases and crime prevention.

Textbooks for the course will be "Principles and Methods in Dealing With Offenders."

NEW OXFORD'S SEWER SYSTEM IS CRITICIZED

New Oxford's board of health has joined the chorus urging the New Oxford council to do something about the sewer system within the borough.

The sewer system in the lower county town has been a problem for some months, with the council seeking to find some way to carry the financial obligation of construction of a new sewer system.

At its meeting this week the board of health discussed the unsatisfactory sanitary conditions in the borough. R. E. Crouse, secretary of the board, noted: "Each complaint has been investigated and the chief source of offense has been found to be open drainage from septic tanks, which in a great many cases are running over and in need of cleaning. However, the board found it impossible to take any definite action due to the fact that there is no adequate means of sewage disposal available to the residents of the borough. In view of the existing condition the board presented the following resolution to the borough council:

"Be it resolved that sanitation is a way of life. It is the quality of living that is expressed in the clean home, the clean business, and the clean community. Being a way of life, it must come from within the people, it is nourished by knowledge and goes as an obligation and an ideal in human relations.

System Privately Owned

"We, the Board of Health of this community, after careful investigation, have found that the sanitary conditions within the borough are, to say the least, unsatisfactory. It is common knowledge that in a great many cases cesspools are allowed to drain into ditches and gutters, creating unsanitary and disagreeable conditions.

"We therefore urge that the council take notice of these conditions and prepare to take steps toward providing an adequate sewage disposal system. It is the earnest hope of the Board of Health that the council will not see fit to table this resolution and thereby pass over what is becoming one of the most unhealthy conditions which this community has faced."

The borough was ordered some time ago by the state to provide better sewage system within the community. The problem, however, has been complicated by the fact that the sewer system, which serves a portion of the borough, is owned privately. The private concern owning the sewer has said that it is financially unable to improve its facilities. Negotiations have been underway for some time towards borough purchase of the privately-owned system and expansion of that system.

APPLE SHOW AT BANK PLANNED

The Gettysburg National bank will hold its 20th annual Apple show, October 25, 26 and 27 as its participation in the Pennsylvania Week celebration.

Prizes of $5, $3, $2 and $1 will be offered for the finest plate of five apples in the following classes: Jonathan, Grimes Golden, Golden Delicious, Red Delicious, Cortland, Double Red Delicious, Rome Beauty, Red Rome Beauty, Stayman, Red Stayman, York Imperial, and Red York Imperial. A $2 prize will be given for largest sound apple, any variety. A special prize of $10, first, and $5, second, will be offered for the best exhibit of diamond display of 16 apples, any variety.

George T. Raffensperger, trust officer, who is in charge of the show has asked all fruit growers and farmers to save their Jonathan and Grimes Golden varieties which are now being picked.

The Arendtsville 4-H club will have a special display on the mezzanine floor during the show. Several commercial exhibits will be announced later.

Seminary Trustee's Widow Dies In York

Mrs. Sarah A. Hoober, 79, widow of Attorney John A. Hoober, died at 9:40 a.m. Wednesday at her residence, 434 West Market street, York, after an illness of two months.

The daughter of Charles and Arabella Klinefelter, of York, Mrs. Hoober was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Hope Bible class, and the Woman's league of the church. She was on the board of directors of the Children's home and an honorary president of the Needle-Work Guild of America.

Her husband, a prominent York attorney, who died October 4, 1950, gave sums totaling $1,500,000 to Yale university and donated $500,000 to the Mission Board of the Lutheran church. He was a trustee of Gettysburg Lutheran seminary.

Funeral services Saturday at 2 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran church, York, with Rev. Dr. C. S. Simonton, pastor, officiating. Interment in Prospect Hill cemetery.

None Injured When Three Cars Collide

Damage, which state police of the Gettysburg substation said totaled $385, resulted from a three-car crash in Wenksville at 6:40 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Police listed the drivers of the three cars as Wilbert H. Beamer, 49, Biglerville, R. 1; J. Edgar Warren, 43, Biglerville, R. 2, and Lynn E. McKinney, 27, of Gardners, R. 2.

Warren had backed out of his driveway, according to police, and was starting east on the highway, when Beamer's car approached behind him. Beamer, according to police, attempted to pass Warren on the latter's left. The McKinney car was coming up a grade from the opposite direction. The three cars collided. Damage to McKinney's car was estimated at $200; to Warren's at $150, and to the Beamer car at $35. No one was injured.

the possible widely varied causes of each, and said each required a different treatment. The judge said he believed all children are basically good, and that the job of adults is to assist them in overcoming difficulties. "Most children want help with their problems, and welcome assistance," he said.

The juvenile court, he said, is one of the most important institutions in the county, but its work is little known, because records are secret and hearings private. Newspapers cooperate, he added, by not publishing names. The county handles about 150 children each year in its juvenile court, and of that number, about 75 percent are traffic violators.

Judge Sheely thanked the Woman's club for funds made available for use of the court. "The work of the juvenile court is of the most challenging nature. Officials seldom find out the degree of success of their work and one thing is certain, we can't perform miracles."

Mrs. Crosby had as her subject "Life in Post-war Japan." She described the customs of the Japanese, and said that older residents of this country are frightened by the younger generation, many of whom seem to favor the communistic attitude on life. She displayed a number of gowns worn by Japanese women and native dolls and china.

The musical portion of the program was in charge of Mrs. Jacob W. Heikinnen, chairman of the music department of the club. She introduced Rev. and Mrs. Ross W. Forcey, Wheaton, Md., and Mrs. Robert Derck, a member of the club. Mrs. Forcey, the former Miss Lena Hartzell, Gettysburg, presented flute solos entitled "Fantasie," by Faure, and "A Tone Picture," from the opera "Rip Van Winkle," by Williams. Rev. Forcey was the piano accompanist for his wife. Mrs. Forcey also played the flute obligato for the vocal selection "Lo, Hear the Gentle Lark," by Mrs. Derck. The piano accompanist was Mrs. Heikkinen. Mrs. Derck presented several other selections.

Mrs. Griest conducted a brief business session during which three new members were introduced, Mrs. W. R. Sammel and Mrs. Fred H. Attinger, both of Gettysburg, and Mrs. Florice Orem, New Oxford, who transferred her membership from the Woman's Club of Baltimore. Several guests of members were introduced including Mrs. Sheely.

Sixty-seven persons attended the luncheon. Tables were decorated with fall flowers. The yearly programs were distributed to club members with the announcement that programs would be mailed to those not present at the luncheon. An announcement was made of the South Central district meeting in Huntingdon September 26.

The meeting for October was announced as a Pennsylvania Week meeting and will be held on Wednesday evening, October 10, at 8 o'clock at the YWCA. Mrs. R. S. Saby is program chairman. Speaker for the evening will be Mrs. Russell Clement, an official of the state Federation of Women's clubs. Members of the Woman's Community club of Littlestown will be guests of the Gettysburg club.

Mrs. Howard Hartzell, Lincolnway east, chairman of the hostess and hospitality committee, was in charge of the hostesses which included members of her committee, Mrs. Milton R. Tipton, Mrs. Ribert E. Tipton, Mrs. Carl E. Oyler, Mrs. Stanley W. Hull, Mrs. Edmund W. Thomas, Jr., Mrs. George A. Albee, Mrs. Henry M. Scharf and Mrs. John Drew.

Knouse Foods Plans More Advertising

Knouse Foods announced today plans to hold its second annual "Apple Harvest Festival" promotion this fall with advertisements featuring all of the apple products of the Peach Glen concern in national magazine advertisements.

The campaign will open with a four color, full page advertisement in "Life" magazine October 29, and full page advertisements announcing the Apple Harvest festival to the trade have been taken in "Progessive Grocer," "Chain Store Age," and "Super Market Merchandising" magazines.

Free display material is being made available to the grocers participating in the festival including posters and banners in autumn colors as well as price cards for individual products and combinations such as apples and pie crust mix. Reprints of the "Life" advertising are being distributed to the grocers as well as shelf edging featuring the "Good Housekeeping seal of approval" and "as advertised in Life" slogan.

M. E. Knouse, president of the company, noted that the sales festival tied in with the national advertising proved last year that it "boosts volume and sales in a big way." The idea of promoting apple products as a complete line was originated by Knouse foods last year."

only of our college, but of the whole world.

"We live in a period of tensions — so did our fathers. We are living in a time of change, but so did many generations. Perhaps we shall one day thank God for having given us the privilege of living in a time of change.

Has Faith in Youth

"I have great faith in the youth of today. Beneath all the play are high ideals and great dreams. The whole world 25 years from now must depend on what happens in the 1800 institutions of higher learning where today are being trained the leaders of the world of tomorrow.

"All of the facilities of the college are designed to help you on that greatest of voyages, the discovery of yourself. I am profoundly convinced that everyone born in the world is born with a talent, an ability to do some one thing well. Our job is to help you find yourselves.

"The most important thing in life is to teach you to be careful of what you want — for you might get it.

Classes Begin Friday

"The don'ts of life are the secret of safe navigation. They are the kindness of one age to the next, marking the danger spots on which men have lost their lives. Take heed to the Ten Commandments, for they are guides to guard you, buoys to save you from the shoals of unhappiness.

"Guard against laziness — for it is the greatest enemy of mankind. And keep strong your faith in God. For if you omit God, you omit the greatest source of power in the world."

The program opened with an academic procession of faculty and students. It included the college hymn, a scripture lesson, and the Alma Mater.

Classes begin Friday.

Telephone Mrs. Walton, Biglerville No. 8

The Ever Ready class of Zion Reformed church school, Arendtsville, met Monday evening in the social rooms of the church. The theme for the program was "School Days" and the same idea was carried out by the hostess committee in decorating and with the refreshments. Mrs. Charles Starner, Mrs. Fred Starner, Mrs. Roland Graham and Mrs. Ivan Gulden served on the program committee and the hostess committee included Mrs. Glenn Hoke, Mrs. Paul Beamer, Mrs. Raymond Mayer and Miss Gretna Black.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Nary and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Carey, of Biglerville, attended the Harrisburg Flower show Wednesday evening.

The September meeting of the Trilogy club was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John A. Hauser in Biglerville. Mrs. S. Gray Bigham, who was in charge of the program, talked on "Things I Remember About the Trilogy Club."

During the business session the committee on the County Home project, Mrs. William C. Tyson, Mrs. Elliott Taylor and Mrs. John L. Boyer, reported that $25 had been turned into the auxiliary of the County Home as a result of the sale of tickets for the one-act plays presented some time ago by the Adams County Little Theatre group. Mrs. E. B. Romig and Mrs. John A. Hauser were appointed new members to serve on the committee for three months.

Mrs. Richard C. Walton will be hostess to the members of the club at its October meeting.

The Arendtsville Brownie Scout Troop No. 2, under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Schiebel and Mrs. Charles Bushey, will resume its meetings Monday afternoon, September 24, at 3:45 o'clock in the social room of the Arendtsville National bank. Meetings will be held regularly Monday afternoons at the bank. Girls between the ages of 7 to 10 years are eligible to join.

Mrs. William M. Lott, Gardners R. D., has returned home after undergoing a major operation at Union Memorial hospital, Baltimore.

Mrs. Grace Funt, Mrs. Sadie Osborn and Miss Mildred Osborn, Biglerville, recently attended the dedication of "Homewood," a new Evangelical and Reformed church home for the aged at Hagerstown, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Noah, Oklahoma City, Okla., visited Mrs. James White and family, Biglerville R. 2, Sunday evening.

Re-organize Cub Pack At Biglerville

announced that four special fellowship meetings will be held during the year, the first of which will be October 5 at the summer home of Mrs. Philip Jones at Caledonia.

Admit New Members

The group decided to sponsor a foreign movie, to be shown in the SCA building, for the benefit of the Fellowship fund.

Mrs. John S. Rice reported on the program for the neighborhood conference on Saturday at Lewistown and revealed four local members will speak on various panels.

The blood donor committee composed of Mrs. Kenneth Smoke, Mrs. Harold Dunkelberger and Mrs. Saby, said that of the members contacted for the project, 17 have volunteered.

It was reported that the AAUW will present a number of programs throughout the year over WGET in charge of Mrs. Harbaugh, assisted by Miss Maurine Nelson.

Miss Ramer was appointed as the AAUW representative on the Women's Civic Council. Mrs. L. Musselman Arnold, Miss Jean Bream and Miss Nelson were admitted as new members. Yearbooks, edited by Mrs. Kenneth Rinehart, Jr., were distributed.

Ask PUC Okay On Bus Route Plans

The Reading Transportation company and Paul W. Snyder, Carlisle bus operator, will petition the Public Utility commission in Harrisburg on October 4 for approval of a plan to operate through service for its buses between Harrisburg, Mt. Holly Springs and Gettysburg.

Exceptions are made, however, that no local passengers be carried between Harrisburg and Shepherdstown on route 15; between points in the borough of Gettysburg, and between Gettysburg and points on Legislative route 21027 within a half mile of its intersection with route 15.

This is in lieu of similar rights granted previously to the Reading Transportation company and Cleason H. Cromer. The application will be submitted to the PUC without a hearing if no protests are filed prior to October 4.

Saint Joseph Music Department Expanded

The music program at Saint Joseph college, Emmitsburg, has been expanded with the inauguration of the fall semester. The department is under the direction of Sister Jane Marie who has recently completed graduate work in music at the Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C.

In addition to the work formerly done in Liturgical Chant and the Glee club, the department is sponsoring instrumental ensembles and other choral groups. Private lessons in voice, piano and orchestral instruments are being offered interested students. A course in music appreciation has been added to the college curriculum.

Student recitals and concerts are planned for the coming year as well as productions in collaboration with the college radio and dramatic clubs.

Pays Traffic Fine After Auto Crash

A New York city motorist charged with failing to stop for a red traffic signal at West Middle and South Washington streets at 3:45 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, paid a fine of $5 and costs later to Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore.

Leo Myer, the New York man, was driving east on West Middle street, borough police, who made the arrest, said. He went through the red light, and struck the automobile of Bessie Ring Duffy, Ridgewood, N. J., causing $150 damage to the Duffy car and $75 to his own automobile. No one was injured. The Duffy car was proceeding south on South Washington street.

Jail Aspers Man In Hit-Run Accident

John W. Denisar, Aspers R. 1, was committed to jail Wednesday night by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder in default of $500 bail after he had entered a guilty plea to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident without revealing his identity.

He paid a fine of $10 and costs on a charge of driving too fast for conditions, after being held for court on the other charge. State police made the arrest following their investigation of an accident on the Biglerville road on September 14.

Warriors Tangle With Delone At McSherrystown; Scotland At Littlestown; BHS, YHS Away

One of the prime problems confronting Coaches Howard Shoemaker and Ross Sachs with their Gettysburg high football team in preparation for their game with Delone Catholic at McSherrystown Friday night at 8 o'clock is the possibility of a let-down.

The Warriors were keyed to a high pitch for the contest with Hagerstown and eked through to a 6-0 win. They can ill afford to let down against the Squires, always a tough foe for Gettysburg teams. In fact, Delone has lost but two games in 10 with local aggregations since the inception of the series.

Physically, the Warriors are in good condition for Friday night. The minor bruises and injuries received last Saturday night have all healed and the same lineup that opposed Hagerstown will take the field against the Squires.

Phil Yanoschik's aggregation will be hungry for victory Friday night following a 13-0 jolt at the hands of Hanover last week.

Loaded With Vets

There is little doubt that Delone will be geared to high pitch for the invading Warriors, and, with 11 lettermen on the squad from last season, will doubtless be a very rugged foe. Delone outplayed Hanover last week throughout the first half and gave up touchdowns in the final periods only after a bitter argument.

A large delegation of local fans will accompany the Gettysburg outfit to McSherrystown, headed by the high school band.

Two other Adams county schools are scheduled for contests Friday night.

Biglerville journeys to Quarryville, Lancaster county, for a Conference of the Roses game with Solanco. The Canners have dropped two previous games while Solanco lost its only contest.

Thunderbolts At Home

Coach Clay Evans' Littlestown high outfit takes on a rugged assignment in meeting Scotland on the Thunderbolts' field.

Last Saturday Scotland turned in an impressive 31-6 victory over New Freedom. Sparkplug of the Soldiers again this season is Jim Gilliland, leading scholastic scorer in District 3 last year. He tallied three touchdowns against New Freedom.

Littlestown, after upsetting Biglerville 12-8, dropped a 22-6 decision to the strong Frederick team a week ago.

At half time the Littlestown VFW drum and bugle crops will drill.

On Saturday the York Springs gridders invade Stewartstown for a Laurel conference game with the Kennard-Dale joint high team.

Despite having a light and inexperienced squad, York Springs is hopeful of capturing its initial victory. Last week Coach Mentzer's clan lost to Duncannon 39-0.

League Opener

Friday night also marks the opening of the South Penn football conference. However, only one game will be played, Shippensburg journeying to Hershey. Two league games will be played on September 28, Gettysburg at Carlisle, and Hanover at Shippensburg, and then all teams will be in league action on October 5.

Another game of local interest is scheduled tonight at Boiling Springs where Bud Ecker's Bubbliers clash with Hummelstown. The Bubblers polished off Susquehanna Township and Camp Hill in their first two outings.

Other Games

There will be a number of games nearby Friday night that will be watched with considerable interest by local fans. Hagerstown, beaten by Gettysburg last week, plays at Chambersburg, perennially a contender for South Penn honors. Carlisle, defending South Penn titlists, plays at Lancaster Catholic. Mechanicsburg, winner over Swatara Township 18-0 last week, is host to Western high of Washington, D. C., and Hanover's Nighthawks will meet York on the latter's field. Waynesboro does not open its season until September 28 when Martinsburg, W. Va., invades the Tornado gridiron.

BISONS, MULES, LEHIGH PICKED TO WIN OPENERS

By HERB ALTSCHULL

Philadelphia, Sept. 20 (AP) — About this time every year we awaken with a start to the sudden realization that autumn has arrived. Someone dusts off the football schedules and says, scornfully: "Go ahead. Pick 'em."

Which is all by way of prologue to another season of pigskin pickins in which we hope at last to get over that .800 mark. Here goes.

Friday

Temple at Syracuse: Some say the Owls are a sleeper in the east; others that they've weaker than last year. Syracus is a solid choice to rank with the best in the east. It takes little courage to go along with Syracuse.

P.M.C. at West Chester: Glenn Killinger's Rams are among the best small college teams in the east every season. There's no reason to expect there'll be less games won in '51. West Chester.

Saturday

Lehigh at Delaware: Lehigh was unbeaten last season, but they've lost a lot of offensive punch. We believe the Engineers have enough power left to take Delaware. Lehigh.

Lebanon Valley at Franklin and Marshall: Another unbeaten club the Diplomats of F. & M. risk all with little to gain. It should be a good risk. F. & M.

Kings at Scranton: Up Scranton way the loyal followers are expecting great things of the Royals. So be it. Scranton.

Upsala at Muhlenberg: This should be the tipoff on just how much kick the once-frisky Mule can muster for '51. One faint vote for Muhlenberg.

Albright at Lafayette: If past seasons are any judge, we'll miss every game Lafayette plays. But this is another year. A fortnight ballot for Lafayette.

Dean The Reason

Bucknell vs. Gettysburg at Hershey: Tommy Dean, the Bisons quarterback, is being boosted as one of the best ball handlers in the east. We assume that the booster club knows whereof it boosts. Bucknell.

Waynesburg at West Virginia: When Waynesburg is a-comin' down the mountain, she won't be riding six white horses. West Virginia.

In other games the guess is Lincoln over Moravian, Slippery Rock over Westminster, California over Edinboro, West Liberty over Lock Haven, Indiana over Kutztown, Shippensburg over Cheyney, and on Sunday, St. Francis over John Carroll.

SCHOOL TEAMS TO INAUGURATE LEAGUE ACTION

Harrisburg, Sept. 20 (AP)—Pennsylvania's schoolboy football powers plunge into conference warfare this week-end after tuning up with two weeks of non-league exhibitions.

Several excellent matches are scheduled that may go a long way toward determining champion next November.

Important action is on tap for the WPIAL, Western, Eastern, Central Penn, South Penn, Central counties, the Section Two, Wyoming Valley, Philadelphia Suburban and a host of other leagues.

The Western conference offers a dandy tomorrow night between defending champion Bellwood-Antis and Huntingdon, rated as the chief contender at this point. Both teams have run through their first two victories with little difficuly. Bellwood lost quite a bit of material in graduation while Huntingdon is on the upgrade. So Huntingdon is the choice in a nip and tuck affair.

The huge Eastern conference also presents a battle between two unbeaten contenders for Coal Township's title when Berwick travels to Sunbury tomorrow night. Berwick has shown power in gaining easy wins over Hazle Township (52-0) and Dunmore (32-13) but Sunbury has knocked off Williamsport's Millionaires, 1950 co-champions of the Central Penn conference, and nearby Northumberland. Berwick's power is expected to be the deciding factor.

Other Top Games

Meanwhile, the Coal Township Purple Demons are heavy favorites over a light band from Harrisburg Catholic in a non-league game. Swoyersville, runner-up to Coal Township last season, should be able to rack up its second win when the Sailors are host to Newport Township.

The fast eight-team Central Penn loop starts rolling with two good games carded. John Harris of Harrisburg travels to Lebanon tomorrow night while Reading plays host to Steelton Saturday. Lebanon, touted as the class of the league, holds a 21-6 victory over Chambersburg while Harris just squeaked by Hershey Industrial by one point. The choice is Lebanon's Cedars.

Reading, which whipped Norristown's fine club, 19-13, last week, is expected to be too strong for a light and untested Steelton steamroller.

WPIAL Class AA top attractions find Aliquippa favored in a home game with McKeesport tomorrow night and Johnstown rated over New Kensington by a shade Saturday at Johnstown.

The Central counties has DuBois getting the nod over Clearfield in an even match tomorrow night. The South Penn opens with Hershey favored over Shippensburg. The northwest's Section Two loop looks like Meadville over Franklin and Warren over Titusville in a close one.

TRIBE SWEEPS BOSTON SERIES TO STAY IN RACE

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Cleveland's sweep of the Boston series leaves the league-leading New York Yankees gasping for breath in the American league.

Still out front by three percentage points after yesterday's 5-3 victory over Chicago, the Yanks face rough going ahead. While they play nine of 10 with first division clubs, the Tribe plays only six—five with the bottom half of the league.

Chances are the Yanks and Red Sox will knock off one another in their eight meetings while Cleveland picks up enough ground to get home free. Then they can start worrying about Brooklyn, which opened up a 3½ game lead on idle New York in the National last night by blanking St. Louis 3-0.

Chisox Dangerous

Chicago, in a vengeful mood since that disputed rainy night game at the stadium in July, can knock the Yanks out of first place today while Cleveland rides a train to Detroit.

Saul Rogovin (12-7), a three-time winner against New York, was to meet Johnny Sain (2-1), the National league refugee, in the big game of the day.

Cleveland showed its old booming drive yesterday in walloping Boston, 15-2, a blow that practically doused the last Red Sox hopes. Trailing by 3½ games with 11 to play, Boston's main job now seems to be making or breaking the Yanks in the series opening at Fenway tomorrow.

20th For Wynn

Early Wynn became the Tribe's third 20-game winner with a seven-hit job on Boston. While he coasted the Indians took full advantage of 11 hits and 13 bases on balls by Maury McDermott and five successors. Ray Boone, Luke Easter and Bobby Avila hit home runs.

With Wynn (20-12), Mike Garcia (20-12) and Bobby Feller (22-8) in the select circle, Cleveland is in an enviable position. No big league team has had three 20-game winners since the Athletics of 1931. They won the pennant.

The oddity of the Cleveland situation is that Bob Lemon, regarded a sure fire bet to cop 20 any year, isn't going to make it. He has only 17 and can't take more than two more turns.

Preacher Roe took charge of pulling Brooklyn out of its tailspin by shutting out the St. Louis Cardinals with five hits. The crafty lefty's record now is a phenomenal 21-2 for the season including seven wins over St. Louis.

Bubba Church whipped Chicago for the sixth time, 5-1, as the Phillies took advantage of four Cub errors. It was his 15th win, making his lifetime record against Chicago, 10-1.

Murry Dickson's 19th win let Pittsburgh out of last place, 7-3, at the expense of Boston's young Chet Nichols. Dick Cole and Gus Bell homered for the Pirates. Earl Torgeson for the Braves.

The hustling Philadelphia A's, struggling to catch fifth-place Detroit, knocked off the Tigers, 8-1, on a seven-run spurt in the fourth inning. Little Bobby Shantz pitched a four-hitter for his 17th win, five over Detroit.

Cass Michaels singled with the bases loaded in the eighth to score two runs for Washington's 4-3 edge over St. Louis, breaking the Senators' four-game losing streak. Bob Porterfield won his seventh since he was acquired from the Yanks.

Rocky Graziano Is Winner By TKO

Detroit, Sept. 20 (AP)—Rocky Graziano, whose blasting comeback in the last 20 seconds stunned Tony Janiro last night and gained Rocky a technical knockout, wants to get into the next business—a middleweight title fight with Champion Sugar Ray Robinson. This may be early next year.

Meanwhile the "we wuz robbed" cry came from Janiro and Frankie Jacobs, his manager.

Until Rocky's crashing lefts and rights suddenly sprawled Tony on the canvas with the fight nearly over, Janiro appeared a sure winner in a wide-open contest. Referee Lou Handler halted the 10-round, televised fight just as Janiro hit the floor.

Janiro hopped right to his feet and joined Manager Frankie Jacobs in protesting Handler's decision. Many in the crowd of 5,086 booed. Despite the knockdown Janiro—who had a 5-3, 6-3 and 5-2 edge by rounds on the official scorecards—evidently would have won by decision if the fight had gone 14 seconds to the conclusion. "Handler should at least have let Tony take a nine count," said Jacobs.

So Huntingdon is the choice in a nip and tuck affair.

The huge Eastern conference also presents a battle between two unbeaten contenders for Coal Township's title when Berwick travels to Sunbury tomorrow night. Berwick has shown power in gaining easy wins over Hazle Township (52-0) and Dunmore (32-13) but Sunbury has knocked off Williamsport's Millionaires, 1950 co-champions of the Central Penn conference, and nearby Northumberland. Berwick's power is expected to be the deciding factor.

Other Top Games

Meanwhile, the Coal Township Purple Demons are heavy favorites over a light band from Harrisburg Catholic in a non-league game. Swoyersville, runner-up to Coal Township last season, should be able to rack up its second win when the Sailors are host to Newport Township.

The fast eight-team Central Penn loop starts rolling with two good games carded. John Harris of Harrisburg travels to Lebanon tomorrow night while Reading plays host to Steelton Saturday. Lebanon, touted as the class of the league, holds a 31-6 victory over Chambersburg while Harris just squeaked by Hershey Industrial by one point. The choice is Lebanon's Cedars.

Reading, which whipped Norristown's fine club, 19-13, last week, is expected to be too strong for a light and untested Steelton steamroller.

WPIAL Class AA top attractions find Aliquippa favored in a home game with McKeesport tomorrow night and Johnstown rated over New Kensington by a shade Saturday at Johnstown.

The Central counties has DuBois rating the nod over Clearfield in an even match tomorrow night. The South Penn opens with Hershey favored over Shippensburg. The northwest's Section Two loop looks like Meadville over Franklin and Warren over Titusville in a close one.

TRIBE SWEEPS BOSTON SERIES TO STAY IN RACE

By JACK HAND

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Cleveland's sweep of the Boston series leaves the league-leading New York Yankees gasping for breath in the American league.

Still out front by three percentage points after yesterday's 5-3 victory over Chicago, the Yanks face rough going ahead. While they play nine of 10 with first division clubs, the Tribe plays only six—five with the bottom half of the league.

Chances are the Yanks and Red Sox will knock off one another in their eight meetings while Cleveland picks up enough ground to get home free. Then they can start worrying about Brooklyn, which opened up a 3½ game lead on idle New York in the National last night by blanking St. Louis 3-0.

Chisox Dangerous

Chicago, in a vengeful mood since that disputed rainy night game at the stadium in July, can knock the Yanks out of first place today while Cleveland rides a train to Detroit.

Saul Rogovin (12-7), a three-time winner against New York, was to meet Johnny Sain (2-1), the National league refugee, in the big game of the day.

Cleveland showed its old booming drive yesterday in walloping Boston, 15-2, a blow that practically doused the last Red Sox hopes. Trailing by 3½ games with 11 to play, Boston's main job now seems to be making or breaking the Yanks in the series opening at Fenway tomorrow.

20th For Wynn

Early Wynn became the Tribe's third 20-game winner with a seven-hit job on Boston. While he coasted the Indians took full advantage of 11 hits and 13 bases on balls by Maury McDermott and five successors. Ray Boone, Luke Easter and Bobby Avila hit home runs.

With Wynn (20-12), Mike Garcia (20-12) and Bobby Feller (22-8) in the select circle, Cleveland is in an enviable position. No big league team has had three 20-game winners since the Athletics of 1931. They won the pennant.

The oddity of the Cleveland situation is that Bob Lemon, regarded a sure fire bet to cop 20 any year, isn't going to make it. He has only 17 and can't take more than two more turns.

Preacher Roe took charge of pulling Brooklyn out of its tailspin by shutting out the St. Louis Cardinals with five hits. The crafty lefty's record now is a phenomenal 21-2 for the season including seven wins over St. Louis.

Bubba Church whipped Chicago for the sixth time, 5-1, as the Phillies took advantage of four Cub errors. It was his 15th win, making his lifetime record against Chicago, 10-1.

Murry Dickson's 19th win let Pittsburgh out of last place, 7-3, at the expense of Boston's young Chet Nichols. Dick Cole and Gus Bell homered for the Pirates, Earl Torgeson for the Braves.

The hustling Philadelphia A's, struggling to catch fifth-place Detroit, knocked off the Tigers, 8-1, on a seven-run spurt in the fourth inning. Little Bobby Shantz pitched a four-hitter for his 17th win, five over Detroit.

Cass Michaels singled with the bases loaded in the eighth to score two runs for Washington's 4-3 edge over St. Louis, breaking the Senators' four-game losing streak. Bob Porterfield won his seventh since he was acquired from the Yanks.

Rocky Graziano Is Winner By TKO

Detroit, Sept. 20 (AP)—Rocky Graziano, whose blasting comeback in the last 20 seconds stunned Tony Janiro last night and gained Rocky a technical knockout, wants to get into the next business—a middleweight title fight with Champion Sugar Ray Robinson. This may be early next year.

Meanwhile the "we wuz robbed" cry came from Janiro and Frankie Jacobs, his manager.

Until Rocky's crashing lefts and rights suddenly sprawled Tony on the canvass with the fight nearly over, Janiro appeared a sure winner in a wide-open slugfest. Referee Lou Handler halted the 10-round, televised fight just as Janiro hit the floor.

Janiro hopped right to his feet and joined Manager Frankie Jacobs in protesting Handler's decision. Many in the crowd of 8,086 booed. Despite the knockdown Janiro—who had a 5-3, 6-3, and 5-2 edge by rounds on the official scorecards—evidently would have won by decision if the fight had gone 14 seconds to the conclusion. "Handler should at least have let Tony take a nine count," said Jacobs.

LEGAL NOTICES

Notice is hereby given that the Board of School Directors of the School District of Menallen Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania, on September 12, 1951, duly adopted a Resolution entitled:

A RESOLUTION SIGNIFYING THE DESIRE OF THE BOARD OF SCHOOL DIRECTORS OF THE SCHOOL DISTRICT OF MENALLEN TOWNSHIP, ADAMS COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA, TO SUBMIT TO THE ELECTORS OF MENALLEN TOWNSHIP, ADAMS COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA, THE RATIFICATION, VALIDATION AND CONFIRMATION OF THE UNFUNDED DEBT OF THE SAID SCHOOL DISTRICT AND CALLING AN ELECTION FOR THE PURPOSE OF OBTAINING SAID RATIFICATION, VALIDATION AND CONFIRMATION OF SUCH UNFUNDED DEBT.

The preamble recited that the total unfunded debt of the School District is $42,641.67, such sum being in excess of two per centum, but less than seven per centum of the assessed valuation of taxable property in said district.

Section I provided for an election to be held November 6, 1951, for the purpose of having the electors ratify, validate and confirm such unfunded debt. Section II authorized the giving of the required notice of such election. Section III set forth the form of question to be voted upon by the electors. Section IV directed the Secretary of the Board of School Directors to transmit to the County Board of Elections of Adams County, a certified copy of the desired Resolution and a form of question to be submitted to the electors.

NEW OXFORD'S SEWER SYSTEM IS CRITICIZED

New Oxford's board of health has joined the chorus urging the New Oxford council to do something about the sewer system within the borough

The sewer system in the lower county town has been a problem for some months, with the council seeking to find some way to carry the financial obligation of construction of a new sewer system

At its meeting this week the board of health discussed the unsatisfactory sanitary conditions in the borough R E Crouse secretary of the board, noted "Each complaint has been investigated and the chief source of offense has been found to be open drainage from septic tanks, which in a great many cases are running over and in need of cleaning However, the board found it impossible to take any definite action due to the fact that there is no adequate means of sewage disposal available to the residents of the borough. In view of the existing condition the board presented the following resolution to the borough council

Be it resolved that sanitation is a way of life It is the quality of living that is expressed in the clean home the clean business, and the clean community Being a way of life it must come from within the people it is nourished by knowledge and goes as an obligation and an ideal in human relations

We, the Board of Health of this community, after careful investigation, have found that the sanitary conditions within the borough are, to say the least, unsatisfactory It is common knowledge that in a great many cases cesspools are allowed to drain into ditches and gutters creating unsanitary and disagreeable conditions

We therefore urge that the council take notice of these conditions and prepare to take steps toward providing an adequate sewage disposal system. It is the earnest hope of the Board of Health that the council will not see fit to table this resolution and thereby pass over what is becoming one of the most unhealthy conditions which this community has faced"

The borough was ordered some time ago by the state to provide better sewage system within the community The problem, however has been complicated by the fact that the sewer system, which serves a portion of the borough, is owned privately. The private concern owning the sewer has said that it is financially unable to improve its facilities Negotiations have been underway for some time towards borough purchase of the privately-owned system and expansion of that system

Today's Talk

YOURSELF, MYSELF—FRIEND

Your are your very best friend, and I am my best friend. This is something we rarely realize and rarely think about. Before leaving for my city home I spent many hours picking huckleberries from loaded bushes, the heaviest laden I had ever seen, and as I picked the sparkling black treasures from nature's earth I thought of Thoreau and what he had to say about huckleberries that he gathered, and thought things to himself, as I did.

It is interesting to note how happy any of us may be if we will make friends with ourselves, and commune with ourselves as we work or relax, or just sit and think. I keep telling myself what a favored human being I am to be able to appreciate so much beauty that is ever about me. The most unhappy people I have known have been those who had no idea how to make friends out of themselves!

Yourself — myself — friend. We ought to give this a thought. We can correct ourselves, we can admonish and inspire ourselves—and it's all in the family, with no bitterness, no hard feelings—just friendlike. It's something to get along with yourself peaceably and contentedly. There are those who hate themselves at times, and that's when they make bad company for themselves and others.

Being friendly to that body of yours, and treating it kindly and considerately, creates in the mind and heart a happy atmosphere—and if you are such a person, you are glad to be alive, active, and appreciative toward all nature, all beauty, and all people.

It's a good thing to seek solitude quite often and talk things over with that self of yours. Give yourself an interview. Are you getting the most out of life, are you doing your best, are you contributing to the well-being and happiness of others? Every once in a while are you giving yourself away?

Over a lifetime we accumulate but a handful of genuine friends, so it's a good plan to make the best possible friend of yourself—you are the one human being who can give yourself a successful and happy life.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Getting to Know."

THE BUS RIDERS

He rides in his costly car
Where never the strangers are,
So the news he never discusses
With the people who crowd the busses.

He never gives up his seat
To a woman with weary feet;
Never shares in the evening swarming
Of the home-bound cue line forming.

Gay laughter he seldom hears;
Never wonders why the tears
The cheeks of a young girl streaking,
Or why suddenly brakes are shrieking.

He is proud such a car to own.
In comfort he rides alone.
Some may think that a good life this is,
But, oh! There's so much he misses.

ATTLEE DECIDES TO SEEK EARLY CHECKUP VOTE

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP)—Britain and any political group running it may be in for a bad time this winter.

Living costs are rising. There may be food and fuel shortages, even though both are rationed now. And labor is demanding wage increases.

In the British elections of 1945 Clement Attlee's Labor party handed Winston Churchill's, Conservatives a whopping defeat.

The Laborites came out of those elections with a majority of 200 seats in the House of Commons, which has 625 members.

Got Green Light

This was a green light to the Labor government to go ahead with its programs. With its big majority, it was able to push them through.

It nationalized, or socialized, the Bank of England, the coal industry, railroads and long-distance trucking, the electric and gas service, all civil aviation, the cable and wireless services. The government already owned radio. The Laborites started a national health program.

But Britain was still in a tough spot, trying to recover from the war. Wartime food and clothing rationing had to be continued. The British government had to get money from this country to keep going.

To hold down food prices and the cost of living, it had to subsidize farmers. The income tax in the top brackets went up to 97½ per cent and the average middle-class Briton had to pay more than 35 per cent of his income on taxes.

Close Squeak In '50

But with its big majority in Commons, the Labor party stayed in the saddle. Then came 1950, five years after the previous elections.

Churchill's Conservatives promised to halt the march toward more socialization of industry but indicated it would undo very little of the socializing already accomplished. And it wouldn't undo the social welfare programs, like socialized medicine, at all.

The betting was that in the elections of February, 1950, the Laborites would win again. And they did. But by a startlingly small majority. Today they have a majority of only six among the 625 seats in Commons.

Laborites Split

That's a tight squeak for any program Attlee's party wants to put through, although it did nationalize the steel industry after the 1950 elections.

Attlee's own party has been split a bit by opposition from within the ranks. And, in addition to its other problems of getting back to normal, Britain, as a member of the Atlantic Pact, has to arm and produce arms, meaning more money the government has to spend, more expenses.

All that, together with the prospect of food and fuel shortages and labor unrest, confronts Attlee with a winter which may be severe economically and politically. No matter what happens, Britons will still have to keep their belts tightened.

Feared Trouble

Since his administration still has four years to run and since he still has a majority of six votes in Commons, Attlee might have tried to sweat it out until 1955.

But far sooner than that he might have found himself defeated through a switch in votes on a vital issue. And when that happened he'd have to ask for elections anyway.

In Britain—unlike this country where politicians hold office for a fixed period, no matter what happens—the way to get the answer on public confidence is to call for elections and let the people vote at once.

SCHOOLS NEED BETTER VISUAL AID FOR PUPILS

BY DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
(AP Newsfeatures Writer)

More than 40 per cent of all children starting school today will have a visual handicap before they finish grade school.

This is due, says the American Optometric association, to the fact that the schoolroom good enough for grandfather is not good enough for today's children. And, points out the association, there are hundreds of last century's schoolhouses still in use.

Vision Problems

About 40 per cent of all grade school children are visually handicapped for performance of their school tasks according to the association which reported the results of examinations of more than a million children in all parts of the country.

"Vision problems are four times as common in the eighth grade as in the first, and much of the blame must rest on improper lighting and other conditions in the schoolroom itself," the association said. "Millions of cases of inadequate vision could be prevented by better schoolroom design, lighting and furnishing."

Among the elements of a proper seeing environment, says the association, should be

1 Adequate light, evently distributed No part of a classroom should be more than four times as bright as any other In many classrooms the window side of the room is 16 times as bright as the opposite side

2 Freedom from glare No child should have direct sunlight on his work or in his eyes, and there should be no shiny surfaces causing glare from either sunlight or artificial light.

Use Pastel Colors

3. Walls and ceilings should be painted in light pastel colors which do not absorb as much light as drab schoolroom brown

4 Seats and desks should be adjustable to suit the children using them. If a child must stretch or stoop to see, he twists his body into an unnatural posture. Purdue university has proved that such posture-warps grow into a child's body if the child is in the same improper seeing environment day after day

5 Pastel chalkboards are preferable to the old-fashioned light-absorbing blackboard. Many modern schools use green boards with yellow chalk This combination is easier on the eyes and it helps walls and ceilings save light

Studies in Texas have shown, says the association, that when children are transferred from ordinary schoolrooms into model classrooms, visual problems actually decline Not only does a model classroom prevent the development of many problems out it helps children overcome the problems already developed in bad environment

Need Better Tests

The idea that 20 20 vision is perfect is a fallacy, the association says

Hundreds of thousands of children will pass the 20 20 test, yet fail in their school work this year because their vision is inadequate. More comprehensive school vision tests are needed, it says.

"Most school work requires seeing within an arm's length, and the 20 20 standard applies only to vision at 20 feet from the eyes. Furthermore, the 20 20 test does not take into account the many visual skills required to read, write and perform most other school tasks. A child may be cross-eyed, color-blind, and have many other visual problems, and still pass the 20 20 test"

The 20 20 standard is neither perfect nor average, says the association and it is misleading if not accompanied by other tests that measure more important requirements for practical seeing"

Bartow, Fla., Sept. 20 (P) — Circuit Judge Don Register has dismissed a divorce action brough by Mrs Gerald B Chesnut Jr, against the man charged with trying to kill her Mrs Chesnut herself asked that the suit be dropped

She filed the action soon after Chesnut was charged with burning down their home, assault with intent to murder aggravated assault and simple assault. Trial is still pending in those criminal cases.

Missing Woman Is Found In Wall

Paris, Sept. 20 (P)—The mystery of old Mme Perron's disapperance four months ago has been partly solved by police

The found her body walled up in the cellar of her little Hotel du Theatre in the shadow of the Eiffel Tower

Today they are looking for Mme Sylvie Paul, 33, who took over management of the hotel after Mme Perron disappeared They are also looking for Mme Perron's 10-year-old niece, Denise Le Roy who disappeared in August at about the same time a North African friend of Mme Paul left Paris

Curiosity of neighbors about the old lady's disappearance whetted by contradictory stories told by the younger woman brought police to the hotel for a search They noted fresh cement on a wall Behind it they found Mme Perron's body in a blood-stained blanket

Mme Paul got away, meantime

SCHOOLS NEED BETTER VISUAL AID FOR PUPILS

(AP Newsfeatures Writer)

More than 40 per cent of all children starting school today will have a visual handicap before they finish grade school.

This is due, says the American Optometric association, to the fact that the schoolroom good enough for grandfather is not good enough for today's children. And, points out the association, there are hundreds of last century's schoolhouses still in use.

Vision Problems

About 40 per cent of all grade school children are visually handicapped for performance of their school tasks according to the association which reported the results of examinations of more than a million children in all parts of the country.

"Vision problems are four times as common in the eighth grade as in the first, and much of the blame must rest on improper lighting and other conditions in the schoolroom itself," the association said. "Millions of cases of inadequate vision could be prevented by better schoolroom design, lighting and furnishing."

Among the elements of a proper seeing environment, says the association, should be:

1. Adequate light, evently distributed. No part of a classroom should be more than four times as bright as any other. In many classrooms the window side of the room is 16 times as bright as the opposite side.

2. Freedom from glare. No child should have direct sunlight on his work or in his eyes, and there should be no shiny surfaces causing glare from either sunlight or artificial light.

Use Pastel Colors

3. Walls and ceilings should be painted in light pastel colors which do not absorb as much light as drab schoolroom brown.

4. Seats and desks should be adjustable to suit the children using them. If a child must stretch or stoop to see, he twists his body into an unnatural posture. Purdue university has proved that such posture-warps grow into a child's body if the child is in the same improper seeing environment day after day.

5. Pastel chalkboards are preferable to the old-fashioned light-absorbing blackboard. Many modern schools use green boards with yellow chalk. This combination is easier on the eyes and it helps walls and ceilings save light.

Studies in Texas have shown, says the association, that when children are transferred from ordinary schoolrooms into model classrooms, visual problems actually decline. Not only does a model classroom prevent the development of many problems, but it helps children overcome the problems already developed in bad environment.

Need Better Tests

The idea that 20/20 vision is perfect is a fallacy, the association says.

Hundreds of thousands of children will pass the 20/20 test, yet fail in their school work this year because their vision is inadequate. More comprehensive school vision tests are needed, it says.

"Most school work requires seeing within an arm's length, and the 20/20 standard applies only to vision at 20 feet from the eyes. Furthermore, the 20/20 test does not take into account the many visual skills required to read, write and perform most other school tasks. A child may be cross-eyed, color-blind, and have many other visual problems, and still pass the 20/20 test."

The 20/20 standard is neither perfect nor average, says the association, and "it is misleading if not accompanied by other tests that measure more important requirements for practical seeing."

Bartow, Fla., Sept. 20 (AP) — Circut Judge Don Register has dismissed a divorce action brough by Mrs. George B. Chesnut, Jr., against the man charged with trying to kill her. Mrs. Chesnut herself asked that the suit be dropped.

She filed the atcion soon after Chesnut was charged with burning down their home, assault with intent to murder, aggravated assault and simple assault. Trial is still pending in those criminal cases.

Missing Woman Is Found In Wall

Paris, Sept. 20 (AP)—The mystery of old Mme. Perron's disapperance four months ago has been partly solved by police.

The found her body walled up in the cellar of her little Hotel du Theatre, in the shadow of the Eiffel Tower.

Today they are looking for Mme. Sylvie Paul, 38, who took over management of the hotel after Mme. Perron disappeared. They are also looking for Mme. Perron's 10-year-old niece, Denise Le Roy, who disappeared in August, at about the same time a North African friend of Mme. Paul left Paris.

Curiosity of neighbors about the old lady's disappearance, whetted by contradictory stories told by the younger woman, brought police to the hotel for a search. They noted fresh cement on a wall. Behind it they found Mme. Perron's body in a blood-stained blanket.

Mme. Paul got away, meantime.

San Francisco, Sept. 20 (AP) — James L. McDevitt, 52, former Philadelphia, plasterer, Monday night was chosen to head the AFL's political campaign in 1952. McDevitt, president of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor, was named by the National AFL convention as director of Labor's League for Political Education (LLPE).

Today's Talk

YOURSELF, MYSELF—FRIEND

Your are your very best friend, and I am my best friend. This is something we rarely realize and rarely think about. Before leaving for my city home I spent many hours picking huckleberries from loaded bushes, the heaviest laden I had ever seen, and as I picked the sparkling black treasures from nature's earth I thought of Thoreau and what he had to say about huckleberries that he gathered, and thought things to himself, as I did.

It is interesting to note how happy any of us may be if we will make friends with ourselves, and commune with ourselves as we work or relax, or just sit and think. I keep telling myself what a favored human being I am to be able to appreciate so much beauty that is ever about me. The most unhappy people I have known have been those who had no idea how to make friends out of themselves!

Yourself — myself — friend. We ought to give this a thought. We can correct ourselves, we can admonish and inspire ourselves—and it's all in the family, with no bitterness, no hard feelings—just friendlike. It's something to get along with yourself peaceably and contentedly. There are those who hate themselves at times, and that's when they make bad company for themselves and others.

Being friendly to that body of yours, and treating it kindly and considerately, creates in the mind and heart a happy atmosphere—and if you are such a person, you are glad to be alive, active, and appreciative toward all nature, all beauty, and all people.

It's a good thing to seek solitude quite often and talk things over with that self of yours. Give yourself an interview. Are you getting the most out of life, are you doing your best, are you contributing to the well-being and happiness of others? Every once in a while are you giving yourself away?

Over a lifetime we accumulate but a handful of genuine friends, so it's a good plan to make the best possible friend of yourself—you are the one human being who can give yourself a successful and happy life.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Getting to Know."

Just Folks

THE BUS RIDERS

He rides in his costly car
Where never the strangers are,
So the news he never discusses
With the people who crowd the busses.

He never gives up his seat
To a woman with weary feet;
Never shares in the evening swarming
Of the home-bound cue line forming.

Gay laughter he seldom hears;
Never wonders why the tears
The cheeks of a young girl streaking,
Or why suddenly brakes are shrieking.

He is proud such a car to own,
In comfort he rides alone.
Some may think that a good life this is,
But, oh! There's so much he misses.

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP)—Britain and any political group running it may be in for a bad time this winter.

Living costs are rising. There may be food and fuel shortages, even though both are rationed now. And labor is demanding wage increases.

In the British elections of 1945 Clement Attlee's Labor party handed Winston Churchill's Conservatives a whopping defeat.

The Laborites came out of those elections with a majority of 200 seats in the House of Commons, which has 625 members.

Got Green Light

This was a green light to the Labor government to go ahead with its programs. With its big majority, it was able to push them through.

It nationalized, or socialized, the Bank of England, the coal industry, railroads and long-distance trucking, the electric and gas service, all civil aviation, the cable and wireless services. The government already owned radio. The Laborites started a national health program.

But Britain was still in a tough spot, trying to recover from the war. Wartime food and clothing rationing had to be continued. The British government had to get money from this country to keep going.

To hold down food prices and the cost of living, it had to subsidize farmers. The income tax in the top brackets went up to 97½ per cent and the average middle-class Briton had to pay more than 35 per cent of his income on taxes.

Close Squeak In '50

But with its big majority in Commons, the Labor party stayed in the saddle. Then came 1950, five years after the previous elections.

Churchill's Conservatives promised to halt the march toward more socialization of industry but indicated it would undo very little of the socializing already accomplished. And it wouldn't undo the social welfare programs, like socialized medicine, at all.

The betting was that in the elections of February, 1950, the Laborites would win again. And they did. But by a startlingly small majority. Today they have a majority of only six among the 625 seats in Commons.

Laborites Split

That's a tight squeak for any program Attlee's party wants to put through, although it did nationalize the steel industry after the 1950 elections.

Attlee's own party has been split a bit by opposition from within the ranks. And, in addition to its other problems of getting back to normal, Britain, as a member of the Atlantic Pact, has to arm and produce arms, meaning more money the government has to spend, more expenses.

All that, together with the prospect of food and fuel shortages and labor unrest, confronts Attlee with a winter which may be severe economically and politically. No matter what happens, Britons will still have to keep their belts tightened.

Feared Trouble

Since his administration still has four years to run and since he still has a majority of six votes in Commons, Attlee might have tried to sweat it out until 1955.

But far sooner than that he might have found himself defeated through a switch in votes on a vital issue. And when that happened he'd have to ask for elections anyway.

In Britain—unlike this country where politicians hold office for a fixed period, no matter what happens—the way to get the answer on public confidence is to call for elections and let the people vote at once.

GRANGERS WILL HAVE EXHIBIT AT FREDERICK

The Emmitsburg Grange observed Friendship night at its meeting Wednesday evening with 75 members and guests in attendance. Master Norman Shriver presided. Following the opening ceremony the minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Clara Harner.

Edward Smith reported for the community show. He said that the Women's club had declined the offer to co-sponsor the show. The grange voted unanimously to sponsor it alone. The committee includes Edward Smith, Mrs. Charles Fuss and William Wivell, with volunteers.

Morris Zentz, chairman of the grange exhibit booth to be entered at the Frederick fair presented a letter from the secretary of the Frederick County Grange explaining the change in the rules for Grange exhibits this year. The secretary announced the articles that the Grange was asked to exhibit at the fair and asked the members to say what they would exhibit. Twenty-eight different entries were indicated by the members, including grains, hay, potatoes, vegetables, jars of fruits and vegetables, canned meats and eggs. Chairman Zentz will transport them to Frederick and will receive articles for display at his home before Monday, October 1.

Degrees To Be Given

Professor William Baker, instructor in vocational agriculture at the Emmitsburg and Thurmont high schools, was introduced, and asked financial assistance to help send FFA boys to the national FFA meeting at Kansas City. The grange voted to contribute $10. Several announcements were made concerning county, state and national grange meetings. It was announced that the Maryland State Grange will meet at the Francis Scott Key hotel, Frederick, December 4, 5 and 6. The fifth degree will be given at Walkersville, Md., on November 6 and the 6th degree in Frederick at the Park Way school on November 9.

The entertainment program was given by the Linganore Grange and included group singing, saxophone duet, male quartet, readings and a skit, "The New Maid." A talk on "Dairy Farming" was given by Mr. Baker of the Linganore Grange. He said 50 percent of the milk-producing cost was labor and therefore management of labor was important and called for every good labor-saving device and convenience. He said that checks showed that it took some dairymen from four to 12 minutes per cow to milk and that was too wide a variation. It should average 3¼ minutes per cow, he said.

The meeting closed with singing "Blest Be the Tie." Refreshments of sandwiches, cake, coffee and potato chips were served after the meeting. The next meeting will be held Wednesday, October 3, at 7:30 p.m. at the Emmitsburg school.

COLLEGE men and women have a way of knowing that which is considered the best. That's why STUDENTS invariably choose The Snack Shack when they go in search of good food. Here at 6th and York Streets, they RECEIVE the delicious foods and the courteous service they like, and when we speak of EPICUREAN degrees, we mean the satisfaction that springs from having a variety of foods offered on a menu that's certain to please. DEGREES or no degrees . . . that is the question! But, there is no question about the degrees of cooking at The Snack Shack. Food is cooked to just the degree of time you insist upon . . . rare, medium, or . . . well done. AT LOCAL prices that are within your budget, The Snack Shack offers you everything from a sandwich to a full-course dinner, styled to GOURMETS' pleasure. So . . . welcome students! We're glad you're attending Gettysburg College, and we invite you to make this your HANG-OUT

GRANGERS WILL HAVE EXHIBIT AT FREDERICK

The Emmitsburg Grange observed Friendship night at its meeting Wednesday evening with 75 members and guests in attendance. Master Norman Shriver presided. Following the opening ceremony the minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Clara Hahner.

Edward Smith reported for the community show. He said that the W[illegible] had declined the offer [illegible] the show. The grange [illegible] unanimously to sponsor [illegible]. The committee includes Edward Smith, Mrs. Charles Fuss and William W[illegible] with [illegible] volunteers.

Morris Zentz, chairman of the grange exhibit to be entered at the Frederick fair, presented a letter from the secretary of the Frederick County Grange explaining the [illegible] rules for Grange exhibits this year. The secretary announced the articles that the Grange was asked to exhibit at the fair and asked the members to say what they would exhibit. Twenty-eight different entries were indicated by the members including grains, hay, potatoes, vegetables, jars of fruits and vegetables, canned meats and eggs. Chairman Zentz will transport them to Frederick and will receive articles for display at his home before Monday, October 1.

Degrees To Be Given

Professor William Baker, instructor in vocational agriculture at the Emmitsburg and Thurmont high schools, was introduced and asked financial assistance to help send FFA boys to the national FFA meeting at Kansas City. The grange voted to contribute $10. Several announcements were made concerning county, state and national grange meetings. It was announced that the Maryland State Grange will meet at the Francis Scott Key hotel, Frederick, December 4, 5 and 6. The fifth degree will be given at Walkersville, Md., on November 6 and the 6th degree in Frederick at the Park Way school on November 9.

The entertainment program was given by the Linganore Grange and included group singing, saxophone duet, male quartet, readings and a skit, "The New Maid." A talk on "Dairy Farming" was given by Mr. Baker of the Linganore Grange. He said 50 percent of the milk-producing cost was labor and therefore management of labor was important. He called for [illegible] good labor-saving devices and convenience. He said that checks showed that it took some dairymen from four to 12 minutes per cow to milk and that was too wide a variation. It should average 3½ minutes per cow, he said.

The meeting closed with singing "Blest Be the Tie." Refreshments of sandwiches, cake, coffee and potato chips were served after the meeting. The next meeting will be held Wednesday, October [illegible] at 7:30 p.m. at the Emmitsburg school.

tory which did not please this political body, and the publishers, Macmillan and company, were induced to delete these sections in ensuing editions.

Included in the collection also are a number of authors' gift and review copies.

Donor Is Harvard Grad

The donor, Francis Louis Arensberg, son of the Civil war veteran and founder of the library, is a Harvard graduate. He was a classmate and friend of the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt. The Arensberg collection came to Gettysburg, presumably, according to Mr. Knickerbocker, because of the elder Arensberg's participation in the battle here and his continuing interest, and that of his son, in Gettysburg.

Among other recent additions and noteworthy collections in the college library is a collection of books on World War I, given to the library by Alice Dangerfield Parkin, Los Angeles, widow of the late Harry Dravo Parkin, 1880-1946, a major in the 316th infantry, 79th division of the AEF in that war. Bookplates are marked with the distinguished service cross, which was awarded to Major Parkin.

Mrs. Parkin is a sister-in-law of Francis Louis Arensberg. Mrs. Arensberg and Mrs. Parkin are sisters.

Noteworthy numbers in this collection are autographed copies of books by Charles G. Dawes, World War I general and later vice president of the United States, and by John J. Pershing, commander-in-chief of Allied forces in World War I. The London Times "History of the Great War" in several volumes is also included.

BABY BEEF CLUB

planning to use one of the steers as an FFA project and the other as their baby beef club project.

Accept New Members

Each member will post $10 as an insurance fund, the group decided. The amount will be held until the end of the year, with payment to be made to any member who may lose his steer during the club season.

Glenn Zepp, Gettysburg R. 4; John Sanders, Gettysburg R. 1, and John Mickley, Orrtanna, were accepted as new members. Roy Weaner, Jr., president of the club, announced that new members will be accepted into the club for the next few days and urged those wishing to join to contact the office of County Agent M. T. Hartman at the court house here.

Each member paid $50 toward the purchase price of his steer at Wednesday's meeting.

Under the club program, the members purchase steers in the fall, and keep them for a year, selling them usually in November of the following year.

Sheriff's Sale

IN PURSUANCE of a Writ of FIERI FACIAS issuing out of the Court of Common Pleas of Adams County, and to me directed, will be exposed to Public Sale on SATURDAY, the 6th day of October, 1951, at 10 o'clock (E.S.T.) in the forenoon at the Court House in the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pa., the following Real Estate, viz.:

All that certain triangular lot of ground situated, lying and being in Berwick Township, Adams County, and State of Pennsylvania, bounded and limited as follows, to-wit:

Beginning for a corner at an iron pin in center of the "Hill Road," also a corner of lands of Aaron M. Nace; thence along said Nace's land in a southerly direction, two hundred forty-five (245) feet to an iron pin at lands now or formerly owned by George J. Bargelt Estate; thence along said last mentioned lands in a northeasterly direction, one hundred seventy-six (176) feet to an iron pin in the center of said Hill Road; thence through the center of said Hill Road, in a northwesterly direction, one hundred fifty-six (156) feet, six (6) inches to an iron pin, the place of Beginning. Improved with a single, frame, one story and a half, dwelling house, and an outdoor fireplace with screened-in dining room attached.

Seized and taken into execution as the property of Everett M. Trites and Violette J. Trites and to be sold by me

DORSEY J. SCHULTZ,
Sheriff.

Sheriff's Office, Gettysburg, Pa., August 16, 1951.

Ten per cent of the purchase price is payable in cash immediately after the sale and the balance of the purchase price, plus making, docketing and recording of deed, [illegible] in cash five days prior to the return day of the writ of execution; if conditions are not complied with the property will be resold and the defaulting purchaser will be liable for the deficiency, if any.

TO RAISE FUNDS

Show Bologna Making

Mr. Noss, a resident of York, in the second of his Pennsylvania Dutch pictures shows in color the making of bologna in Lancaster county, starting with the live Angus steers that provide the meat for the treat and ending with the finished product. The color film shows Clarence Herr of Lancaster county making the bologna with the use of an old press that has been in his family for generations.

The film also shows a Pennsylvania Dutch Easter egg tree. At the Easter season a Dutch custom is to decorate a leafless tree with brightly colored egg shells. A group of York girls modeling modern dresses of Pennsylvania Dutch motif are also shown as is a country barn raising, the tulip display at Hershey and the making of sweitzer cheese in Lancaster county.

Students at the Hoffman orphanage and Paradise protectory will be guests of the guild at the showing. Bologna, doughnuts and apple cider will be on sale at the filming.

DR. HENRY W. A. HANSON

MRS. HENRY W. A. HANSON

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

As I catch a vision of the school children of America flocking into our institutions of learning, I say to myself, "This is America."

America has great faith in its youth. From coast to coast, some of our finest buildings are dedicated to public education. Our school teachers, from the kindergarten to the university, are a splendid group of American citizens. They are dedicating their lives to one of the highest services of our generation. The builders of tomorrow are in our schools today.

America has never been so concerned with the type of education required, if these high objectives are to be reached. We need to inspire our youth to self-discipline and self-dedication. We need young men and young women whose minds are filled with wholesome thoughts, whose hearts are filled with affection for those great characters who have contributed so nobly to the building of our nation.

Our educational ideals must cover all of the areas of the life of our youth. We send them to school for the purpose of equipping them to meet the needs of the land that they love. I have great faith in the world of tomorrow. After the storms of today have cleared, we shall find a new world and a better world. This happy situation will be due to the kind of education we give the children of today.

Let us give them more faith and less fear. Let us help them to realize that the measure of a life is not based on the things we are able to hold in our hands. It is not based on attaining a prominent position—it is based on faith and character and a sense of obligation.

At the beginning of the new academic year, I say with all my heart, "May God bless the children of today and help us wisely to prepare them for creative living."

tory which did not please this political body, and the publishers, Macmillan and company, were induced to delete these sections in ensuing editions.

Included in the collection also are a number of authors gift and review copies.

Donor Is Harvard Grad

The donor, Francis Louis Arensberg, son of the Civil war veteran and founder of the library, is a Harvard graduate. He was a classmate and friend of the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt. The Arensberg collection came to Gettysburg presumably, according to Mr. Knickerbocker, because of the elder Arensberg's participation in the battle here and his continuing interest, and that of his son, in Gettysburg.

Among other recent additions and noteworthy collections in the college library is a collection of books on World War I, given to the library by Alice Dangerfield Parkin, Los Angeles, widow of the late Harry Dravo Parkin, 1880-1946, a major in the 316th infantry, 79th division of the AEF in that war. Bookplates are marked with the distinguished service cross, which was awarded to Major Parkin.

Mrs. Parkin is a sister-in-law of Francis Louis Arensberg. Mrs. Arensberg and Mrs. Parkin are sisters.

Noteworthy numbers in this collection are autographed copies of books by Charles G. Dawes, World War I general and later vice president of the United States, and by John J. Pershing, commander-in-chief of Allied forces in World War I. The London Times "History of the Great War" in several volumes is also included.

planning to use one of the steers as an FPA project and the other as their baby beef club project.

Accept New Members

Each member will post $10 as an insurance fund, the group decided. The amount will be held until the end of the year, with payment to be made to any member who may lose his steer during the club season.

Glenn Zepp, Gettysburg R. 4; John Sanders, Gettysburg R. 1, and John Mickley, Orrtanna, were accepted as new members. Roy Weaner, Jr., president of the club, announced that new members will be accepted into the club for the next few days and urged those wishing to join to contact the office of County Agent M. T. Hartman at the court house here.

Each member paid $50 toward the purchase price of his steer at Wednesday's meeting.

Under the club program, the members purchase steers in the fall, and keep them for a year, selling them usually in November of the following year.

Dutch picture, a motion picture made at the outdoor art show held by the guild June 30 on the court house lawn will also be shown.

Show Bologna Making

Mr. Noss, a resident of York, in the second of his Pennsylvania Dutch pictures shows in color the making of bologna in Lancaster county, starting with the live Angus steers that provide the meat for the treat and ending with the finished product. The color film shows Clarence Herr of Lancaster county making the bologna with the use of an old press that has been in his family for generations.

The film also shows a Pennsylvania Dutch Easter egg tree. At the Easter season a Dutch custom is to decorate a leafless tree with ornately colored egg shells. A group of York girls modeling modern dresses of Pennsylvania Dutch motif also is shown as is a country barn raising, the tulip display at Hershey and the making of sweitzer cheese in Lancaster county.

Students at the Hoffman orphanage and Paradise protectory will be guests of the guild at the [illegible]. Bologna, doughnuts and apple [illegible] will be on sale at the filming.

Gettysburg College, Founded In 1832, Had Formal Opening On July 4th

Dr. Samuel Simon Schmucker Secured Charter From State After Considerable Pressure

Dr. Samuel Simon Schmucker, founder of Gettysburg college, was one of the few men in the world who was able to carry out his three main ideas in life within a few years after completing his college work.

Doctor Schmucker wrote that when he left Princeton college as a graduate in 1820 "there were three pia desideria, which were very dear to my heart, for the welfare of our church: a translation of some one eminent system of Lutheran Dogmatics, a Theological Seminary and a college for the Lutheran church."

Within a few years Doctor Schmucker had translated Storr and Flatt's Biblical Theology, founded the Gettysburg Lutheran theological seminary and established Gettysburg college.

Secures State Charter

And the founder's reputation as a man who could act quickly was more than borne out the day the college came into existence. Gettysburg residents and Lutheran ministers who were the original stockholders in the founding of the college sent Doctor Schmucker to Harrisburg in 1832 to obtain permission from the Legislature for the college.

Arriving there he found that it would also be necessary to submit a charter for the new college before the Legislature could act. Within a few hours he had contacted officials from various other colleges, obtained their charters, borrowed a desk in the capitol and written a charter for the new college.

Finding opposition to the new institution, Doctor Schmucker wrote to Lutheran ministers in 20 counties to have them petition the Legislature, appeared before the Legislature to argue that since the English speaking peoples of Pennsylvania had a college the German speaking people, most of whom were Lutherans, should also have one, and between logic and political pressure, secured the approval of the Legislature for what is now Gettysburg college.

Opens On July 4

"Pennsylvania College at Gettysburg" had been granted a charter April 7, 1832. On Wednesday, July 4, of that year, the college actually got underway with a formal opening program. Judge Calvin Blythe noted, "It is in the development of the faculties and energies of the human mind that we must look for the still richer fruits of a systematic education. A Newton and an African savage are both men, but with hardly anything in common. . . . The mind, like the earth, is condemned to a thorny barrenness, which can only be rendered productive by a laborious culture. A judicious cultivation can rarely fail to be rewarded by a generous harvest."

November 7, 1832, marked the actual opening of the college for students. There were six "professors," two from the seminary, Doctor Schmucker and Professor Hazelius, two from the "Gettysburg Gymnasium" which had been the forerunner of the college and which closed with the opening of the college, the head of the Gettysburg Female Academy, Rev. J. H. Marsden, who apparently taught only part time at the college, and a Mr. Friederici, who taught the preparatory school.

5 Basic Subjects

Latin, Greek, Philosophy, Mathematics and Natural Philosophy were the basic subjects with German and Hebrew, Mineralogy, Botany and Navigation elective. Mr. Friederici also taught French under private arrangement.

While public education and institutions of higher education are today part of the national scene, they found the going much more difficult 120 years ago. There was much opposition in Gettysburg from those who felt all money should go to establishing elementary schools, those who felt that colleges led to class distinctions, and those who felt that the world could get along without schools at all, because they cost money; and those who did not express any opinion at all about schools, but were opposed to Gettysburg college because there were Masons among the founders and they were opposed to Masons.

Favored Endowment

Thaddeus Stevens, who headed the Anti-Masonic party in Adams county, but also was one of those promoting the college, found himself in real trouble over his attitude toward the college. But he was able to outtalk his opponents within his own party as well as those in the state Legislature who opposed a motion to give a state grant of money toward Gettysburg college.

In 1834 Stevens took the floor of the Legislature to argue for a state endowment for the new college. Previously in his arguments with his own Anti-Masonic party over his suport of the college, Stevens had concluded his talk "I may forfeit the approbation of over-heated politicians, but I shall retain my own." In the Legislature he took up the cudgel against a Mr. Patterson who argued the money to be given the college could more wisely go toward road repairs.

Answers Patterson

Speaking of Mr. Patterson, Stevens stormed: "He, and those who think with him, deem it of much more importance that the mud holes in the roads should be filled up, that their horses may go dry-shod to mill, than that the rubbbish of ignorance should be cleared away from the intellects of their children."

Warming up to his subject Stevens likened those opposed to the bill to financially aid Gettysburg college to those "who would turn these institutions over to the Goths and Vandals; burn all our libraries, and like their prototype, Jack Cade, sentence every man who should be convicted of 'most traitorously corrupting the youth of the realm in erecting a grammar school' to be hanged with his pen and ink horn about his neck. Bring in a bill to improve the breed of hogs, to discover some mode of fattening them with less corn, and these worthy men would be enthusiastic in its favor. But attempt to improve the race of men, and its costs too much!"

The bill finally passed, granting $18,000 to the college, on January 23, 1834.

First President

With the college fully established, with students and $18,000 from the state, the officials of the fledgling institution decided it was time to name a president. Doctor Schmucker was head of the seminary and teaching at both the seminary and college and had his hands full. Thus September of 1834 was marked by the graduation of the first class from the college — a total of three students — and the inauguration of Dr. Charles Philip Krauth, the oldest — aged 37 — and most experienced member of the faculty as first president of the school.

One of the requirements to receive the $18,000 from the estate was for the college to raise $3,000 through its own efforts. The school secured enough money by raising subscriptions of $75 and $100 from various interested persons. Those who donated $75 had the right to put one pupil through the college course without paying tuition. Those who put up $100 could send the youngster through both the preparatory school and college without tuition.

Original Building Stands

At that time the college was located in a building still standing on the southeast side of the intersections of South Washington and West High streets. The building had previously housed the Gettysburg gymnasium, which had become part of the college, and other schools. The library was in a room rented from one of the professors who lived nearby.

With money in the bank and ambition to build, the board had to decide where to erect the college. Some held for expansion on the Washington and High streets site, some held for the hill now known as Cemetery hill on the ground just east of what is now the National cemetery here. Some held for the land where the Women's division is now, and other favored Thaddeus Stevens' cow pasture — which Stevens had offered the school. After many meetings Stevens' pasture was chosen and he was offered $88 per acre for the land. The college bought six and a half acres.

Deciding to spend $12,000 for a building, the board engaged an architect who proposed the plans for what is now called Old Dorm. The board let contracts, and then found themselves in a dilemma, they couldn't build it for $12,000.

Completed In 1838

By leaving unfinished the fourth floor and east wing, the college was able to have the building erected in 1836 for $18,500. A high price then, but now with 120 years' use, the building was a bargain. The sections left unfinished in the first construction were completed for $2,300 in 1838.

President Krauth lived in a building on the northeast corner of Baltimore and High streets provided by the college, from the time he became president until his resignation in 1850. His residency there was for a very good reason. The building also housed the students and it was felt that some responsible person should be with the students. President Krauth was the only member of the faculty who would accept the responsibility.

In 1844 the college—or rather its students—undertook additional construction work. The students got the materials together and started construction of Linnaean hall, which was to be the science building of the college. It was completed finally with some aid from the college, but most of the work was done by the students themselves. It remained the science building until 1890 when it was converted into a gymnasium.

Had Medical Department

Despite a tuition rate of $24 at the beginning, up to $34 per year by 1850, the number of students at the college was not large. By the time Doctor Krauth resigned, in 1850, there were 164 alumni, distributed through 16 classes.

Gettysburg college at one time had a medical department—located in Philadelphia. The school came into existence in 1839 and closed in 1861. It came about because the school founded by Dr. George McClellan, father of General McClellan of Civil war fame, had some faculty disagreements with Jefferson college, with which it was affiliated as Jefferson Medical school. Doctor McClellan, with some others, organized another school and then applied to Gettysburg college to become its medical school. The school functioned successfully until the beginning of the Civil war took away its southern students and mounting costs made it prohibitive to continue.

Damage From War

The Civil War not only caused the closing of the medical school, but it also caused much damage to the main college itself. Students declined in numbers, income decreased, and the salaries of the professors had to be raised from $100 to $200 per year because of the tremendous increase in living costs.

Then came the battle of Gettysburg. The college was used as a hospital. Damage was severe and the government paid the college only $625 as recompence for use of its buildings.

While the problems of the college were uppermost in the minds of faculty and trustees, the problems of the students were many and unusual during earlier years of the college. There was the problem of wood for example. There was no coal to be had and each student had to supply his own wood. This led to complaints that, amazingly, the woodpiles of the industrious students who cut much wood disappeared rapidly while the piles of wood of the less industrious remained about the same small size throughout the year.

Woodhouse And Lamps

As a result of this, in 1855, the steward of the college was ordered to erect a woodhouse and purchase sufficient wood for all students.

During the Civil war, when news came of the approach of the Confederates, students at the college organized into a company, which saw service June 30, 1863, and held up the advance of the Confederates by a day. It then fell back to Harrisburg, and remained there for the remainder of the battle.

Payne Is Hanged

During the battle of July 1, 2, 3, 1863, and for four weeks afterward, the college buildings were used as a hospital. Hundreds of wounded men were treated. Among them was Lewis Thornton Powell, of the Confederates, who was wounded July 3, 1863, and cared for at the college until his recovery, when he was sent to Baltimore prison. He escaped, fought again as a Confederate soldier and later under the name of Lewis Payne entered into the conspiracy with John Wilkes Booth to kill President Lincoln. Powell-Payne assaulted Secretary Seward while Booth killed the president. Payne was hanged for his part in the conspiracy.

Those in the college in 1863 not only saw the coming of the Confederates and the battle, but they also saw and heard President Lincoln deliver his Gettysburg Address. They complained at first of being at the "tail-end" of the procession, but learned later that Lincoln and his party were beside them for 20 minutes before the parade started, and when they reached the cemetery, the first was made last — the students were marched through parted columns directly to the spot in front of the speaker. Dr. P. M. Bikle, then a student, who later became dean of the college, wrote of Lincoln's delivering the address: "On coming away I said to a classmate: 'Well, Mr. Lincoln's speech was simple, appropriate, and right to the point, but I don't think there was anything remarkable about it.' That was the opinion of a wise sophomore."

2 Students Remain

When the Confederates headed north and burned Chambersburg, practically all students fled. Only two members of the graduating class stood their ground and were given their diplomas with appropriate ceremony. A baccalaureate sermon was given and both made speeches "to a very small crowd."

The earth's axis continually points in the same direction.

Year In College Costs Four Times As Much Now As It Did Back At Turn Of The Century

It's costing from four to six times as much to gain a college education today as it did 50 years ago. Total cost for a year at Gettysburg college in 1901 ranged from a minimum of $150.50 to a maximum of $244.50. Today the minimum is $950 and the maximum $1,120. Numerous other colleges are higher.

Barring clothing and incidentals, the following figures apply for the 1951-52 year at Gettysburg:

	Min.	Max.
Tuition	$450	$ 450
Atheltic fee	25	25
Student chest	15	15
Health fee	10	10
Board	335	370
Room	90	200
Books and Stationery	25	50
	$950	$1,120

Small Items Omitted

The preceding tabulation also does not include laboratory fees, $5 to $15 a semester for students taking science, post office locker fee, $2 for a dormitory student; graduation and diploma fee, $5, and personal expenses, such as clothing, spending allowances, fraternity dues and transportation.

The general outline of expenses in 1901 was:

	Min.	Max.
Tuition	$ 50.00	$ 50.00
Board	70.00	114.00
Room Rent, Heat	12.50	62.50
Gymnasium fee	6.00	6.00
Washing fee	12.00	12.00
	$150.50	$244.50

In 1901 the college year was two weeks longer than the present year's term.

More for Money

As college costs have risen, so have the services rendered, college officials point out. New buildings erected since dad or granddad went to college have brought greatly increased facilities in all fields, instruction, living quarters, and recreation. Dollar for dollar, what the student pays today is buying much more than it did 50 years ago, even at spiraling costs which hit colleges as well as individuals and all organizations in general.

The value of all the buildings at Gettysburg college in 1901 was estimated at $249,000. Old Dorm, for instance, was valued at $38,000. College officials say it could not be replaced today for $600,000. The total estimated value of the college buildings today is well above two and a half million dollars.

Elsewhere the boy or girl in search of a college sheepskin is finding similarly higher figures confronting him in numerous instances, the costs of education having gone much higher than at Gettysburg.

Col Clarence F Lovejoy, educational consultant and author, says tuition, dormitory room, board and various kinds of fees have been greatly increased since World War II. Colleges require more funds to [illegible] pace with increased salary scales, increased cost of fuel and maintenance, and [illegible] departments. In the [illegible] costs Col. Lovejoy points out that scholarships have [illegible] increased.

More Go To College

[illegible] of college [illegible]. The congressional [illegible] known as the GI bill of rights have brought college [illegible] thousands of families unable to afford even high school education for their youngsters.

The colonel says that 50 years ago students needed between $350 and $500 for a year's expenses at some of the best colleges. Today these same [illegible] average $1,800 a year or more.

[illegible] Col. Here's what a half century has done to college costs.

In 1899 tuition at Princeton was $160 a year. It is now $600 plus $100 for fees. Room cost then was $30. Today, it is up to $175.

Northwestern university students in 1900-01 were promised a whole year of institutional costs for as "low" as $220, an average year was estimated at $320. Today, Northwestern costs $1,500 a year.

Harvard broke down its costs into four grades, low, average, high and very high, back around 1907, with $454 for average. Harvard tuition today has been increased to $600 and, says Lovejoy, a four-year program at Harvard costs $7,240.

At New Haven, Yale students of 50 years ago spent an average of $545 yearly. Today, a student year at Yale would cost nearly $1,800 with average incidentals.

NYU authorities calculated that a half century ago annual costs ranged from $[illegible] to $[illegible]. Today, a four-year education on a residential basis would cost $7,992.

A Columbia student spent between $387 and $620 50 years ago compared with $1,800 yearly today.

GETTYSBURG COLLEGE

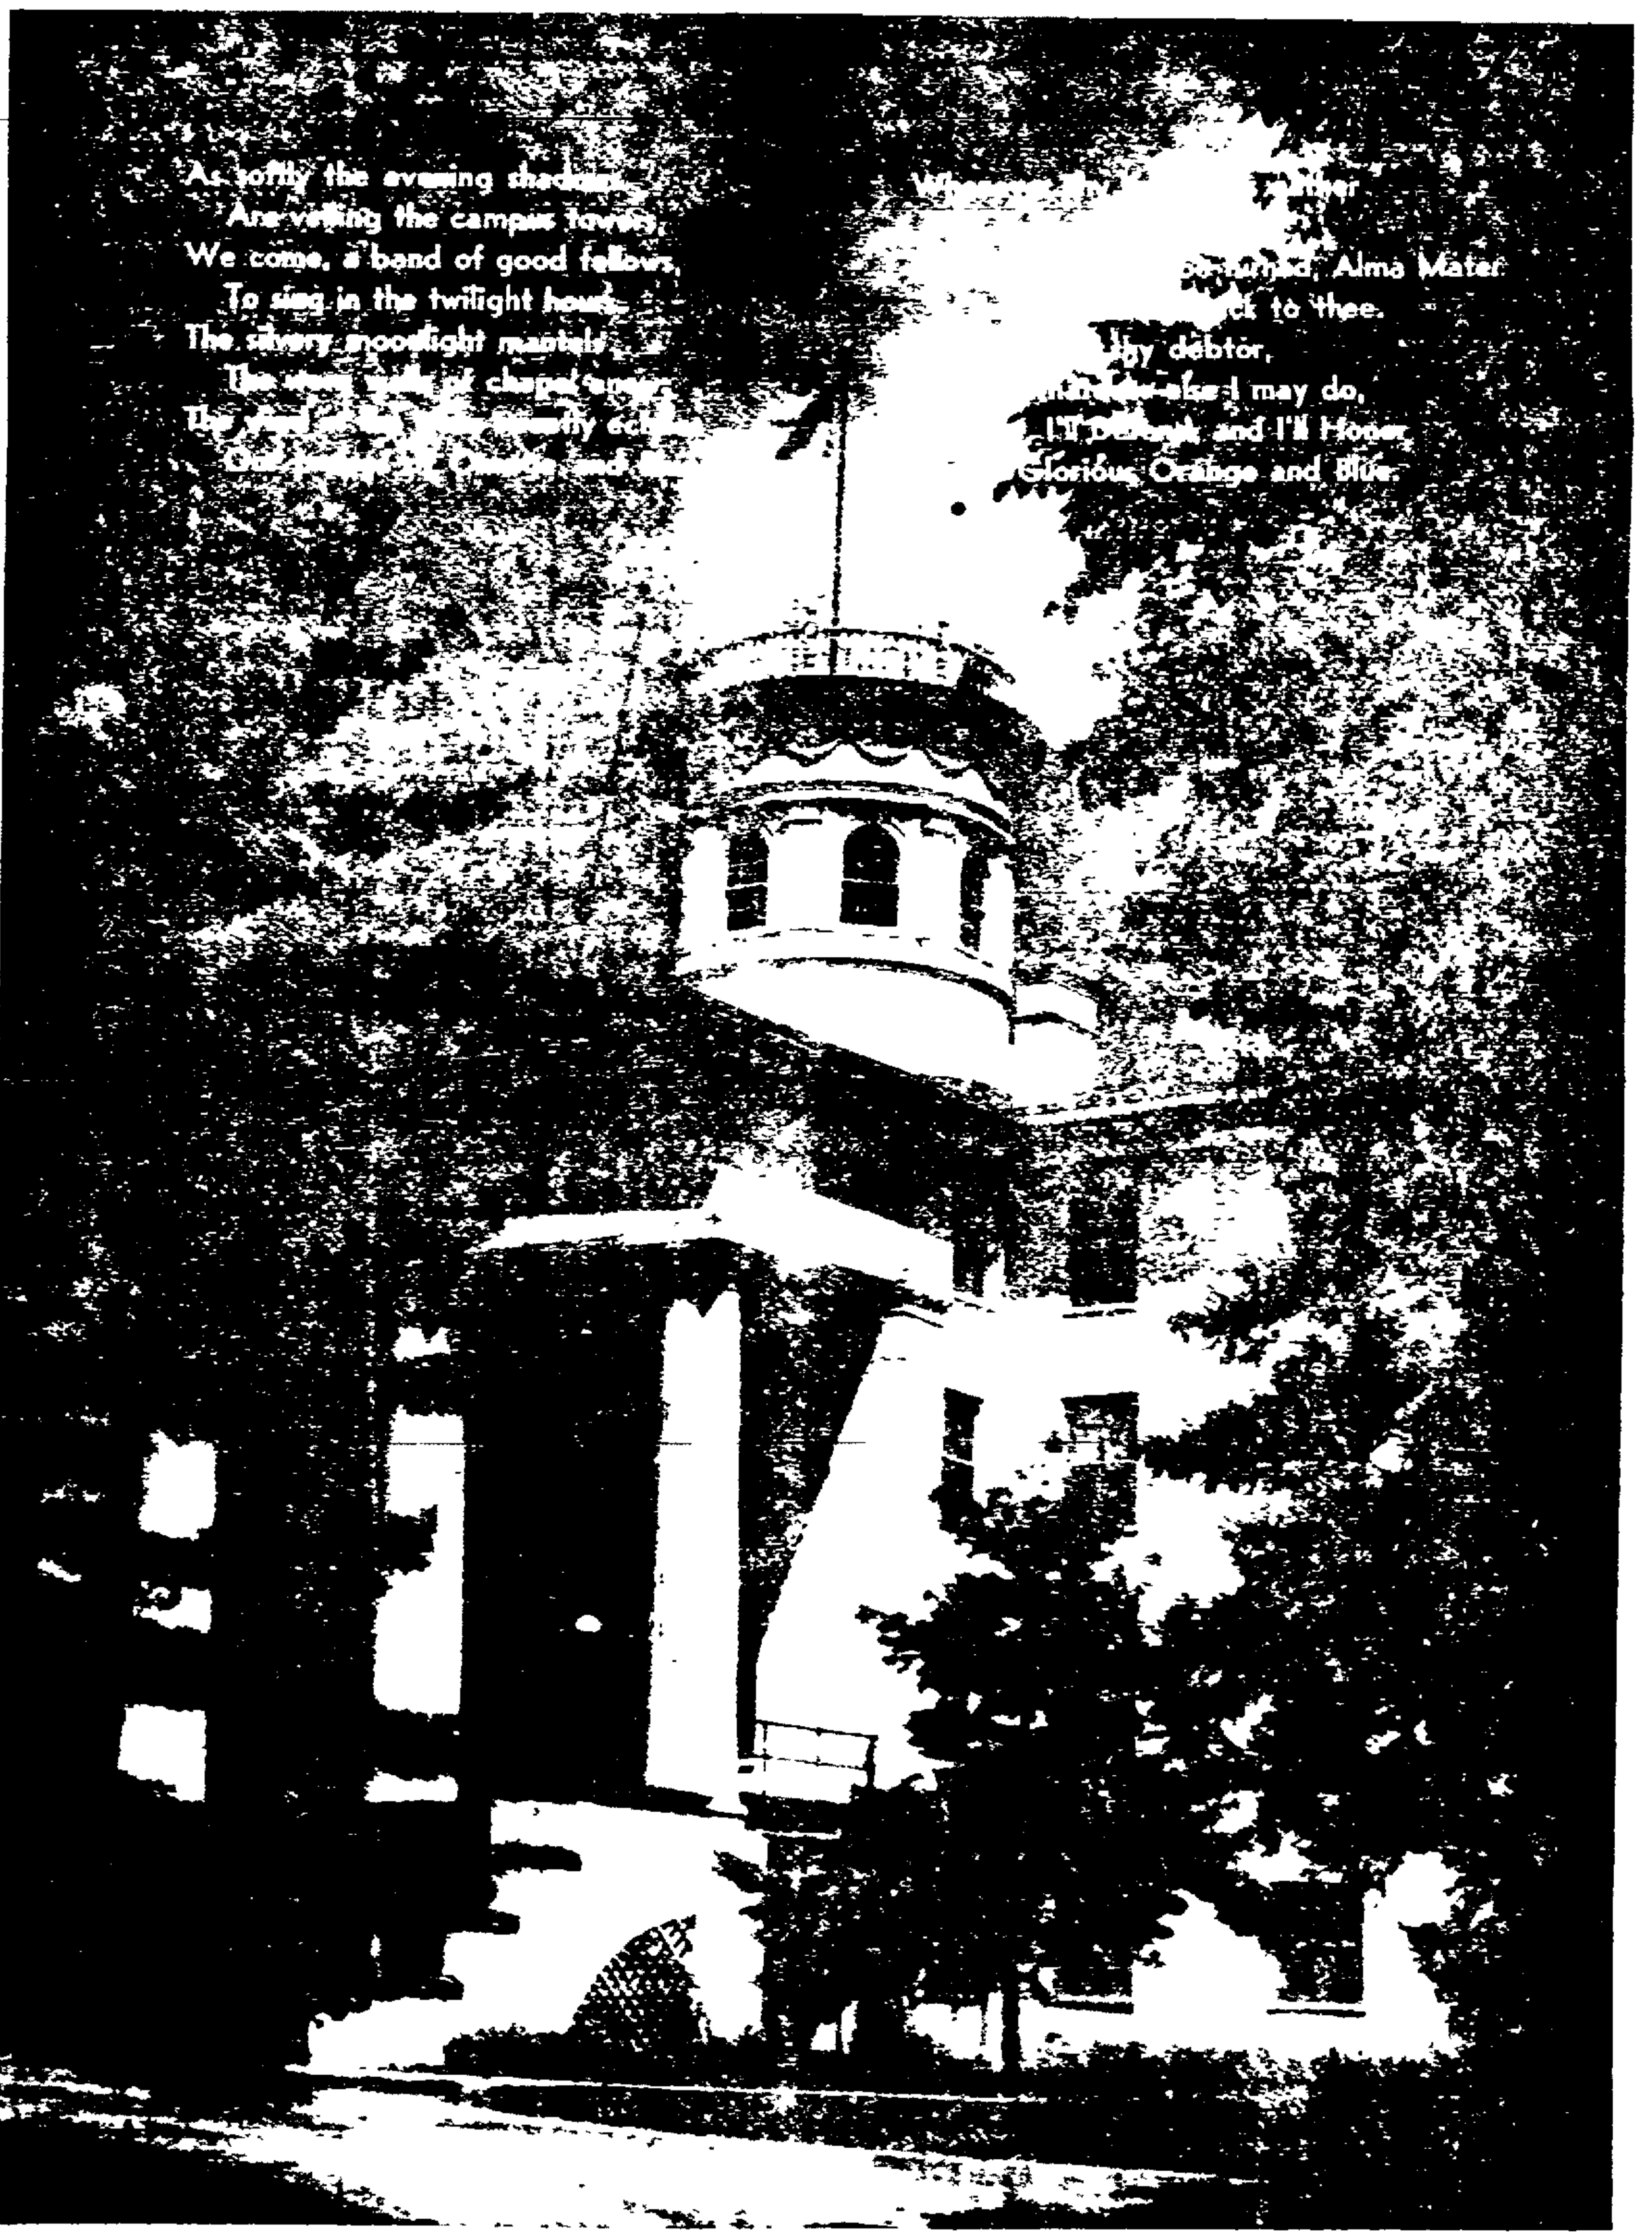
Entering 120th Academic Year



As softly the evening shadows
Are veiling the campus towers,
We come, a band of good fellows,
To sing in the twilight hours.
The silvery moonlight mantels
The worn walls of chapel anew;
The wind in the trees sweetly echoes
Our praises of Orange and Blue.

Whenever thy loyal sons gather
To waken fond memory,
Our thoughts shall be turned, Alma Mater
Old Gettysburg back to thee.
Forever am I thy debtor,
And whatever else I may do,
I'll Love, I'll Defend, and I'll Honor
The Glorious Orange and Blue.

Dr. Samuel Simon Schmucker Secured Charter From State After Considerable Pressure

DR Samuel Simon Schmucker founder of Gettysburg college was one of the few men in the world who was able to carry out his three main ideas in life within a few years after completing his [illegible] work

Doctor Schmucker wrote that when he left Princeton college as a graduate in 1820 "there were three pia desideria which were very dear to my heart for the welfare of our church a translation of some one eminent system of Lutheran Dogmatics, a Theological Seminary and a college for the Lutheran church

Within a few years Doctor Schmucker had translated Storr and Flatt's Biblical Theology founded the Gettysburg Lutheran theological seminary and established Gettysburg college

Secures State Charter

And the founder's reputation as a man who could act quickly was more than borne out the day the college came into existence Gettysburg residents and Lutheran ministers ~~who were the original stockholders~~ in the founding of the college sent Doctor Schmucker to Harrisburg in 1832 to obtain permission from the Legislature for the college

Arriving there he found that it would also be necessary to submit a charter for the new college before the Legislature could act Within a few hours he had contacted officials from various other colleges obtained their charters, borrowed a desk in the capitol and written a charter for the new college

Finding opposition to the new institution, Doctor Schmucker wrote to Lutheran ministers in 20 counties to have them petition the Legislature appeared before the Legislature to argue that since the English speaking peoples of Pennsylvania had a college the German speaking people most of whom were Lutherans should also have one, and between logic and political pressure secured the approval of the Legislature for what is now Gettysburg college

Pennsylvania College at Gettysburg' had been granted a charter April 7 1832 On Wednesday, July 4 of that year, the college actually got underway with a formal opening program Judge Calvin Blythe noted, "It is in the development of the faculties and energies of the human mind that we must look for the still richer fruits of a systematic education A Newton and an African savage are both men but with hardly anything in common . . . The mind, like the earth, is condemned to a thorny barrenness, which can ~~only be rendered productive by a~~ laborious culture A judicious cultivation can rarely fail to be rewarded by a generous harvest"

November 7 1832 marked the actual opening of the college for students There were six professors, two from the seminary, Doctor Schmucker and Professor Hazelius two from the Gettysburg Gymnasium which had been the forerunner of the college and which closed with the opening of the college, the head of the Gettysburg Female Academy Rev J H Marsden, who apparently taught only part time at the college, and a Mr Frederic who taught the preparatory school

Latin Greek, Philosophy Mathematics and Natural Philosophy were the basic subjects with German and Hebrew Mineralogy Botany and Navigation elective Mr Frederic also taught French under private arrangement

While public education and institutions of higher education are today part of the national scene, they found the going much more difficult 120 years ago There was much opposition in Gettysburg from those who felt all money should go to establishing elementary schools, those who felt that colleges led to class distinctions, and those who felt that the world could get along without schools at all, because they cost money, and those who did not express any opinion at all about schools, but were opposed to Gettysburg college because there were Masons among the founders and they were opposed to Masons

Favored Endowment

Thaddeus Stevens, who headed the Anti-Masonic party in Adams county but also was one of those promoting the college found himself in real trouble over his attitude toward the college But he was able to outtalk his opponents within his own party as well as those in the state Legislature who opposed a motion to give a state grant of money toward Gettysburg college.

In 1834 Stevens took the floor of the Legislature to argue for a state endowment for the new college Previously in his arguments with his own Anti-Masonic party over his support of the college Stevens had concluded his talk I may forfeit the approbation of over-heated politicians, but I shall retain my own" In the Legislature he took up the cudgel against a Mr Patterson who argued the money to be given the college could more wisely go toward road repairs

Speaking of Mr Patterson, Stevens stormed He and those who think with him deem it of much more importance that the mud holes in the roads should be filled up, that their horses may go dry-shod to mill, than that the rubbish of ignorance should be cleared away from the intellects of their children"

Warming up to his subject Stevens likened those opposed to the bill to [illegible] aid Gettysburg college to those who would turn these institutions over to the Goths and Vandals burn all our libraries, and like their prototype Jack Cade sentence every man who should be convicted of 'most traitorously corrupting the youth of the realm in erecting a grammar school' to be hanged with his [illegible] and ink horn about his neck. Bring in a bill to improve the breed of hogs, to discover some mode of fattening them with less corn, and these worthy men would be enthusiastic in its favor But attempt to improve the race of men and its costs too much!"

The bill finally passed, granting $18 000 to the college, on January 23, 1834.

First President

With the college fully established with students and $18 000 from the state the officials of the fledgling institution decided it was time to name a president Doctor Schmucker was head of the seminary and teaching at both the seminary and college and had his hands full Thus September of 1834 was marked by the graduation of the first class from the college — a total of three students — and the inauguration of Dr Charles Philip Krauth the oldest — aged 37 — and most experienced member of the faculty as first president of the school

One of the requirements to receive the $18,000 from the estate was for the college to raise $3,000 through its own efforts The school secured enough money by raising subscriptions of $75 and $100 from various interested persons Those who donated $75 had the right to put one pupil through the college course without paying tuition Those who put up $100 could send the youngster through both the preparatory school and college without tuition

At that time the college was located in a building still standing on the southeast side of the intersections of South Washington and West High streets The building had previously housed the Gettysburg gymnasium, which had become part of the college and other schools The library was in a room rented from one of the professors who lived nearby.

With money in the bank and ambition to build, the board had to decide where to erect the college Some held for expansion on the Washington and High streets site, some held for the hill now known as Cemetery hill on the ground just east of what is now the National cemetery here Some held for the land where the Women's division is now, and other favored Thaddeus Stevens cow pasture — which Stevens had offered the school After many meetings Stevens' pasture was chosen and he was offered $88 per acre for the land The college bought six and a half acres

Deciding to spend $12,000 for a building the board engaged an architect who proposed the plans for what is now called Old Dorm The board let contracts, and then found themselves in a dilemma, they couldn't build it for $12,000

By leaving unfinished the fourth floor and east wing, the college was able to have the building erected in 1836 for $18 500 A high price then but now with 120 years' use, the building was a bargain The sections left unfinished in the first construction were completed for $2,300 in 1838.

President Krauth lived in a building on the northeast corner of Baltimore and High streets provided by the college, from the time he became president until his resignation in 1850 His residency there was for a very good reason The building also housed the students and it was felt that some responsible person should be with the students President Krauth was the only member of the faculty who would accept the responsibility

In 1844 the college—or rather its students—undertook additional construction work The students got the materials together and started construction of Linnaean hall, which was to be the science building of the college It was completed finally with some aid from the college, but most of the work was done by the students themselves It remained the science building until 1890 when it was converted into a gymnasium

Despite a tuition rate of $24 at the beginning, up to $34 per year by 1850, the number of students at the college was not large By the time Doctor Krauth resigned, in 1850 there were 164 alumni, distributed through 16 classes

Gettysburg college at one time had a medical department—located in Philadelphia. The school came into existence in 1839 and closed in 1861 It came about because the school founded by Dr George McClellan, father of General McClellan of Civil war fame, had some faculty disagreements with Jefferson college, with which it was affiliated as Jefferson Medical school Doctor McClellan with some others, organized another school and then applied to Gettysburg college to become its medical school The school functioned successfully until the beginning of the Civil war took away its southern students and mounting costs made it prohibitive to continue

Damage From War

The Civil War not only caused the closing of the medical school, but it also caused much damage to the main college itself Students declined in numbers, income decreased, and the salaries of the professors had to be raised from $100 to $200 per year because of the tremendous increase in living costs

Then came the battle of Gettysburg The college was used as a hospital Damage was severe and the government paid the college only $625 as recompence for use of its buildings

While the problems of the college were uppermost in the minds of faculty and trustees, the problems of the students were many and unusual during earlier years of the college There was the problem of wood for example There was no coal to be had and each student had to supply his own wood This led to complaints that, amazingly, the woodpiles of the industrious students who cut much wood disappeared rapidly while the piles of wood of the less industrious remained about the same small size throughout the year

Woodhouse And Lamps

As a result of this, in 1855 the steward of the college was ordered to erect a woodhouse and purchase sufficient wood for all students

During the Civil war, when news came of the approach of the Confederates, students at the college organized into a company, which saw service June 30, 1863, and held up the advance of the Confederates by a day It then fell back to Harrisburg and remained there for the remainder of the battle.

Payne Is Hanged

During the battle of July 1 2 3 1863 and for four weeks afterward the college buildings were used as a hospital Hundreds of wounded men were treated Among them was Lewis Thornton Powell of the Confederates, who was wounded July 3 1863, and cared for at the college until his recovery, when he was sent to Baltimore prison. He escaped, fought again as a Confederate soldier and later under the name of Lewis Payne entered into the conspiracy with John Wilkes Booth to kill President Lincoln Powell-Payne assaulted Secretary Seward while Booth killed the president. Payne was hanged for his part in the conspiracy

Those in the college in 1863 not only saw the coming of the Confederates and the battle, but they also saw and heard President Lincoln deliver his Gettysburg Address They complained at first of being at the "tail-end" of the procession, but learned later that Lincoln and his party were beside them for 20 minutes before the parade started, and when they reached the cemetery the first was made last — the students were marched through parted columns directly to the spot in front of the speaker Dr P M Bikle then a student, who later became dean of the college, wrote of Lincoln's delivering the address 'On coming away I said to a classmate 'Well Mr Lincoln's speech was simple appropriate and right to the point, but I don't think there was anything remarkable about it That was the opinion of a wise sophomore

When the Confederates headed north and burned Chambersburg practically all students fled Only two members of the graduating class stood their ground and were given their diplomas with appropriate ceremony A baccalaureate sermon was given and both made speeches "to a very small crowd"

The earth's axis continually points in the same direction

CHOIR, PAPER, BAND POPULAR AT GETTYSBURG

Intimately connected with the college are the "activities" which, while not a part of the formal curriculum, add much to the pleasure and education of the students

Among them are the college choir, one of the most popular organizations on the campus and one of the best known college choirs throughout this section of the country Each year the choir, of approximately 50, tours the eastern states for a two-week period

Directed by Parker B Wagnild, the choir starts its life anew each fall with tryouts during the first week of school Those selected for the choir rehearse four times a week for one hour each time as a full choir In addition each section of the choir rehearses as an individual group one hour each week Besides the annual tour, the choir also travels frequently to nearby churches for week-end or one-night engagements

Weekly Newspaper

Well known and popular as well is "The Gettysburgian," the college's weekly newspaper which has developed many journalists and given many others training in writing and newspaper work Dr George S Warthen and Mrs Kressman Taylor are advisors for the editorial department and Prof George R. Larkin advises the business staff Tryouts for the various posts are usually given during the first few days of school and those accepted receive special training in the departments of their choice The newspaper, which has won many awards for journalistic and typographical excellence, was founded in 1897

The band provides excellent music at many college and town affairs. Under direction of Paul Harner, the college band performs at each home football game, at most of the away games and also plays at a number of college affairs, as well as presenting a full concert each year

College Debaters

Gettysburg college's debating team, made up both of men and women, has won enviable records in the past The teams make many trips during the year and participate in many debates. An organization meeting is held each fall in the form of a debate smoker

"The Spectrum" is the year-book of the college The members of the out-going staff select seniors-to-be for the four top positions. The rest of the staff is chosen from the other three classes Another publishing venture of the school is the G-Book " published by the Student Christian Association and which has been printed for the past 50 years The "G-Book" is published annually for one purpose—to acquaint the incoming students with college life Also in the publishing field is the "Mercury," the student literary magazine It is distributed four times a year and publishes stories, poetry cartoons and articles by student writers

Radio Station

Radio Station WWGC, owned by the college, provides students an opportunity to be announcers, engineers, actors, writers, as well as filling all the other positions on a radio station.

In addition to the college choir there are also two other singing groups on the campus, the Coed Choraliers a chorus of 35 girls, under the direction of Miss Ruth Luebbe and The Minnesingers, a male chorus, student-run and student-directed, under the supervision of Mr Wagnild

NINE SCHOOLS TEST SHORT CUT TO COLLEGE

Nine U S. colleges will launch an unusual "short-cut to college" experiment this fall, admitting high school sophomores and juniors to their freshman classes.

Lafayette, at Easton, has been chosen one of the colleges to conduct the experiment The purpose is to determine whether education can be shortened, to give young men two years of college before they are called to military service, or permit them to begin life work at an earlier age.

Financed By Ford

The Ford Foundation for the Advancement of Education is financing the nationwide experiment and providing scholarship aid Lafayette will admit 50 students all of whom must be under 16 ½ years of age, and have stood high in either their sophomore or junior class in high school the past year

They will be infiltrated into the regular freshman class and take the same courses as the high school graduates The applicants number considerably more than 50 and will have to be screened down to this quota, it has been announced by John M Coleman, admissions officer at Lafayette

It is not their age so much as it is their short-cutting of the traditional high school diploma that is exceptional, Coleman noted. If they are not called for military service these "short-cuts" may compete the remaining two years and qualify for the bachelor's degree

Affected By Service

The basic assumption of the experiment is that the quality of national life and the personal resources and competence of young men is impaired if college education is wholly postponed until after military service

Columbia, Chicago, Yale and Wisconsin universities will conduct the program along similar lines The others selected are Goucher, at Baltimore, as a women's college; Oberlion, Ohio, to represent the co-ed colleges; the University of Louisville Ky., as a city college, and the University of Utah

The Case of the Thrifty Co-ed!

AN ASTOUNDING ~~REVELATION~~
IN THREE ACTS!

SCENE:
IN THE CLASSROOM . . . As our curtain goes up, we find "our heroine" bedecking the classroom in a lovely brown tweed corduroy outfit, which confidentially is the rage of the campus! The skirt is flared and is topped off with a matching weskit! This combo can be worn in various ways . . . skirt-and-sweater, skirt-and-blouse, skirt-and-jersey; and the weskit is "the finishing touch" when worn with her other solid-color skirts, flared or pencil slim! This is quite a "boost" to any co-ed's wardrobe!

Act II

SCENE:
ON THE CAMPUS . . . Our scene now shifts, and we find "Betty Co-ed" sauntering off to the football field, looking both "warm and fetching" in a lovely 2-tone all wool checked coat! It looks as wonderful in the city as in the football stands! Its versatility wins many an admiring glance. What's more . . . it's "easy on the eyes" and "easy on the budget" as well!

Act III

SCENE:
AT THE PROM . . . Tonight is the "night of all nights" for our "lovely co-ed" . . . "the climax!" She comes forth on the arm of a very handsome and very admiring escort . . . and is enveloped in a mist of sheer beauty. She has chosen a "frothy-as-spun sugar" gown of pale blue mousseline with a lampshade over-skirt and stole sleeves, in the very popular ballerina length.

A MYSTERY???
Lovely Clothes — A Typical Co-Ed . . .
AND
The Ever-Present Budget! Yes,
A MYSTERY!!!!

SYNOPSIS
To balance the budget and build up the wardrobe is quite an ordeal . . . a "case" indeed! BUT our "thrifty co-ed" has "smashed the case wide open" and solved the mystery!
To conquer the budget problem, our "thrifty co-ed" looks for

Affected By Service

The basic assumption of the experiment is that the quality of national life and the personal resources and competence of young men is impaired if college education is wholly postponed until after military service.

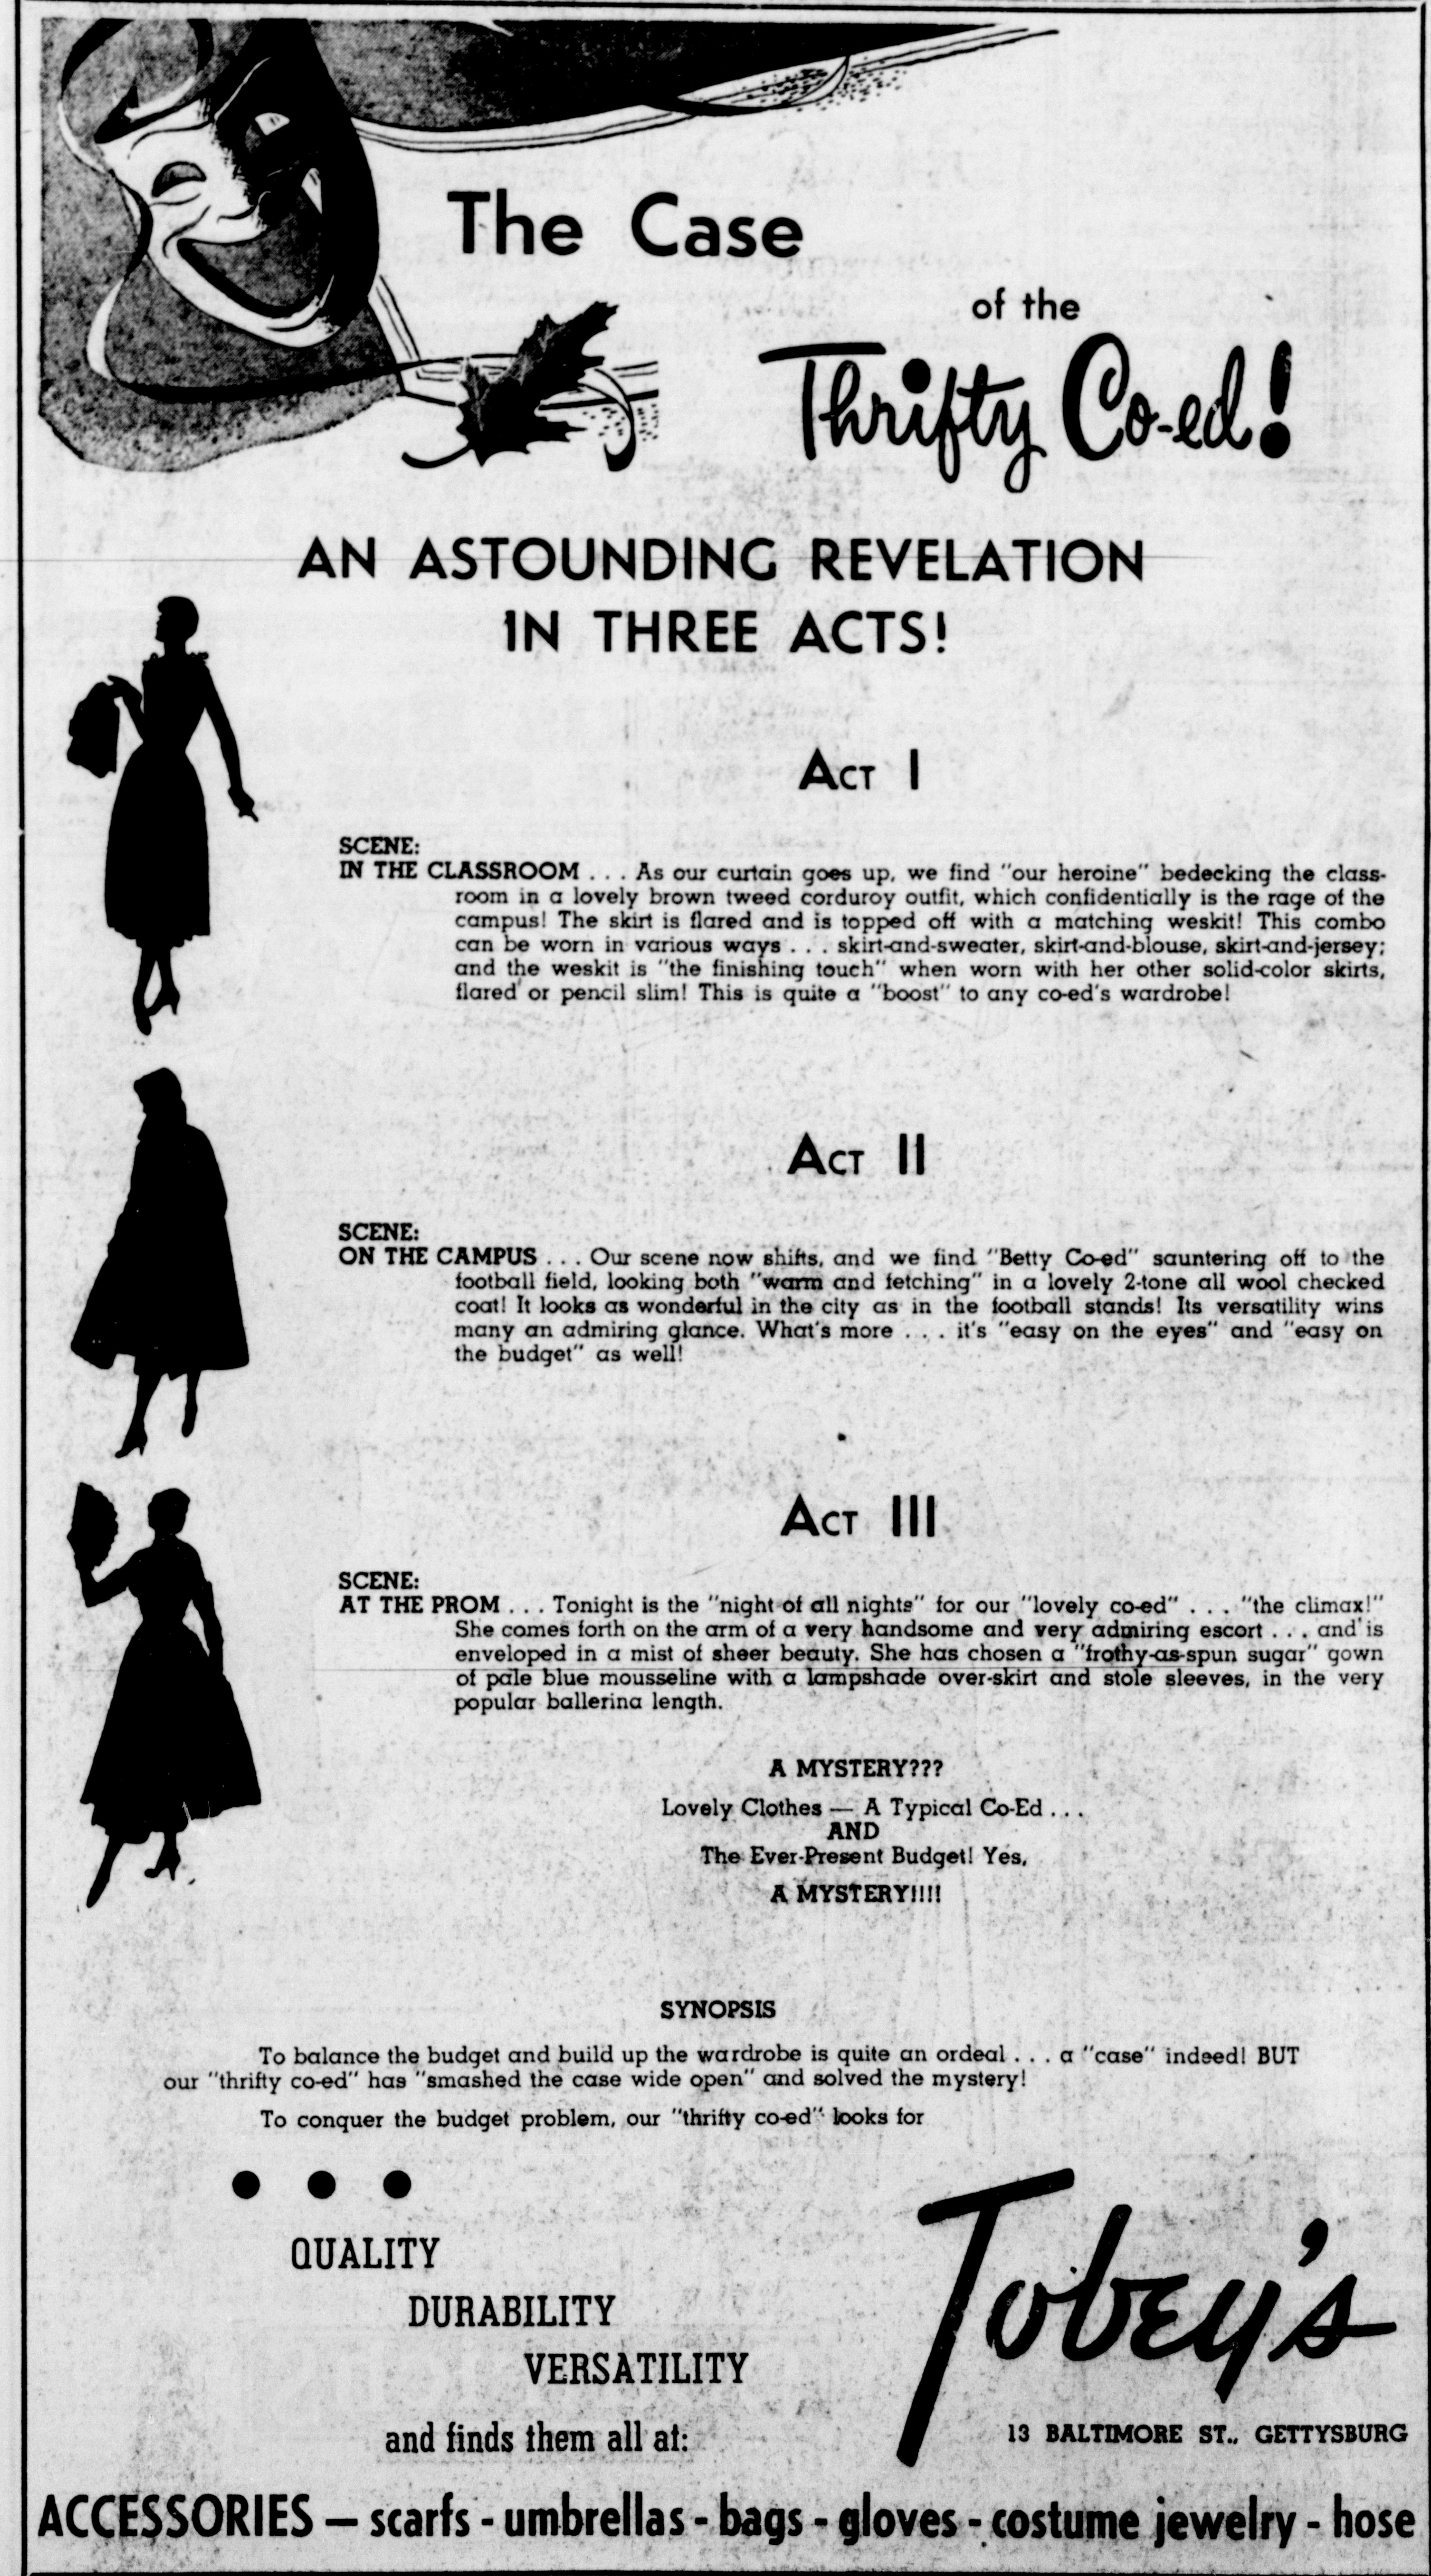
Columbia, Chicago, Yale and Wisconsin universities will conduct the program along similar lines. The others selected are Goucher, at Baltimore, as a women's college; Oberlion, Ohio, to represent the co-ed colleges; the University of Louisville, Ky., as a city college, and the University of Utah.

The first elevated transport line, built in New York in 1867, went broke.

The Sphinx in Egypt was carved years before Christ.

One Copenhagen restaurant has a sandwich menu three feet long.

The last quagga, an animal something like a zebra, died in the London zoo in 1872.



The Case of the Thrifty Co-ed!

AN ASTOUNDING REVELATION IN THREE ACTS!

SCENE:
IN THE CLASSROOM . . . As our curtain goes up, we find "our heroine" bedecking the classroom in a lovely brown tweed corduroy outfit, which confidentially is the rage of the campus! The skirt is flared and is topped off with a matching weskit! This combo can be worn in various ways . . . skirt-and-sweater, skirt-and-blouse, skirt-and-jersey; and the weskit is "the finishing touch" when worn with her other solid-color skirts, flared or pencil slim! This is quite a "boost" to any co-ed's wardrobe!

Act II

SCENE:
ON THE CAMPUS . . . Our scene now shifts, and we find "Betty Co-ed" sauntering off to the football field, looking both "warm and fetching" in a lovely 2-tone all wool checked coat! It looks as wonderful in the city as in the football stands! Its versatility wins many an admiring glance. What's more . . . it's "easy on the eyes" and "easy on the budget" as well!

Act III

SCENE:
AT THE PROM . . . Tonight is the "night of all nights" for our "lovely co-ed" . . . "the climax!" She comes forth on the arm of a very handsome and very admiring escort . . . and is enveloped in a mist of sheer beauty. She has chosen a "frothy-as-spun sugar" gown of pale blue mousseline with a lampshade over-skirt and stole sleeves, in the very popular ballerina length.

A MYSTERY???
Lovely Clothes — A Typical Co-Ed . . .
AND
The Ever-Present Budget! Yes,
A MYSTERY!!!!

SYNOPSIS

To balance the budget and build up the wardrobe is quite an ordeal . . . a "case" indeed! BUT our "thrifty co-ed" has "smashed the case wide open" and solved the mystery!

"ON THE SQUARE"

Greetings, Students:

As this college year commences, we wish to extend a very hearty welcome to each and every collegian. May your stay in Gettysburg be a happy, pleasant one, and may FABER'S be a part of the happiness you enjoy during your years at Gettysburg College.

Faber's Luncheonette and Soda Fountain are widely acclaimed by our many patrons, and our location in the northeast corner of Lincoln Square has become a popular meeting place for college men and women.

YOU are cordially invited to Faber's "collegiate corner." Meet your friends in our luncheonette, and . . . above all . . . enjoy our snacks, home-cooked lunches and meals.

Sincerely yours,

Fred S. Faber

Campus Groups Offer Students Opportunities For Developing Interests Beyond Classrooms

Gettysburg college students will find campus organizations devoted to a wide variety of interests and activities.

More than 30 campus groups are open to students in the various departments offering a social contact for students with mutual interests and an opportunity to further their information about any subject beyond the classroom work. Other groups on the list are open to students who attain certain high levels of achievement scholastically or in campus activities and membership in them is considered a signal honor.

Heading the list is Phi Beta Kappa. Not more than 10 percent of the graduating class are elected to its rolls and membership in that society is considered one of the greatest scholastic honors a student can attain on the campus. It is the oldest of American Greek letter fraternities. Eligibility is on the basis of scholarship, campus leadership and promise of future creative work.

Scholastic Military Groups

Outstanding members of the faculty and student body are recognized by membership in the Gettysburg Honor society. Undergraduate students who have accumulated 20 activity points and have maintained a general scholastic average of at least a B up to and including the first semester of the senior year are eligible. Members of the faculty who have served the college for 10 years automatically become members.

A mark of distinction in the military service on the campus is membership in the Scabbard and Blade. The local chapter, E company, 3rd regiment, of Scabbard and Blade became active in 1922. The national military society is composed of students in the advanced course of ROTC. The group seeks to stimulate a desire for distinction in military service and to prepare students for service in the Reserve Officers Corps, United States Army.

Phi Alpha Theta is a national honorary fraternity for students who are majoring in history and stand high academically in that field. Qualified speakers lecture at the quarterly meetings.

Departmental Frats

Twelve hours of German and a scholastic B average are requirements for membership in Delta Phi Alpha, national honorary German fraternity. Guests speakers lecture on German literature and culture at the monthly meetings.

In 1949, Gettysburg college's chapter of the national honorary physics fraternity, Sigma Phi Sigma, was installed. Reserved for physics majors; it awards distinction to students of high scholastic standing and promise in the field of physics. The organization also seeks to promote student interest in research and advanced study in physics.

Psi Chi, the national honorary fraternity for students who are proficient in psychology, was an outgrowth of a Psychology club which was organized to stimulate further interest in psychology.

Two For Teachers-To-Be

An annual assignment for the members of Kappa Delta Epsilon is the co-sponsoring of both Father's and Mother's Day programs. The group was organized to promote professional interests and for the study of educational problems. It is the national education sorority.

For undergraduate men students who are preparing for the teaching profession, there is membership in the Kappa Phi Kappa, a national fraternity.

Tau Kappa Alpha, the national forensic fraternity, aims to encourage high scholarship and achievement in oratory and debate. Its membership is confined to students who have participated in intercollegiate debate activities.

Pi Lambda Sigma Popular

A national honorary undergraduate fraternity for students in the classics is Eta Sigma Phi. Programs are held throughout the year when prominent guest speakers discuss the classics.

One of the largest scholastic fraternities on the campus is Pi Lambda Sigma, a society for majors in political science or economics who have maintained a C average.

All students taking advanced philosophy courses as well as majors in that field may join Alpha Kappa Alpha, national philosophy society. Monthly meetings are held to hear speakers or papers recently written by fellow students.

Scientific Groups

High scholastic standing in the field of biology makes majors in that subject eligible for membership in Beta Beta Beta, national honorary fraternity. The organization has an announced three-fold purpose: To stimulate sound scholarship, disseminate scientific knowledge and to promote biological research.

For more than two decades an active group on the campus has been the Sceptical Chymists. It is composed of chemistry majors who desire to broaden their knowledge beyond the class room field. Members are required to deliver two speeches, one upon admission into the society and the other during the senior year.

The national honorary journalism fraternity, Pi Delta Epsilon, is for students who have shown superior ability and outstanding interest in journalism and have served at least one year on a campus publication staff.

Place For Independents

Students who have achieved a B average in any one of the Romance languages above the basic course may be voted into the national honorary society for students of Romance languages, Phi Sigma Iota. Senior members must write and deliver a thesis on an author or literary movement.

One of the newer student groups, organized only in 1950, is Alpha Phi

Omega, a national scout service fraternity, devoted to the maintenance of good services to the campus and community. Anyone who is or ever has been a scout or connected in any way with the Boy Scout movement is eligible if he maintains a C average.

Men who are not members of any of the social fraternities on the campus may join the Independent Men's organization. The group affords all non-fraternity men an opportunity for organized social and athletic activity. The independent student also achieves campus representation through this group.

Officers Organize

A similar organization for non-sorority women students is the Independent Women's organization. It gives girls not members of any of the social sororities an opportunity to take part in athletic and social activities.

Twice a month during the college year, the Gavel club meets. It is made up of the president and vice president of each fraternity on on the campus. Fraternity problems are generally up for discussion.

Another organization that includes representatives of all the fraternities is the Interfraternity Council. It acts as the coordinating body for all fraternity affairs and activities. This group sponsors the interfraternity dances, supervises intramural sports, establishes rules for rushing and conducts a general designed to promote harmonious relations among the Greek letter men's groups.

There's A Booster Club

The Panhellenic Council is composed of a senior and a junior from each of the national sororities. The council, functioning as a governing body, regulates intersorority relations and strives to foster harmony between sorority and independent women.

The Booster club exists, as its name suggests, for boosting school spirit. It seeks to increase the students 'interest in his school through the use of new cheers, organized rallies, new team uniforms and other means. It is made up of representatives of all interested organizations.

Le Cercle Francais, the French society, has been active for many years. It is composed of students enrolled in a French course and who wish to further their knowledge of France, her people, their language and customs.

GETTYSBURG SEMINARY

DR. HARRY F. BAUGHMAN

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

AS THE Seminary opens its 126th year the administration and faculty appraise thier task. They see in one of the windows in the Church of the Abiding Presence one striking statement of the ultimate purpose of Seminary training. From Elisha's conflict with the priests of Baal, epitome of the everlasting conflict with the forces of darkness, comes this word of his prayer: "That this people may know that Thou art God." That is a statement of what the Church in any day faces.

The external changes that come in the life of a society may change some conditions, but they do not alter the deepest need of life. The need is still, "That this people may know that Thou art God." The Church today is challenged by many forces and philosophies. Its mission in a day of secularism and spiritual forgetfulness is to make God known as the actual living ruler in the lives of men and the total life of society. Confusion, chaos, lower moral standards and deep fear are pronounced in life today. The Church has as its special mission to bring to this world the true knowledge of God and His Son so that His will shall govern all relationships.

Another great statement of the Seminary's purpose is in St. Paul's letter to Timothy which in Dr. Goodspeed's translation reads: "That the man of God may be adequate."

The Seminary has as its chief purpose the development of men who shall be known not only by their speech but by their character and activity as men of God. It aims to send into the life stream of society men whose whole ministry shall reflect the chief impulse of their spirits so that wherever they go God is represented. And these men of God are to be adequate, equipped to deal effectively and constructively with the problems created by the changing, complex life of the world today.

To the end that this may be accomplished the resources of the Seminary are applied. Its curriculum is planned to give a wise balance between the theoretical and the practical disciplines. It aims to train first the mind and spirit and then the hands and feet of its men. These ideals are the animating spirit in the life of the Seminary as it faces its new year of work.

First Lutheran Theological Seminary Is Founded In Gettysburg In 1826

134 Students Are Enrolled For 126th Year Of School; Will Install New President

THE Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary, founded in 1826, and the first purely theological institution of the Lutheran church in America, opened its 126th year on September 5 with 134 students enrolled. Thirty-seven new students began their seminary courses, 15 less than the number enrolled last year. Eleven of the 37 new students are married.

"Orientation Day" was held at the seminary on September 4, and a faculty reception for the students took place September 6.

Highlight of the seminary year will be the inauguration, on October 4, of a new president. The Rev. Dr. Harry F. Baughman will replace Dr. Abdel Ross Wentz in this position. He will become the seminary's eighth president.

To Honor Leaders

A service at 10:30 o'clock that morning will include the inaugural address and induction of Dr. Baughman. A luncheon for visiting representatives of church organizations, educational agencies and academic institutions, along with alumni, students and friends, will follow. The two-day program will open with a testimonial dinner Wednesday evening, October 3, for Dr. Wentz, the retiring president.

Dr. Baughman's service to the seminary began in 1940, when he became the Rev. John and Suzanna C. Ulrich professor of the art of preaching. He graduated at the seminary in 1913, after graduating from Gettysburg college in 1910. His doctor of divinity degree was awarded by the college in 1931.

The president-elect was ordained by the West Virginia synod in 1913 and his first pastorate was in Keyser, W. Va., where he served until 1918. His later pastorates were at Pittsburgh, 1918-1925, and Germantown, 1925-1940.

Well Known Author

He was secretary of the West Virginia synod for two years and its president during 1917 and 1918. Other services to the church include membership on the Church Papers committee and the board of publication of the United Lutheran church. At present he is a member of its deaconess board, of which he was president, 1946-1950.

As an author, Dr. Baughman has published two volumes, "Jeremiah for Today" and "Preaching from the Propers," the Knubel-Miller lectures for 1949. Other publications include commentaries on Jonah and the Philippians and a guide to an elective church school course on "Minor Prophets and Modern Problems."

Few Faculty Changes

The seminary faculty shows few changes for the new year otherwise, except for the return of Dr. Raymond T. Stamm to teaching, after a year's absence because of illness. There is one newcomer, however, Rev. Reginald W. Deitz. He came here after serving as pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, in Columbia, and was director of the Lutheran Leadership Training camp at Nawakwa. He is a native of New York state, born at Middleburg in 1914. After completing his high school work in Johnstown, N. Y., he went to Hartwick college, where he received his A.B. in 1935. Then he spent two years at Hartwick seminary in Brooklyn. He transferred to the seminary here and received his B.D. in 1938.

For several months following his graduation he was assistant to Dr. Carl Rasmussen at Luther Place Memorial church in Washington. Then he was recalled to the seminary as the resident instructor of the Cronhardt foundation. He obtained his S.M.T. degree in 1940. He was later pastor of Christ Lutheran church at Airmont, N. Y.; in 1942 he joined the editorial staff of the Parish and Church School board and for the next six years was engaged in literary activity. He became pastor of the Columbia church two years ago.

Erect New Dorm

Progress at the secinary is reflected in the construction of another new building. The incoming president, retiring president and president of the board of directors conducted the ground-breaking service for a new dormitory on West Confederate avenue at the juncture with

TIME-PROVED POWERGlide AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION

CHEVROLET

See how different driving can be . . . how easy, smooth and enjoyable . . . and you'll never want to drive any other way

If you haven't taken your "Discovery Drive" in a new Powerglide Chevrolet, we envy you the thrill you have in store.

Here's how Powerglide works. Just set the lever to "drive," touch the accelerator—and you're off! No clutch pedal. No gearshifting. And what power! What satin-smooth pick-up as you thread your way through traffic! No wonder it's the sensation of the low-price field!

What's more, Powerglide automatic transmission has proved dependability and owner satisfaction—proved by more than 500,000 owners in over a billion miles of driving.

But, only Chevrolet can offer you the thrills of Powerglide. So come in and see us soon for your "Discovery Drive." Get set for the smoothest, easiest, most enjoyable way yet found to drive an automobile. And, remember, no-shift driving is yours at lowest cost in Chevrolet!

Take Your "DISCOVERY DRIVE"

More people buy Chevrolets than any other car!

Combination of Powerglide Automatic Transmission and 105-h.p. Valve-in-Head Engine optional on De Luxe models at extra cost.*

POWER Glide Automatic Transmission*
Gives you simplest, smoothest, safest no-shift driving at lowest cost. No clutch pedal—no gearshifting—not even a hint of gear changes in forward driving!

Extra-Powerful 105-h.p. Valve-in-Head Engine
Powerglide is coupled with the most powerful engine in the low-price field—Chevrolet's extra-efficient 105-h.p. Valve-in-Head Engine—the trend leader for the industry.

EconoMiser Rear Axle
Rear wheels travel farther at each engine revolution . . . fewer engine revolutions and less gas at highway speeds. Result: traditional Chevrolet economy in over-all driving.

Oil Does It All!
Oil replaces gears in the Powerglide Transmission. No direct mechanical connection between engine and rear axle. You have an infinite number of drive ratios.

the Fairfield road on June 29 Dr Wentz turned the first spadeful of earth, using the spade which had broken ground for the Church of the Abiding Presence in August, 1940 Work on the building is progressing and it is expected to be completed by next summer It will contain 13 apartments for married seminarians on the first two floors and 18 double rooms for 36 unmarried seminarians on the third floor

Nearly two centuries had passed since the first Lutherans came to America, when the seminary was founded Previous efforts to make adequate provision for a native ministry had failed The spirit of aggressiveness and self-reliance that had begun to characterize the Lutheran church during the first quarter of the 19th century furnished the necessary background for the establishment of a theological institution

Organized Synod In 1820

The general synod was organized in 1820, and at its first meeting took measures to establish a theological seminary Individual synods had tried to found institutions for the training of Lutheran ministers but they had failed The general body selected a board of directors, elected a professor, and prepared to solicit funds from the entire Lutheran church, at home and abroad.

Gettysburg was chosen as the home of the institution not only because it made the largest financial offer but also because it was most centrally located for the synods then in the general synod and because it was readily accessible from all directions, being the center of several important stage routes

Opens Sept. 5, 1826

The school was opened for students on September 5, 1826, and Rev S S Schmucker was inaugurated as the professor in charge It was incorporated in 1827 Five years later the institution removed from its modest quarters in the town to its present commanding position on the heights west of the borough

Dr Schmucker continued to be the head of the seminary for 38 years During this time nearly all American Lutheran ministers received their training at Gettysburg

During the battle of Gettysburg in 1863 the seminary buildings and grounds played an important part On the crest of the ridge to which the seminary gives its name the Confederate forces stretched their principal battle line The main building, with its view over the surrounding valleys, was used first as an observatory by Union officers, then as a signal station by the Confederates, and finally, with other seminary buildings, as a hospital for the wounded of both northern and southern armies

42-Acre Campus

The seminary owns 42 acres of land through which one of the battlefield avenues, built by the U S government, runs, forming the main approach to the seminary buildings The campus has many venerable oaks and pines, wide expanses of lawn and 15 buildings The most conspicuous among the latter is the chapel, the "Church of the Abiding Presence" which crowns the crest of "the hill" and whose white spire attracts the eye from many miles away Other seminary buildings include the Fairfield road on June 29. Dr. Wentz turned the first spadeful of earth, using the spade which had broken ground for the Church of the Abiding Presence in August, 1940. Work on the building is progressing, and it is expected to be completed by next summer. It will contain 18 apartments for married seminarians on the first two floors and 18 double rooms for 36 unmarried seminarians on the third floor.

Nearly two centuries had passed since the first Lutherans came to America, when the seminary was founded. Previous efforts to make adequate provision for a native ministry had failed. The spirit of aggressiveness and self-reliance that had begun to characterize the Lutheran church during the first quarter of the 19th century furnished the necessary background for the establishment of a theological institution.

Organized Synod In 1820

The general synod was organized in 1820, and at its first meeting took measures to establish a theological seminary. Individual synods had tried to found institutions for the training of Lutheran ministers, but they had failed. The general body selected a board of directors, elected a professor, and prepared to solicit funds from the entire Lutheran church, at home and abroad.

Gettysburg was chosen as the home of the institution not only because it made the largest financial offer but also because it was most centrally located for the synods then in the general synod and because it was readily accessible from all directions, being the center of several important stage routes.

Opens Sept. 5, 1826

The school was opened for students on September 5, 1826, and Rev. S. S. Schmucker was inaugurated as the professor in charge. It was incorporated in 1827. Five years later the institution removed from its modest quarters in the town to its present commanding position on the heights west of the borough.

Among his duties are those of arranging schedules for all the athletic teams, handling the sale of tickets to all home contests, representing the college on various boards and panels and supervising all duties in connection with athletic events here.

When Bream became head coach in 1927, he needed a capable trainer to care for his athletes. Lawson Robertson, with whom Capozzi had been associated at the University of Pennsylvania and later at the Municipal Stadium, building a track for the Philadelphia Sesqui-centennial in 1926, recommended Capozzi.

During the war years when intercollegiate athletic activity at Gettysburg consisted of a 12-game basketball schedule, all three remained, with the exception of one year when Capozzi joined the Pullman company of Chicago in the redeployment of troops.

134 Students Are Enrolled For 126th Year Of School; Will Install New President

THE Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary, founded in 1826 and the first purely theological institution of the Lutheran church in America, opened its 126th year on September 5 with 134 students enrolled. Thirty-seven new students began their seminary courses. [illegible] than the number enrolled last year. Eleven of the 37 new students are married.

"Orientation Day" was held at the seminary on September 4 and a faculty reception for the students took place September 6.

Highlight of the seminary year will be the inauguration on October 4 of a new president. The Rev. Dr. Harry F. Baughman will replace Dr. Abdel Ross Wentz in this position. He will become the seminary's eighth president.

To Honor Leaders

A service at 10:30 o'clock that morning will include the inaugural address and induction of Dr. Baughman. A luncheon for visiting representatives of church organizations, educational agencies and academic institutions, along with alumni, students and friends, will follow. The [illegible] program will open with a testimonial dinner Wednesday evening, October 3, for Dr. Wentz, the retiring president.

Dr. Baughman's service to the seminary began in 1940 when he became the Rev. John and Susannah C. Ulrich professor of the art of preaching. He graduated from the seminary in 1913, after graduating from Gettysburg college in 1910. His doctor of divinity degree was awarded by the college in 1931.

The president-elect was ordained by the West Virginia synod in 1913 and his first pastorate was in Keyser, W. Va., where he served until 1918. His later pastorates were at Pittsburgh, 1918-1925, and Germantown, 1925-1940.

Well Known Author

He was secretary of the West Virginia synod for two years and its president during 1917 and 1918. Other services to the church include membership on the Church Papers [illegible] and the board of publication of the United Lutheran church. At present he is a member of its [illegible] of which he was [illegible].

[illegible] Dr. Baughman has published [illegible] "Jeremiah [illegible]" and "Preaching from the [illegible]," the Knubel-Miller lectures for 1949. Other publications include commentaries on Jonah and the Philippians and a guide to an [illegible] church school course on "Minor Prophets and Modern Problems."

Few Faculty Changes

The seminary faculty shows few changes for the new year otherwise, except for the return of Dr. Raymond T. Stamm to teaching after a year's absence because of illness. There is one new man, however, Rev. [illegible] W. [illegible]. He came here after serving as pastor of St. [illegible] Lutheran church in Columbia and was director of the Lutheran Leadership Training camp at [illegible]. He is a native of New York state, born at Middleburg in 1914. After completing his high school [illegible] N. Y., he went to Hartwick college, where he received his A.B. in 1935. Then he spent two years at Hartwick seminary in Brooklyn. He transferred to the seminary here and received his B.D. in 1939.

For several months following his graduation he was assistant to Dr. Carl Rasmussen at Luther Place Memorial church in Washington. Then he was recalled to the seminary as the resident instructor of the Cronhardt foundation. He obtained his S.M.T. degree in 1940. He was later pastor of Christ Lutheran church at Armont, N. Y.; in 1942 he joined the editorial staff of the Parish and Church School board and for the next six years was engaged in literary activity. He became pastor of the Columbia church two years ago.

Erect New Dorm

Progress at the seminary is reflected in the construction of [illegible] other new building. [illegible] president, [illegible] president of the board of directors [illegible] ground-breaking service [illegible] in West Con- [illegible] the picture with [illegible]

tains a large reading room, a periodical room, music room and several rooms for seminars and individual research.

The professors' residences, eight in number, are commodious, well-arranged houses. The West house is a two-apartment house for the use of instructors and married students. The refectory has a spacious dining room and is conducted on the co-operative plan. The boiler room is well-equipped for heating needs of the seminary.

The seminary's most valuable material possession is its libraries. They include 59,291 volumes. There are more than 11,000 in the Zimmerman collection alone. The Lutheran Historical society has its depository in the seminary library. tI is a valuable collection of manuscripts and 8,328 volumes, the most complete collection of Lutheran historical literature in America.

The faculty at the present time includes the following: Dr. A. R. Wentz, Maryland synod professor of Christian history and William Lincoln Glatfelter, professor of church history; Dr. Melanchthon Coover, professor emeritus of New Testament language, literature and theology; Dr. Herbert C. Alleman, professor emeritus of Hebrew and Old Testament literature and theology; Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, Elizabeth Graff professor of practical theology; Dr. Raymond T. Stamm, Philip H. and Amanda E. Glatfelter professor of New Testament language, literature and theology; Dr. Ralph D. Heim, East Pennsylvania synod professor of religious education and English Bible; Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen, Henry Singmaster professor of systematic theology.

Others On Faculty

Dr. Harry F. Baughman, president-elect, and Rev. John and Susannah Ulrich professor of the art of preaching; Dr. Jacob M. Myers, West Pennsylvania synod professor of Hebrew and Old Testament literature and theology; Dr. Bertha Paulssen, professor of Christian sociology and psychology; Herbert H. Schmidt, librarian; Dr. Jacob W. Heikkinen, instructor in New Testament; Reginald W. Deitz, instructor in church history, and Robert S. Clippinger, organist and instructor in church music.

Dr. Wentz is chairman of the faculty; Dr. Heim, registrar; Dr. Baughman, director of field work; Dr. Rassmussen, director of graduate studies and secretary of the faculty; Mrs. John C. Allen, Jr., office secretary.

The seminiary chorus has been in existence for 11 years and has come to occupy an important place in the life and activity of the seminary. It makes at least one tour each year.

Erect New Buildings

A general improvement of campus facilities was begun in 1940. Two new hones for professors were erected in that year; two years later the chapel was dedicated; the eastern boundary of the campus was straightened and improved with a borough street; the second and third floors of the administration building were remodeled. A commodius social room and kitchen and an additional rest room have been provided on the first floor of the administration building. In 1947 the Luther monument was erected. The library was dedicated in 1948. This brings the total assets of the institution to more than $2,000,000. About one-half is productive endowment. To these assets and improvements will be added next summer the new dormitory building.

Bullet Gridders Meet Bisons At Hershey Saturday Night; 10 Frosh Bolster 18 Lettermen

A group of 18 lettermen plus 10 promising freshmen will carry the hopes of the Gettysburg college football team this season which opens a tough nine-game schedule Saturday evening at 8 30 o'clock at Hershey when the powerful Bucknell outfit will be met

Improvement is expected to be seen in the line play where the Bullets will have more weight and depth but the backfield poses a problem due to a lack of experienced ball toters

This week the Bullets will complete a month of pre-game drills and Coaches Henry T Bream, who is starting his 25th season as Bullet coach, Johnny Yovicsin and Jack Shainline have high hopes of a vastly improved team over last year's aggregation Jim Lentz, steller guard last season is also assisting in the coaching this year

Strength At Wings

The end positions appear to be well fortified this season with Gene Coder, Dick Thomas and Bill Vignola all letterman, again on hand Danny Ebbert, former Biglerville high star, who just missed earning a letter a year ago, will also be available To this group are added Walt Hemberger, Ronald Jacobi and George Pence, all sophomores

There are four lettermen for tackles despite the loss of Joe Kassouf, 260-pounder, who entered the army recently Bob Dellabough, Bib Dickson, Frank Grasso and Bob Hurley are the returning vets Also fighting for positions are Al Saner, Jim Rooney, Jay Williams and Bill Porbes sophomores

John Harford, Bill Ewing and Ray Reider are the returning lettermen for guard posts Other candidates include Ron Miller and Ronald Lantz.

Vets At Quarterback

To date Berky Ward, a letterman, has the inside on the quarterback position but he is being given stiff opposition by Bobby Bitner and Jim Hammond, also letter winners of a year ago

There are but three other lettermen among the other backfield hopefuls—Vince Rossetti Joe Day and Al Hershberger Joe Ujobai, John Cagiano, Bobby Sachs and Bob Hottle, ex-Gettysburg high star; Wilson Preeze, Don Holland and Earl McMillen are among the others seeking starting backfield posts.

There is a very good chance that several freshmen may be in the starting lineup Saturday night against the Bisons

Leading candidates among the yearlings are Earl Yost, 155, Williamsport, Gene Powell, 145, Harrisburg; Bill Yocum, 160, New Cumberland, Bob Eppelman, 170, Harrisburg, Ed Books, 160, Enola, and Tony Natale, 145, Harrisburg, all backs, Tom Kostalac, 160, Harrisburg, end, Carl Beck, 175, Pittsburgh, Bill Weitzel, 195, Harrisburg, and Walt Hanson, 165, Kingston, N J, guards

Last season the Bullets had a dismal 3-6 record after losing three key backs early in the season on injuries That series of mishaps snapped the morale of the squad and the Bullets never recovered

This year the squad's spirit has been unusually high which should add much to the brand of ball exhibited Practice scrimmages have been held at Annville with Lebanon Valley college and with Shippensburg State Teachers' college on the latter's field

Clamor For More News About King

London, Sept. 20 (AP) — Several London newspapers demanded Wednesday that King George VI's subjects be told more about his illness

A wave of concern swept the nation on the heels of a medical bulletin from the King's doctors reporting cryptically that "structural changes" have occurred in one of his lungs"

The King had no public engagements today but was reported to be up and around at Buckingham palace Outside, a small crowd milled throughout the day

Lord Beaverbrook's mass circulation Evening Standard declared in an editorial that "more specific information should be released as soon as possible" about what is wrong with the King. "Rumor feeds on ignorance," said the Standard "The British peoples all over the world should be told the facts"

Bullet Gridders Meet Bisons At Hershey Saturday Night; 10 Frosh Bolster 18 Lettermen

A group of 18 lettermen plus 10 promising freshmen will carry the hopes of the Gettysburg college football team this season which opens a tough nine-game schedule Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock at Hershey when the powerful Bucknell outfit will be met.

Improvement is expected to be seen in the line play where the Bullets will have more weight and depth but the backfield poses a problem due to a lack of experienced ball toters.

This week the Bullets will complete a month of pre-game drills and Coaches Henry T. Bream, who is starting his 25th season as Bullet coach, Johnny Yovicsin and Jack Shainline, have high hopes of a vastly improved team over last year's aggregation. Jim Lentz, steller guard last season is also assisting in the coaching this year.

Strength At Wings

The end positions appear to be well fortified this season with Gene Coder, Dick Thomas and Bill Vignola, all letterman, again on hand. Danny Ebbert, former Biglerville high star, who just missed earning a letter a year ago, will also be available. To this group are added Walt Hemberger, Ronald Jacobi and George Pence, all sophomores.

There are four lettermen for tackles despite the loss of Joe Kassouf, 260-pounder, who entered the army recently. Bob Dellabough, Bib Dickson, Frank Grasso and Bob Hurley are the returning vets. Also fighting for positions are Al Saner, Jim Rooney, Jay Williams and Bill Forbes, sophomores.

John Harford, Bill Ewing and Ray Reider are the returning lettermen for guard posts. Other candidates include Ron Miller and Ronald Lantz.

Vets At Quarterback

To date Berky Ward, a letterman, has the inside on the quarterback position but he is being given stiff opposition by Bobby Bitner and Jim Hammond, also letter winners of a year ago.

There are but three other lettermen among the other backfield hopefuls—Vince Rossetti, Joe Day and Al Hershberger. Joe Ujobai, John Cagiano, Bobby Sachs and Bob Hottle, ex-Gettysburg high star; Wilson Freeze, Don Holland and Earl McMillen are among the others seeking starting backfield posts.

There is a very good chance that several freshmen may be in the starting lineup Saturday night against the Bisons.

Leading candidates among the yearlings are Earl Yost, 155, Williamsport; Gene Powell, 145, Harrisburg; Bill Yocum, 160, New Cumberland; Bob Eppelman, 170, Harrisburg; Ed Books, 160, Enola, and Tony Natale, 145, Harrisburg, all backs; Tom Kostalac, 160, Harrisburg, end; Carl Beck, 175, Pittsburgh; Bill Weitzel, 195, Harrisburg, and Walt Hanson, 165, Kingston, N. J., guards.

Last season the Bullets had a dismal 3-6 record after losing three key backs early in the season on injuries. That series of mishaps snapped the morale of the squad and the Bullets never recovered.

This year the squad's spirit has been unusually high which should add much to the brand of ball exhibited. Practice scrimmages have been held at Annville with Lebanon Valley college and with Shippensburg State Teachers' college on the latter's field.

WEBSTER PAYS FINE TRIBUTE TO HEN BREAM

The following column on Henry T. Bream, head coach of football and basketball at Gettysburg college, was published in "Sportscope," John Webster's column in "The Philadelphia Inquirer," Wednesday morning:

"In the historic little town of Gettysburg, hundreds of the alumni of the college will assemble on Saturday night, September 29, for the purpose of hailing an outstanding coach who has chosen to spend his life in his native heath. In doing so, the local boy, Henry Trostle Bream, has done more than make good — he has done much to disprove the old belief that a prophet is not without honor save in his own backyard.

"Bream, who is starting his 25th year as Gettysburg's head coach of football and basketball, is to be the principal guest of the occasion. However, a banquet and appropriate gifts also will tell of the high esteem in which Clayton D. Bilheimer, director of athletics for 25 years, and Romeo Capozzi, faithful trainer over that stretch, are held. In addition, there is to be a tribute to the memory of Ira D. Plank, baseball coach for 38 years at the Battlefield institution.

Old Grads Returning

"However, this piece is to deal with Bream. Many of those flocking back to the campus will be grads who played under him on the gridiron and on the court. Some will never return, of course. They lie in cemeteries in Europe and in the Pacific.

"Five of the 11 men who started against Dickinson in 1942 were killed during the Second World War — Mike Baden, Dick March, Bill Florsheim and Charles Beaver, backs, and Ray Musselman, tackle. Bream admits he will never forget that game. Beaver ran back the opening kickoff for a touchdown. The Bullets converted. When Gettysburg kicked off, Dickinson ran it back for a touchdown — then converted. Two touchdowns in less than a minute of play! But Gettysburg took charge and won, 45-20.

"Big Thrill"

"One of Bream's biggest thrills as a football coach came in the 1928 game with Bucknell, coached by Carl Snavely. The Bisons led the Bullets, 12-0, as the third quarter ended. However, Bream's footballers scored their first touchdown early in the final period. Then Gettysburg won on a Frank Merriwell 60-yard pass, thrown by Eddie Gulian, now Albright mentor, to Earl (Streak) McMillan, one of Bream's greatest backs, who now lives in Lewistown.

"Still, there are many other happy memories for the Gettysburg coach. These include the 19-19 tie with Western Maryland, coached by Dick Harlow in 1928; the 3-0 triumph over Harry Stuhldreher-coached Villanova in 1930; two victories over Lafayette, 2-0 and 28-14, and by no means the least, the Bullets' 34-33 photo-finish over Bucknell in 1949.

"The records of Bream's football teams over their best enemies are as follows, listing victories, defeats and dead heats in that order — Franklin and Marshall, 9-8-2; Dickinson, 13-3-1; Muhlenberg, 10-11-0; Bucknell, 6-9-0; Western Maryland, 7-2-1; Lehigh, 7-4-1; Albright, 4-1-2; Drexel, 8-1-0; Johns Hopkins, 2-0-0.

Philadelphia Stars

"Moving back into memory lane, Bream names a number of football players from Philadelphia and the area as being among his outstanding. Though confessing there may be others equally worthy of praise, he lists — Fred Hamilton, from Haverford High; Eddie Gulian, Norristown; Dwight Speaker, Sharon Hill; Harry O'Neill, Darby; Tom Faulkner, Upper Darby; Jim Hardy, Darby; Hank Burman, Frankford; Johnny Hubisak, Phoenixville; Al Hart, Cheltenham; Jim Lentz, Upper Darby; Bob McCausland, Haverford township; Ditty Jones, Lansdowne, and the Cervinos, Joe and Tony, from Haddon Heights.

"O'Neill, a great athlete who was killed on Iwo Jima while fighting with the Marines, was also a standout basketball player. So were Bucky Harris, Brown Prep; Tom Weems, Wenonah Military academy, and Hank Belber, Lower Merion. Bream's headline court victories includes three over Navy, two over Pennsylvania and single scores at the expense of Princeton, Georgetown, Penn State and LaSalle. In 10 years Gettysburg was the title-winner six times in the now-defunct Eastern Pennsylvania Intercollegiate League.

" 'The present-day athlete is just as big and strong as the athlete of 25 years ago, but he isn't as rugged,' comments Bream. He attributes the change to much riding in autos, an easier life and the two-platoon system. 'As we all know, football is now much more open. It may be more interesting for the spectator, it may draw a bigger gate, but it's more of a headache for the coach.'

"Bream, who will be 52 November 21, was graduated from Gettysburg high in 1918 and from the college in 1924. He played football, basketball and baseball at both, captained both pigskin and diamond teams at both. In college he was a triple-threat back and an expert drop-kicker.

"Down through the years, the name Bream has become synonymous with Gettysburg. The grads, old and young, couldn't find a finer guy to honor."

Lewis Underling Accuses Harriman

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 20 (AP)—The vice president of the United Mine Workers Union, right-hand man of John L. Lewis, says the Truman administration is trying to jam the St. Lawrence seaway project "down the throat of the American people at this session of Congress."

And one of the main reasons, adds Thomas Kennedy, is that a bank of which W. Averell Harriman is an officer "is interested in financing newly-discovered iron ore deposits in Labrador."

Kennedy made the statements yesterday in a "state of the union" address to the District 1 UMW convention, representing most of the nation's 80,000 hard coal diggers.

In Washington, Harriman said he never heard of the Labrador financing plan to which Kennedy referred. The UMW leader did not identify the bank.

Yes, Kyron Tablets, the new food tablet way to reduce, will help you lose up to 7 lbs. first 7 days—or you pay nothing. If your excess weight is caused by over-eating (and not glandular), Kyron is designed to act 3 ways: (1) To help appease your hunger, to cut down your appetite automatically, yet you never feel hungry; (2) Includes nutritious elements to help maintain your energy while reducing; (3) Recommends in package many foods often falsely labeled in ordinary diets as "fattening." Endorsement by your physician recommended.

"I LOST 35 POUNDS IN 7 WEEKS"
—says Mrs. Kathryn Walker
5552 West Potomac Avenue, Chicago

"Kyron results have been absolutely astonishing. I am 27 years old, and have a 7-year-old daughter. When I started using Kyron, I weighed 153 pounds, and felt awfully old and let-down. In 7 weeks, I lost 35 pounds. I used to feel sluggish and always tired. Now I feel so much younger and gayer. My friends and my husband can't get over the change that has taken place in 7 short weeks."

REDUCE up to 7 POUNDS First 7 Days—Or No Cost

MAKE THIS 7-DAY TEST without risking a penny! Get a package of Kyron Tablets from your druggist. Eat these condensed food tablets for 7 days—and follow directions as explained in package. Check your weight before and after using Kyron. If you are not 100% delighted with results . . . return the empty package to your druggist, and he will return your money. Make this test today. Ask your druggist or department store for Kyron Tablets . . . the condensed food tablet.

NEW COLLEGE OF EUROPE TO SEEK ALLIANCE

By GRAHAM SHANLEY
(By The Associated Press)

Only a few miles from Flanders Fields where thousands died to help keep Europe free, 35 students from all parts of the continent are tackling the problem of uniting Europe.

The name of this unique experiment in international education is the College of Europe. Set up under the [illegible] Council of Europe with the backing of Winston Churchill and other world figures, it has recently completed its first year of hoping to train men and women who, it hopes, will lead Europe into a new era of international accord.

A factor that also worked against an ivory-tower attitude at the college in its fire year, was that the students, averaging 25 years of age, had all been involved in World War II.

"Most of them had fought in the Resistance," according to Dodd. "And from the other side there were German and Italian veterans. The common experience of suffering made them all realize that Europe must work together to help prevent other wars. At the same time it gave them a realistic, make-it-work outlook."

A breakdown shows the college's thoroughly international character. France, Italy, Western Germany and Benelux (Belgium - Netherlands-Luxembourg) each sent five students, in addition to one each from Switzerland, England, Greece and Yugoslavia. Seven more were refugees from the Iron Curtain countries of Hungary, Czechoslovakia and Poland. Dodd, the only American, and an Egyptian diplomat were officially listed as observers although they participated in all college activities.

Language Difficulties Overcome

Dodd's tuition was provided by a grant from the American Committee on United Europe headed by "Wild Bill" Donovan, wartime chief of the OSS.

A basic problem of course was the difference in language but this was solved by adopting French and English as the official tongues.

Eight professors led by Henri Brugmans, former Dutch cabinet member and Dr Henri van Effenterre, a Resistance hero, formed the nucleus of the faculty. In addition, 40 visiting lecturers from various nations came to speak.

For the first half of the year the students concentrated on the historical background of Europe's problems. Then they applied this to current issues such as inefficient commercial rivalry, causes of wars and methods for persuading nations to surrender sovereignty to international authorities.

As part of this phase the students took field trips to get a first-hand look at the different facets of European unity. They covered German factories, Belgian coal mines and even Dutch tulip farms.

Since almost all the students were city-dwellers, the agricultural tours were of great value in [illegible] broad perspective in which to judge Europe's problems.

National Loyalties Tempered

"Now, for example, when people clamoring for land reform say they can't live on half an acre, we know what they mean because we've seen families trying to do it," said Dodd. "It isn't just a statistic."

NEW COLLEGE OF EUROPE TO SEEK ALLIANCE

By GRAHAM SHANLEY

(By The Associated Press)

Only a few miles from Flanders Fields, where thousands died to help keep Europe free, 35 students from all parts of the continent are tackling the problem of uniting Europe.

The name of this unique experiment in international education is the College of Europe. Set up under the U.N.-like Council of Europe with the backing of Winston Churchill and other world figures, it has recently completed its first year of helping to train men and women who, it hopes, will lead Europe into a new era of international accord.

In a medieval museum in Bruges, Belgium, youths from 15 nations investigate together — as Europeans rather than nationals — practical steps to transform an unsteady group of small countries into a "solid bulwark of democracy."

To 21-year-old Peter Dodd, of Seattle, an American who attended the college as an observer, his eight months there were " a fascinating experience with Europe in miniature."

No Fuzzy Idealism

Dodd stresses that the students' approach the complex problem of European unity was free of what he calls "fuzzy idealism."

"We believe in what we were studying," he explains. "But as opposed to some other international movements our feet were on the ground."

To support this, the youth cited the college's practical goal of giving a European training to those who may soon have to take the lead in efforts to unite a score of countries in spite of age-old traditions. Right now, for example, he pointed out, the Marshall Plan, the European Army under Eisenhower and the Schuman Plan for integrating French and German coal production need personnel who, as Dodd says, have "more than a national consciousness."

All Involved In War

As the work continues in replacing political, economic and cultural barriers with international cooperation, a broad point of view will be even more essential in the opinion of the directors and founders of the college.

A factor that also worked against an ivory-tower attitude at the college in its fire year, was that the students, averaging 25 years of age, had all been involved in World War II.

"Most of them had fought in the Resistance," according to Dodd. "And from the other side there were German and Italian veterans. The common experience of suffering made them all realize that Europe must work together to help prevent other wars. At the same time it gave them a realistic, make-it-work outlook.

A breakdown shows the college's thoroughly international character. France, Italy, Western Germany and Benelux (Belgium - Netherlands-Luxembourg) each sent five students, in addition to one each from Switzerland, England, Greece and Yugoslavia. Seven more were refugees from the Iron Curtain countries of Hungary, Czechoslovakia and Poland. Dodd, the only American, and an Egyptian diplomat were officially listed as observers although they participated in all college activities.

Dodd's tuition was provided by a grant from the American Committee on United Europe headed by "Wild Bill" Donovan, wartime chief of the OSS.

A basic problem of course was the difference in language but this was solved by adopting French and English as the official tongues.

Eight professors led by Henri Brugmans, former Dutch cabinet member, and Dr. Henri van Effenterre, a Resistance hero, formed the nucleus of the faculty. In addition, 40 visiting lecturers from various nations came to speak.

Since almost all the students were city-dwellers, the agricultural tours were of great value in gaining a broad perspective in which to judge Europe's problems.

National Loyalties Tempered

"Now, for example, when people clamoring for land reform say they can't live on half an acre, we know what they mean because we've seen families trying to do it," said Dodd. "It isn't just a statistic."

Since all the students had been warned to temper their national loyalties, few open clashes along country lines broke out at the college. Dodd recalls, however, that it took several months for the Germans and French to overcome their tradition of enmity.

"We all learned the way you do things at home isn't the only way," he says. "And even if we didn't always agree with one another, we at least came to understand different points of view."

WEBSTER PAYS FINE TRIBUTE TO HEN BREAM

The [illegible] column on Henry T. Bream, head coach of football and basketball at Gettysburg college was published in "Sportscope," John Webster's column in The Philadelphia Inquirer Wednesday morning.

"In the historic little town of Gettysburg hundreds of the alumni of the college will assemble on Saturday night, September [illegible] for the purpose of holding an [illegible] a coach who has chosen to spend his [illegible] native heath. It comes [illegible] Henry Trostle Bream [illegible] more than [illegible] [illegible] belief that [illegible]

Bream [illegible] 25th year as Gettysburg [illegible] football and basketball [illegible] be the principal guest [illegible]. However, a banquet at [illegible] appropriate. It's also will tell of the high esteem in which Charles D. Bilheimer, director of athletics for 25 years and Romeo Capozzi, faithful trainer over that stretch are held. In addition there is to be a tribute to the memory of Ira D. Plank, baseball coach for 38 years at the Battlefield institution.

Old Grads Returning

"However, this piece is to deal with Bream. Many of those flocking back to the campus will be grads who played under him on the gridiron and on the court. Some will never return of course. They lie in cemeteries in Europe and in the Pacific.

"Five of the 11 men who started against Dickinson in 1942 were killed during the Second World War — Mike Bacen, Dick March, Bill Fiorentino and Charles Beaver, backs, and R. [illegible] tackle. Bream admits he will never forget that game. Dickinson ran back the opening kick-off for a touchdown. The Bullets converted. When Gettysburg kicked off Dickinson ran it back for a touchdown — then converted. Two touchdowns in less than a minute of play! But Gettysburg took charge and won, 45-20.

"Big Thrill"

"One of Bream's biggest thrills as a football coach came in the 1928 game with Bucknell, coached by Carl Snavely. The Bisons led the Bullets 12-0 as the third quarter ended. However Bream's footballers scored their first touchdown early in the final period. Then Gettysburg won on a Frank Merriwell 60-yard pass thrown by Eddie Gulian, now Albright mentor, to Earl (Streak) McMillan, one of Bream's greatest backs, who now lives in Lewistown.

"Still, there are many other happy memories for the Gettysburg coach. These include the 19-19 tie with Western Maryland, coached by Dick Harlow in 1928; the 3-0 triumph over Harry Stuhldreher-coached Villanova in 1930; two victories over Lafayette, 2-0 and 28-14 and by no means the least, the Bullets' 34-33 photo-finish over Bucknell in 1949.

"The records of Bream's football teams over their best enemies are as follows, listing victories, defeats and dead heats in that order — Franklin and Marshall 9-8-2, Dickinson 13-3-1, Muhlenberg 10-11-0, Bucknell 6-9-0, Western Maryland 7-2-1, Lehigh 7-4-1, Albright 4-1-2, Drexel 8-1-0, Johns Hopkins 2-0-0.

Philadelphia Stars

Moving back into memory lane, Bream names a number of football players from Philadelphia and the area as being among his outstanding. Though confessing there may be others equally worthy of praise he lists — Fred Hamilton, from Haverford High, Eddie Gulian, Norristown, Dwight Speaker, Sharon Hill, Harry O'Neill, Darby, Tom Faulkner, Upper Darby, Jim Hardy, Darby, Hank Burman, Frankford, Johnny Hubisak, Phoenixville, Al Hart, Cheltenham, Jim Lentz, Upper Darby, Bob McCausland, Haverford township, Ditty Jones, Lansdowne, and the Cervinos, Joe and Tony, from Haddon Heights.

"O'Neill, a great athlete who was killed on Iwo Jima while fighting with the Marines, was also a standout basketball player. So were Bucky Harris, Brown Prep; Tom Weems, Wenonah Military academy, and Hank Belber, Lower Merion. Bream's headline court victories includes three over Navy, two over Pennsylvania and single scores at the expense of Princeton, Georgetown, Penn State and LaSalle. In 10 years Gettysburg was the title-winner six times in the now-defunct Eastern Pennsylvania Intercollegiate League.

"'The present-day athlete is just as big and strong as the athlete of 25 years ago, but he isn't as rugged,' comments Bream. He attributes the change to much riding in autos, an easier life and the two-platoon system. 'As we all know, football is now much more open. It may be more interesting for the spectator, it may draw a bigger gate, but it's more of a headache for the coach.'

"Bream, who will be 52 November 21, was graduated from Gettysburg high in 1918 and from the college in 1924. He played football, basketball and baseball at both, captained both pigskin and diamond teams at both. In college he was a triple-threat back and an expert drop-kicker.

"Down through the years, the name Bream has become synonymous with Gettysburg. The grads, old and young, couldn't find a finer guy to honor."

Lewis Underling Accuses Harriman

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 20 (AP)—The vice president of the United Mine Workers Union, right-hand man of John L. Lewis, says the Truman administration is trying to jam the St. Lawrence seaway project "down the throat of the American people at this session of Congress."

And one of the main reasons, adds Thomas Kennedy, is that a bank of which W. Averell Harriman is an officer "is interested in financing newly-discovered iron ore deposits in Labrador."

Kennedy made the statements yesterday in a "state of the union" address to the District 1 UMW convention representing most of the nation's 80,000 hard coal diggers.

In Washington, Harriman said he never heard of the Labrador financing plan to which Kennedy referred. The UMW leader did not identify the bank.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen Need Not Embarass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

22 INSTRUCTORS AND PROFESSORS JOIN COLLEGE'S FACULTY STAFF

Twenty-two professors and instructors have been added to the staff of Gettysburg college for the coming year: Some are filling new positions. Others replace members of the faculty who secured teaching positions elsewhere, or plan to continue furthering their education.

Among the newcomers are Guillermo C Barriga, retired Colombian navy officer, who will instruct in Spanish; the officers of the air ROTC, headed by Lt. Col. Charles F. Fulton, professor of air science and tactics, and a member of instructors and associate professors in other departments.

Mr. Barriga, a graduate of the Colombia naval academy, served from 1938 to 1942 as navigation officer aboard destroyers in the Colombian navy. From 1943 to 1944 he was an attache at the Colombian embassy at Washington, D. C., rejoined the navy in 1944 and in 1949 was made commandiing officer of the Colombian naval academy training ship, the "'Almerante Padilla." He retired in July of this year from the Colombian navy. Married to the former Miss Virginia Hershey, he is making his home in York Springs.

Graduate To Tech

Another addition to the Romance languages department at the college is Marilyn Reichart, Glen Dale, N. Y., a graduate of Gettysburg college in 1947 who taught for three years at Linden Hall junior college, Lititz, and during the past year took graduate work at Penn State. She will be an instructor in French.

Allen C. Percival, of the Romance language department here, is on leave of absence this year, it was announced, to study at the University of Paris.

Dr. M. M. Hensley, who received his doctor of philosophy degree this year from Cornell university, has been named as assistant professor of biology. His teaching and research includes general zoology, wild life management and vertebrate zoology.

Lentz Joins Staff

In the physical education department James Lentz, a graduate of Gettysburg college last year, who starred in football at the school for three years, has been named as assistant coach in football.

Wilbur Mathias, a graduate of Adrian college, who received his master of science from the University of Pittsburgh and who has done graduate work at Indiana university, will teach general psychology, and will be assistant professor in the psychology department. He will teach, in addition to general psychology, mental hygiene and abnormal psychology. Edgar Eddins, a graduate of Gettysburg college in 1950, and who received his master of arts degree from Temple university, will be an instructor in general psychology, applied psychology, business and industrial psychology and social psychology.

To Teach Frosh English

Leroy W. Smith, a graduate of American university, who received his master of arts degree from George Washington and who has been engaged in graduate work at Duke university for the past two years, will be instructor in freshman English and literary foundations. Married, he and his family will reside in the Lefever apartments, York street.

Three additional techers have been named to the music department. They are Herbert Springer, organist of St. Matthew's Lutheran church, Hanover, who will teach organ; E. E. Schroeder, York, who will teach voice and Mrs. Guillermo C. Barriga, the former Miss Virginia Hershey, who will instruct in the violin.

A new teacher in the German department will be Lawrence M. Washington, a native of Hartford, Conn., who received his bachelor's and master's degrees from Middleburg college, Vermont. A veteran of World War II, married and the father of two children, he will teach elementary Germany, second year German and scientific German.

Two seminarians, both students at the local seminary, will be additional instructors in the Bible department. They are Frederick P. Eckhart, a graduate of Western Maryland in 1948, and William M. Slee, a graduate of Gettysburg college in 1949. Paul Baird, East Middle street, has been named as an additional instructor in economics. Mr. Baird received his bachelor's and master's degrees from Penn State where he was an instructor for two years. He is engaged in graduate work at the University of Illinois. As a teacher of economics here he succeeds J. Blaine Saltzer who has joined a CPA firm in Philadelphia. Mr. Baird was a pilot for two years in the U. S. air force.

Other members of the faculty, including the complete list of officers and non-commissioned officers in the ROTC and Air ROTC include:

COLLEGE-BOUND, JOINS PIRATES

Pittsburgh, Sept. 20 (AP) — Dick Smith, 23-year-old Pittsburgh Pirate rookie third baseman, had packed his duds for college but instead wound up in a major league uniform.

Smith, a wiry 160-pounder, wrote Buc General Manager Branch Rickey he wanted to finish his college course. He asked for permission to skip the Pirates' training session for rookies at Deland, Fla., next month.

Rickey replied: "Permission granted but stop over at Forbes Field on your way home for a few days." That was less than a week ago. Dick opened the eyes of the Pirate management and now is the fixture at third base.

"Gosh, it seem like a dream," chortles the youthful infielder. "I had no idea the Pirates would keep me, let alone let me play."

But Smith is going to stay with the Pirates for the balance of the waning season and maybe for a long time.

The sudden and dramatic jump to the big time threatens to curtail his college education but that's all right with Dick. "My education can wait. You get a chance like this only once in a lifetime. Anyway, I've got only one more semester to go so if I don't finish this year I'll do it next."

Smith, a senior at Lock Haven, (Pa.) State Teachers' college, makes his home in Matterville, Pa., just a stone's throw from State College.

Professor Fired As Nudist Cult Member

McKenzie, Tenn., Sept. 20 (AP)—A church college zoology professor, fired for being a nudist, is waiting today for any reply to his feelers for a new job. Dr. John E. Bauman, a 59-year-old bachelor who has taught in church schools since 1918, said he hoped he will find some school that "stands up for academic freedom."

But the man who fired him—President Roy N. Baker of the Cumberland Presbyterian church's Bethel college here—doesn't think he's got a chance.

"I don't think another church school in the country will employ him," he said.

Bauman's contract was not renewed at the end of the summer term when college officials learned he was a member of the American Sunbathing association.

New methods of canning strained fruits and vegetables are expected to retain all the original flavors and nutrition.

FORTY MINUTES FROM THE CAMPUS

TAKES LOTS OF BOOKS TO TEACH THREE R'S TODAY

St. Joseph, Mo. (AP)—Ninety books are used as texts by children in the first three school grades here compared with five in 1890. George L. Blackwell, superintenden tof schools, checked up on school changes when his daughter, Jane, started to school this year.

Even this difference does not give the full contrast. In 1890, the five books of the first three grades were used even in the higher grades. Today, the 90 volumes are only the start. School libraries are used to supplement reading and other text books. The St. Joseph school system has 52,000 books available to school children.

In addition there are many visual and audio aids today. They take the place of the slate which was the only comparable device used 60 years ago.

The five 1890 books were a reader, an arithmetic, a speller, a geography and a copy book. Today there are a number of books in each of these categories. They are written in words children use frequently and are based on experiences every child has. The children comprehend them quickly.

In addition there are books on science, music, safety, health, art, writing and social science.

The modern books have more pictures, larger type and are better adapted to the child, Blackwell thinks. School terms are longer and the child absorbs more.

New Oxford

New Oxford—W. Lewis and Nadine Hensel Kroft have named their recently born son, William Lewis. Mr. and Mrs. Kroft and daughters, Joyce and Barbara, moved from here to East Berlin shortly before the baby boy's birth. He was christened recently at the Paradise Catholic church by the parish administrator, the Rev. Francis L. Mignot.

Thirty youngsters are beginning their first grade work at the local parochial school under Sister M. Adrienne of the Mercy Order. The children are: Mary M. Bucher, Suzanne Marie Felix, Jean Marie and Joan Louise Groft (twins), Teresa Hockensmith, Suzanne Lough, Laura Myers, Ann Robinson, Suzanne Robinson, Gloria A. Shrader, Martha Smith, Frances Staub, Albert Becker, William Groft, Robert Keeney, Bernard Kijek, Robert Kuhn, Joseph Martin, Donald McSherry, Stephen Miller, Robert Naill, Patrick Noel, Edward W. Reichert, Joseph Robinson, Francis Smith, Gilbert Smith, Raymond Smith, Robert Smith, Wayne Staub and Francis Topper.

Mrs. Rosella Bowman Smith, who formerly operated a beauty parlor here, now has a position at a Hanover beauty salon.

Floral arrangements made by members were exhibited and studied at the regular meeting of the local Garden club during the week at the home of Mrs. M. D. DeTar and Mrs. James W. Barnitz.

Mrs. R. S. Keith, west of town, is receiving the names of any girls of the area who wish to join the local Girl Scout troop for this season's activities. Girls from the age of seven, while too young for regular scouting, may become members of the local Brownie troop. Mrs. Keith will also receive their applications.

Relatives and friends were in attendance at the Immaculate Conception Catholic church during the past week when a memorial mass for William G. Weaver, U. S. Army, was offered by the Rev. Robert D. Hartnett, pastor, on the anniversary of the young man's death in battle in Korea September 12, 1950.

Mrs. Walter Wagner, near town, is recovering after her return from the Hanover hospital where she received treatment recently.

The Friendship Circle group of the Pines Lutheran church, New Chester, met during the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoffman.

Bonneauville

Bonneauville — Leon Hawn and Kenneth Orndorff of the U.S. Navy returned today to Bainbridge, Md., after spending a furlough with their parents here.

Mr. and Mrs. Latimer Becker, of New Jersey, visited Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sanders last week.

Sgt. John Eck, Valley Forge, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Eck.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Spalding, Miami, Fla., visited Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gebhart Saturday.

Miss Bertha Kinzer is spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Goulden in York.

Mrs. Cloyd Miller and children, Jean and Mark, returned home Saturday evening from a visit to Williamsburg, Jamestown and Hopewell, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gebhart and family visited their daughter, Sister Laurena, of the Sisters of St Joseph, in Philadelphia Sunday.

Mrs. Anna Mae Topper is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Topper, Havre de Grace, Md., this week.

SPEND WISELY, HOPE FOR BEST IN INFLATION

By HAL BOYLE

New York, Sept. 20 (AP)—The economists are predicting inflation again.

They say that as more factories turn to war production the supply of many civilian goods will dwindle The prices of these will naturally rise, and bingo—inflation!

One of their favorite topics is what to put your money in as "a hedge against inflation." One suggestion is to buy diamonds and hold them

So you stroll into Tiffany's and tell the clerk "I want that pretty bauble, and that one, and that one over there Just for a hedge against inflation, you know Charge 'em"

Diamonds? The average man is in a better position to buy ping-pong balls. You can at least go home and play a game with them, while inflation rages outside the window

Real estate is another favorite "hedge" for the experts. But the ordinary guy already is up to his pocketbook paying off the mortgage on his house He couldn't buy the Empire State building even with a certificate of character from the RFC.

Bad For Husbands

"The worst thing about this inflation talk is the weapon it is giving wives," complained one husband "My wife came up to me the other night and said, Well, I guess I'd better buy a fur coat quick—they say inflation is coming

"I told her we'd better keep the money to pay the rent Then we could both stay warm this winter But she bought the fur coat anyway"

There are a number of people, not including wives, who feel the best way to whip inflation is to buy a three-car garage, even though they don't need one on the grounds they will soon be in short supply

The trouble is that the average man doesn't need a hedge against inflation He needs a cyclone cellar —and some common sense

There is no way possible he can "beat inflation" any more than King Canute could turn back the tide All he can do is to tighten his belt, spend his mony as wisely as he can —and hope for better times

Nest Egg Helps

America—with the rest of the world—has been in inflation ever since the end of the last war. If it gets worse, as seems likely, it is bound to hurt the mass of the people—as inflations always do

This country is putting much of its wealth and productive energy in guns to buy peace Usually you can't have guns and butter both The theory this time is that our productive capacity has risen so much that we can soon almost do that Maybe not as much butter as we'd like—but more butter than any other nation ever did before under the same circumstances.

That is our only real hedge against inflation: The ability of our industrial machine to turn out the guns we need and the comfort gadgets we like—at the same time And it'll take some doing

Meanwhile it's nice to keep a little nest egg in the bank

New Middle East Defense Discussed

Ottawa, Sept. 20 (AP) — Creation of a new Middle Eastern defense system on Russia's flank, with Turkey as the pivotal nation, was reported authoritatively Wednesday to be under discussion by the Atlantic Alliance

Top military leaders count on Turkey becoming the key country in such a setup after Turkey is linked to the United States and its allies by a mutual security treaty

The Atlantic Council meeting here is discussing a proposal to admit Turkey and Greece to the North Atlantic treaty organization Even if Turkey is not accepted by NATO, tentative plans call for other countries in its strategic area to join it in a new Middle East command

Military and defense officials of the 12 NATO nations opened discussions yesterday on command problems which would be created by the admission of Greece and Turkey

Says State Dept. Was Hindering U. S. Policy

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP)—Lt General Albert C Wedemeyer, wartime commander of American forces in China, testified Wednesday that reports submitted to him by his State Department political advisers were contrary to U. S policy as he understood it

The tall, silver-haired general, now retired, said the advisers "idea was to give more support to the Communist forces in lieu of the Nationalist forces" of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek

He told the Senate's internal security subcommittee that American policy, "as I interpreted it, was to keep China in the war and to support the Nationalist government."

The subcommittee is searching for any traces of subversive influences on U S policies in the Far East, with the probe focused particularly on the Institute of Pacific Relations (IPR), a private research organization

Wedemeyer succeeded General Joseph W Stilwell as commander of American forces in China in September 1944 He served there for two years acting also as chief of staff to Chiang Kai-shek

Applications Ready For Doe Hunters

Harrisburg, Sept. 20 (AP)—A Revenue department spokesman said Wednesday application blanks are available now to hunt during the special doe season or with a bow and arrow.

However, he added, the actual licenses are not yet available at the department These are expected about October 1, he added, and will be mailed to applicants as soon as they become available

A new law was passed by the Legislature enabling bow and arrow enthusiasts to hunt deer by paying an extra $2 fee over and above the regular $3 15 license levy The season is set from October 15 through 27 with the exception of October 21 a Sunday

The new law restricts the archers deer hunting to the traditional long bow with no mechanical aids It bans the use of explosive tips on arrows

The special doe season scheduled for December 14 and 15, enables hunters to shoot antlerless deer by paying an extra $1 10 above the regular license fee The applications may be obtained from the Revenue department here, the spokesman said

Near Vote On Bill To Boost Licenses

Harrisburg, Sept. 20 (AP)—A bill [illegible] liquor and beer license fees [illegible] advanced toward a [illegible] the Senate

The measure won approval of the Senate law and order committee yesterday as the Senate as a whole [illegible] a final vote on three other bills in a liquor package already approved by the House

The committee agreed [illegible] that all other liquor bills should be held up until the license [illegible] Chairman A H Letzler R-Clearfield [illegible] reporter The measure if enacted, would increase taproom, hotel and restaurant liquor license fees from $50 to $100 according to the size of the community served

Beer licenses would increase by $50 in all classes with beer distributors' licenses rising from $400 to $500 and importers from $900 to $1600 License fees for clubs would be doubled going from $50 to $100 for liquor and from $25 to $50 for beer Brewers licenses would remain at $1,000

The Earl of Sandwich reintroduced the food item which bears his name in the 18th century but it is believed to have been used by the ancient Romans

Plenty Cemetery Space For 200 Years

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 20 (AP)—Here's one more item you don't have to worry about—there will be enough cemetery space at least for the next 200 years.

That's the official estimate of the American Cemetery association which says there's no need for the government to get into the cemetery business. The group is in convention here.

The first successful elevated transport lines in New York city used steam locomotives

By HAL BOYLE

New York, Sept. 20 (AP)—The economists are predicting inflation again.

They say that as more factories turn to war production the supply of many civilian goods will dwindle. The prices of these will naturally rise, and bingo—inflation!

The financial pundits are already giving advice on how to beat inflation. Lately, I've been reading this advice in preference to the comics page. It's funnier.

One of their favorite topics is what to put your money in as "a hedge against inflation." One suggestion is to buy diamonds and hold them.

So you stroll into Tiffany's and tell the clerk: "I want that pretty bauble, and that one, and that one over there. Just for a hedge against inflation, you know. Charge 'em."

Diamonds? The average man is in a better position to buy ping-pong balls. You can at least go home and play a game with them, while inflation rages outside the window.

Real estate is another favorite "hedge" for the experts. But the ordinary guy already is up to his pocketbook paying off the mortgage on his house. He couldn't buy the Empire State building even with a certificate of character from the RFC.

Bad For Husbands

"The worst thing about this inflation talk is the weapon it is giving wives," complained one husband. "My wife came up to me the other night and said, 'Well, I guess I'd better buy a fur coat quick—they say inflation is coming.

"I told her we'd better keep the money to pay the rent. Then we could both stay warm this winter. But she bought the fur coat anyway."

There are a number of people, not including wives, who feel the best way to whip inflation is to buy a three-car garage, even though they don't need one, on the grounds they will soon be in short supply.

The trouble is that the average man doesn't need a hedge against inflation. He needs a cyclone cellar—and some common sense.

There is no way possible he can "beat inflation" any more than King Canute could turn back the tide. All he can do is to tighten his belt, spend his mony as wisely as he can—and hope for better tmes.

Nest Egg Helps

America—with the rest of the world—has been in inflation ever since the end of the last war. If it gets worse, as seems likely, it is bound to hurt the mass of the people—as inflations always do.

This country is putting much of its wealth and productive energy in guns to buy peace. Usually you can't have guns and butter both. The theory this time is that our productive capacity has risen so much that we can soon almost do that. Maybe not as much butter as we'd like—but more butter than any other nation ever did before under the same circumstances.

That is our only real hedge against inflation: The ability of our industrial machine to turn out the guns we need and the comfort gadgets we like—at the same time. And it'll take some doing.

Meanwhile it's nice to keep a little nest egg in the bank.

New Middle East Defense Discussed

Ottawa, Sept. 20 (AP) — Creation of a new Middle Eastern defense system on Russia's flank, with Turkey as the pivotal nation, was reported authoritatively Wednesday to be under discussion by the Atlantic Alliance.

Top military leaders count on Turkey becoming the key country in such a setup after Turkey is linked to the United States and its allies by a mutual security treaty.

The Atlantic Council meeting here is discussing a proposal to admit Turkey and Greece to the North Atlantic treaty organization. Even if Turkey is not accepted by NATO, tentative plans call for other countries in its strategic area to join it in a new Middle East command.

Military and defense officials of the 12 NATO nations opened discussions yesterday on command problems which would be created by the admission of Greece and Turkey.

Says State Dept. Was Hindering U. S. Policy

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP)—Lt. General Albert C. Wedemeyer, wartime commander of American forces in China, testified Wednesday that reports submitted to him by his State Department political advisers were contrary to U. S. policy as he understood it.

The tall, silver-haired general, now retired, said the advisers' "idea was to give more support to the Communist forces in lieu of the Nationalist forces" of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

He told the Senate's internal security subcommittee that American policy, "as I interpreted it, was to keep China in the war and to support the Nationalist government."

The subcommittee is searching for any traces of subversive influences on U. S. policies in the Far East, with the probe focused particularly on the Institute of Pacific Relations (IPR), a private research organization.

Wedemeyer succeeded General Joseph W. Stilwell as commander of American forces in China in September, 1944. He served there for two years, acting also as chief of staff to Chiang Kai-shek.

Applications Ready For Doe Hunters

Harrisburg, Sept. 20 (AP)—A Revenue department spokesman said Wednesday application blanks are available now to hunt during the special doe season or with a bow and arrow.

However, he added, the actual licenses are not yet available at the department. These are expected about October 1, he added, and will be mailed to applicants as soon as they become available.

A new law was passed by the Legislature enabling bow and arrow enthusiasts to hunt deer by paying an extra $2 fee over and above the regular $3.15 license levy. The season is set from October 15 through 27 with the exception of October 21, a Sunday.

The new law restricts the archers' deer hunting to the traditional long bow with no mechanical aids. It bans the use of explosive tips on arrows.

The special doe season, scheduled for December 14 and 15, enables hunters to shoot anterless deer by paying an extra $1.10 above the regular license fee. The applications may be obtained from the Revenue department here, the spokesman said.

The French explorer Jacques Cartier brought the cabbage to the New World.

Near Vote On Bill To Boost Licenses

Harrisburg, Sept. 20 (AP)—A bill boosting liquor and beer license fees in Pennsylvania advanced toward a vote in the Senate.

The measure won approval of the Senate law and order committee yesterday as the Senate as a whole postponed a final vote on nine other bills in a liquor package already approved by the House.

"The committee agreed unanimously that all other liquor bills should be held up until the license fee increase bill catches up," Chairman A. H. Letzler (R.-Clearfield) told a reporter. The measure, if enacted, would increase taproom, hotel and restaurant liquor license fees from $50 to $100 according to the size of the community served.

Beer licenses would increase by $50 in all classes with beer distributors' licenses rising from $400 to $500 and importers' from $900 to $1,000. License fees for clubs would be doubled, going from $50 to $100 for liquor and from $25 to $50 for beer. Brewers' licenses would remain at $1,000.

The Earl of Sandwich reintroduced the food item which bears his name in the 18th century, but it is believed to have been used by the ancient Romans.

Plenty Cemetery Space For 200 Years

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 30 (AP)—Here's one more item you don't have to worry about—there will be enough cemetery space at least for the next 200 years.

That's the official estimate of the American Cemertery association which says there's no need for the government to get into the cemetery business. The group is in convention here.

TAKES LOTS OF BOOKS TO TEACH THREE R'S TODAY

St. Joseph, Mo. (AP)—Ninety books are used as texts by children in the first three school grades here compared with five in 1890 George L Blackwell superintendent of schools checked up on school changes when his daughter Jane started to school this year

Even this difference does not give the full contrast. In 1890, the five books of the first three grades were used even in the higher grades. Today the 90 volumes are only the start School libraries are used to supplement reading and other text books The St Joseph school system has 52,000 books available to school children

In addition there are many visual and audio aids today They take the place of the slate which was the only comparable device used 60 years ago

The five 1890 books were a reader an arithmetic a speller, a geography and a copy book Today there are a number of books in each of these categories They are written in words children use frequently and are based on experiences every child has The children comprehend them quickly

In addition there are books on science music, safety health art writing and social science

The modern books have more pictures larger type and are better adapted to the child Blackwell thinks School terms are longer and the child absorbs more

U. S. SUBMITS PROPOSALS FOR IRANIAN TALKS

By EDWARD E. BOMAR

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP)—The United Nations made public Wednesday a three-point proposal for reviving deadlocked British-Iranian talks over control of Iran's strategic oil industry.

Presidential Assistant W. Averell Harriman told Iranian Prime Minister Mossadegh in a letter outlining the American proposals that Iran must be "practical" if her dispute with Britain—generally viewed as dangerous to Middle Eastern peace—is to be settled.

Harriman wrote Mossadegh that "negotiations can soon be resumed" if the premier accepts the U. S. proposals as a basis for discussion. This might indicate Harriman had talked them over, at least informally, with the British, and got their approval.

Three Points Stressed

The three points called for "competent" management of the Iranian oil industry, under the aegis of the company Iran set up after nationalization; compension to Britain, and British control of overseas sale and distribution of Iranian oil products.

Refusing to transmit a 15-day Iranian ultimatum to Britain, President Truman's foreign affairs assistant said the terms laid down by Mossadegh in the ultimatum were largely the same as those the British rejected last month when negotiations stalled. Harriman went to Tehran, Iran's capital, in a fruitless attempt to end the dispute brought on by Iranian nationalization of her British-run oil industry.

Harriman said bluntly that both sides must show good will and give recognition to the "practical business and technical aspects" of the international oil industry. He urged, "as a sincere friend of Iran," that the prime minister reconsider his ultimatum.

Justice For Britain

Harriman said his three-point counter-proposal would satisfy Iranian aspirations to control her oil industry while giving justice to Britain.

They were:

1. The Abadan refinery would be run by a "competent organization" under control of the National Oil Co. of Iran, in accordance with "common business practice throughout the world." (The National Oil Co. of Iran was set up by the Iranian government to take over from Britain's Anglo-Iranian Oil Co., whose properties in Iran were nationalized.

2. Payment of compensation to Britain for nationalization of British property must depend upon arrangements for efficient operation of the oil industry, to assure that its products continued to be made available for sale in world markets.

3. Iran must rely on Britain for overseas distribution of Iran oil products, which amounted to some 30,000,000 tons of oil a year before the dispute started. Only the British, Harriman said, have transportation and distribution facilities available to handle Iranian oil.

Two Jesuit Priests Convicted As Spies

Warsaw, Poland, Sept. 20 (AP)—Two Jesuit priests and three other defendants have been convicted of spying and sentenced to prison by a Warsaw military regional court, the press announced Wednesday.

(Communist Poland has stpped up its campaign against the Roman Catholic church, possibly with a view to ending Vatican influence among the Poles and substituting a national church. Pope Pius XII has just called upon all Poles to remain firm in their loyalty.)

The defendants were accused of plotting to "overthrow the people's regime." Father Tomasz Rostworowski and Father Stanislaw Nawrocki were sentenced to 12 years each. Wieslaw Goraczko was given an eight-year sentence, and Andrzej Soldrowski and Adam Stanowski, each seven years.

The court charged that the five worked for "Anglo-American intelligence and underground organizations operating in Poland."

6 Policemen Quit In Protest Move

McKeesport, Pa., Sept. 20 (AP) — Six police officers in nearby North Versailles township offered their resignation Wednesday to protest manslaughter charges against two of their members.

Resignations were submitted by Police Chief Henry Stapinski and his force after a coroner's inquest ordered Lt. Glenn Wyant and Patrolman James Good held for grand jury action.

The charges stemmed from the shooting of Andrew Rosevitik, 69-year-old retired steelworker, when the two officers attempted to serve a surety of the peace warrant. Officers said they shot Rosevitik after he attacked them.

Patrolman Michael Tucci blamed his resignation on "lack of support of the people of the community," who he said have "turned against the police."

M'MAHON ASKS PEACE BUT IS REALISTIC TOO

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP)—Senator Brien McMahon is a man in whom hope does not seem to die easily. His hope is that mankind through reason can keep peace in the world.

This has been the dream of many men of goodwill from away back. So far it has been a dream only. But there is always someone like McMahon who persists in thinking that maybe tomorrow [illegible] or tomorrow.

Eighteen months ago the pink-cheeked McMahon who dresses fashionably and is a Democrat from Connecticut, was troubled by the race between Russia and the West to get armed. He arose in the Senate to speak.

He is chairman of the joint congressional committee on atomic energy and he received thoughtful attention from his colleagues although in the end nothing came of what he proposed.

He looked into the future and thought he saw doom if the terrible arms race continued. So he called for a special meeting of the United Nations General Assembly in Moscow itself.

A few months later the Korean war broke out, a clear demonstration that Communism was relying on force instead of reason. Since then in Korea the U N and communism have been relying on force.

Repeat His Fears

Tuesday McMahon arose in the Senate again and repeated with more detail his fears as to where force will lead us all and the possible solution if we try reason.

This time he suggested as before a special session of the U N General Assembly for the single purpose of stopping the armaments race by working out an agreement for disarmament and control of the atom.

And as evidence of this country's good will he suggested Congress pledge itself—once there was real agreement on disarmament—to do this:

That all the countries including the United States should chip in and, through the United Nations help raise the world's living standards by agreeing to spend for five years a large part of the money saved through disarmament.

But McMahon didn't stop there. While he offered hope of a proposition for peace arrived at reasonably he himself demonstrated that he is quite realistic about all this himself.

For Atomic Speed-up

He did so by offering two suggestions, the one explained above for peace through peaceful means, and this:

He urged a vast speed-up in the production of U S atomic weapons so the armed forces can be equipped with them in far greater variety for more security for the United States.

In other words, while he suggested a peaceful settlement he urged the U S to be prepared with overwhelming and terrible force just in case.

It seems likely that his startling suggestions about new weapons will receive more Senate attention than his suggestion for peaceful settlement.

Although 43 U S states limit the hours of employment for women to protect their health statistics show that women on the average outlive the men by several years.

American School Is Friendship Link

San Francisco (AP) — The American University of Beirut in Lebanon is one of America's strongest links of friendship with the Arab world, says Dr Hamilton Anderson, University of California Medical professor.

Dr Anderson has just spent a year in Beirut. There, he says, he found that students come to the university from all Arab countries. They go back to their own countries and do good work. And in the process they spread friendship for America he says. He believes this is especially true of the doctors graduated from Beirut.

School Girls Need 'Growing Up' Clothes

Little girls have a way of growing up all of a sudden, as any parent knows.

This fact has been discovered by Fred Cole of California, noted principally as a manufacturer of bathing suits. Having a [illegible]-year-old daughter of his own, Mr Cole noted that the young lady had decided ideas about clothes. So he decided to add some school clothes to his line just to keep down the overhead. Says he:

"I conducted a sort of Gallup poll among the [illegible] crowd. One day we had to [illegible] friends of my daughter Penny [illegible] the house. I asked them [illegible] cowboy clothes and got all kinds of answers including the perfect squelch—That's sissy stuff. One little girl even called them old fashioned."

So Mr Cole started making a line of girls school clothes with a ladylike look planned to bridge the gap between toddlers and teens. They are mostly made of sturdy cottons consisting of the beloved [illegible] skirts and jumpers of their [illegible] which can be worn with assorted blouses. His designer Margit Fellig, mother of four children under eight years of age, comments:

"You [illegible] up to your clothes. A child will behave like a little lady in a pretty feminine dress, or like a tomboy when she wears jeans."

[illegible] Romans heated their homes [illegible] through the walls [illegible] panels on the walls of homes [illegible] controls so [illegible] heating for the home [illegible] when the weather outside changes before any change is noted in room temperatures.

Africa covers an area of 12 000 000 square miles.

Secret College Is Busy For Defense

Kingston, Ont. (AP) — Brains that would run vital jobs in any new Canadian war effort are being sharpened and broadened here in a [illegible] secret as a password [illegible] marks good or bad [illegible]. It is the national defense college.

[illegible]

Imperial Defence College and the War College in the United States.

The students are near the top of the ladder in the forces departments of government and occasionally industry. All are marked as comers. When they leave they get [illegible] NDC after [illegible]. That's coming to mean more and more when it counts most.

Auxiliary Of State Medical Unit Elects

Pittsburgh, Sept 20 (AP) — Mrs Albert F D[illegible] was [illegible] president of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Pennsylvania Medical Society.

Mrs Francis P Dwyer, Renovo, was elected recording secretary.

Delegates to the women's convention include Mrs Daniel O'Connell, Jeannette; Mrs William J Jacoby, Mt Carmel and Mrs Frederick H Steel, Huntingdon.

WITH THE PASSING of each year a great number of facts are added to man's increasing store of knowledge. Not over seventy five years ago a man of superior intelligence could possess a working knowledge of all of science. Now, however, the realm of the known is so vast that it is necessary for men to specialize in order to master one small but deep corner of scientific knowledge.

Thus we have the physician who diagnoses disease and prescribes medication and treatment. The pharmacist compounds and dispenses. Both the physician and the pharmacist benefit greatly from the researches of the biologist, the chemist, the physiologist, and the physicist, to name but a few. Through the teamwork of the allied sciences, increasingly better medical service for all is assured.

Secret College Is Busy For Defense

Kingston, Ont. (AP) — Brains that would run vital jobs in any new Canadian war effort are being sharpened and broadened here in a school where secrecy is a passion and nobody gets marks, good or bad, for anything. It is the national defense college.

Since 1947, it has been turning out men who would go to senior jobs not only in the armed forces but in government and industry if war came.

Behind the towering walls of old Fort Frontenac, they come for a year at a time to study and consider not one particular realm of Canadian defense but the whole broad picture — strategically, politically, economically and otherwise. The school is an important effort to find the answer to the complexities of modern war. It is Canada's parallel of the United Kingdom's Imperial Defence College and the War College in the United States.

The students are near the top of the ladder in the forces, departments of government and, occasionally, industry. All are marked as "comers." When they leave, they get no report, no marks, nothing but the right to put the initials N.D.C. after their name. That is coming to mean more and more when it counts most.

U. S. SUBMITS PROPOSALS FOR IRANIAN TALKS

By EDWARD E. BOMAR

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP)—The United Nations made public Wednesday a three-point proposal for resuming deadlocked British-Iranian talks over control of Iran's strategic oil industry.

Presidential Assistant W. Averell Harriman told Iranian Prime Minister Mossadegh in a letter outlining the American proposals that Iran must be practical if her dispute with Britain—generally viewed as a threat to Middle Eastern peace—is to be settled.

Harriman wrote Mossadegh that negotiations can soon be resumed if the premier accepts the U. S. proposals as a basis for discussion. This might indicate Harriman had talked them over at least informally with the British and got their approval.

Three Points Stressed

The three points called for competent management of the Iranian oil industry under the aegis of the company Iran set up after nationalization; compensation to Britain and British control of overseas sale and distribution of Iranian oil products.

Refusing to transmit a 15-day Iranian ultimatum to Britain, President Truman's foreign affairs assistant said the terms laid down by Mossadegh in the ultimatum were largely the same as those the British rejected last month when negotiators stalled. Harriman went to Teheran, Iran's capital, in a fruitless attempt to end the dispute brought on by Iranian nationalization of her British-owned oil [illegible].

Harriman [illegible] bluntly that both sides must [illegible] with good will and give recognition to [illegible] practical business [illegible] of the international [illegible]. He [illegible] as a sincere friend of Iran that the prime minister [illegible] ultimatum.

Justice For Britain

Harriman said the three-point counter-proposal would satisfy Iranian aspirations to control her oil industry while giving justice to Britain.

They were:

1. The Abadan refinery would be run by a competent organization under control of the National Oil Co. of Iran in accordance with common business practice throughout the world. (The National Oil Co. of Iran was set up by the Iranian government to take over from Britain's Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. whose properties in Iran were nationalized.)

2. Payment of compensation to Britain for nationalization of British property must depend upon arrangements for efficient operation of the oil industry, to assure that its products continued to be made available for sale in world markets.

3. Iran must rely on Britain for overseas distribution of Iran oil products, which amounted to some 30,000,000 tons of oil a year before the dispute started. Only the British, Harriman said, have transportation and distribution facilities available to [illegible] Iranian oil.

Two Jesuit Priests Convicted As Spies

Warsaw, Poland, Sept. 20 (AP)—Two Jesuit priests and three other defendants have been convicted of spying and sentenced to prison by a Warsaw military regional court, the press announced Wednesday.

Communist Poland has stepped up its campaign against the Roman Catholic church, possibly with a view to ending Vatican influence among the Poles and substituting a national church. Pope Pius XII has just called upon all Poles to remain firm in their loyalty.

The defendants were accused of plotting to overthrow the people's state. Father Tomasz Rostworowski and Father Stanislaw Nawrocki were sentenced to 12 years each. W[illegible] Goraczko was given an eight-year sentence and Andrzej [illegible] and Adam Stanowski, [illegible] seven years.

The court charged that the five "worked for Anglo-American intelligence and underground organizations operating in Poland."

6 Policemen Quit In Protest Move

McKeesport, Pa., Sept. 20 (AP) — Six police officers in nearby North Versailles township offered their resignation Wednesday to protest manslaughter charges against two of their members.

Resignations were submitted by Police Chief Henry Stapinski and his force after a coroner's inquest ordered Lt. Glenn Wyant and Patrolman James Good held for grand jury action.

The charges stemmed from the shooting of Andrew Rosevitik, 69-year-old retired steelworker, when the two officers attempted to serve a surety of the peace warrant. Officers said they shot Rosevitik after he attacked them.

Patrolman Michael Tucci blamed his resignation on "lack of support of the people of the community," who he said have "turned against the police."

East Berlin

East Berlin—J. Harold Little, who has been a farmer in the Hanover area since discontinuing his work here as principal of the local high school in 1934, last week at the York Fair, showed a large Chester White sow which became the mother of a litter of 13 which remained with her throughout the week attracting many visitors.

Guy E. Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford M. Barnes, who entered the navy some time ago after graduating from the local high school, was recently sent overseas.

Erection is nearing completion on the house which Mr. and Mrs. J. Monroe Anthony, R. 2, have been having built on the West End lot which they bought during 1950 from Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Barnes who reside in the adjoining property.

Another house which is being rapidly erected in this section is the one south of town for Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shetter, who expect to move there from their present nearby home on the farm property of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Moul.

Miss Margaret Ann Moul, who left recently to spend the winter for special voice training by a Juilliard artist in Philadelphia, is making her home for a time at a Dominican guest house in that city.

Dr. and Mrs. Leon Roos, who bought the Nevin March property early in 1950 and shortly afterward had the house thereon razed, have sold the lot to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer G. Mummert, who reside nearby, and who have begun work on the erection of their new home on the site.

Emory W. Sell, Jr., local painter and decorator, recently treated his employes with their wives and children to a corn bake and wiener roast at Camp Erney, near Abbottstown. There were 16 men, women and children present.

James W. Shetter, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Shetter, a graduate of the 1951 class of the local high school, is now participating in freshman week at Trinity college, Hartford, Conn.

The apartment at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford M. Barnes has been occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roland, who were recently married.

The former William D. Chapman grocery near Two Churches, which was sold to Mr. and Mrs. Mearl Heikes, R. 1, shortly before Mr. Chapman's death early in 1950, has now been sold to Elwood Summers, Spring Grove, who will operate the business. Mr. Heikes is now farming his R. 1 property from which his daughter, Mrs. Euphemia Walton, has moved to Franklintown. Both Mrs. Heikes and Mrs. Walton have positions at the Mechanicsburg Supply Depot.

A number of persons from this area were in attendance recently when a birthday party was tendered as a surprise to Mrs. Robert Emig of the Abbottstown area at her home. More than 60 persons spent the evening which was devoted to games and refreshments.

Harry Moul, Jr., Abbottstown, formerly of here, has left for Sampson Air Force Base, New York, where he will begin initial training, having enlisted in this branch of service for a four-year period.

Mrs. Lyle H. Bowen, Phoenix, Ariz., returned there last week by air after spending several weeks in York with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin J. Nitchman, formerly of here.

Miss Queenie M. Feiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Feiser, has entered her senior year at Shippensburg State Teachers' college where she is preparing for a career as an elementary teacher.

Audrey Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Myers, York, and a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orpheus Myers, R. 2, has been a patient at the York hospital where she submitted to an emergency operation for appendicitis.

GETTYSBURG 943-R-4

Philadelphia, Sept. 20 (AP) — The president of the Philadelphia Electric company said today that scarcity of steel and copper is forcing electric power companies to curtail expansion programs "and may possibly affect the defense program."

H. B. Bryans told the opening session of the Pennsylvania Electric association's 44th annual meeting that material shortages already have cut 1951 capacity additions by 1,000,000 kilowatts "and now seem likely to cause a loss of from 2,000,000 to 4,000,000 kilowatts in 1952."

New York Times Is 100 Years Old

New York, Sept. 20 (AP)—The New York Times, 100 years old Tuesday, received congratulations from President Truman.

The President—whose message was among many received from world, national and local leaders and groups—told Arthur Hays Sulzberger, president and publisher:

"I congratulate The Times particularly for consistently maintaining the highest journalistic standards. Your great newspaper has given its readers wide news coverage and reporting which has been generally fair and accurate.

"The Times is a newspaper serving well both its own community and the country as a whole. Of course, on this anniversary, special credit is due Adolph Ochs for making The Times the outstanding newspaper it is. I wish The Times continued success."

Adolph S. Ochs, a Chattanooga, Tenn., publisher, took over The New York Times in 1896 and built it into a great newspaper. He adopted for The Times the slogan "All the news that's fit to print."

Abbottstown

Abbottstown—The following people attended the auto races at Langhorne on Sunday: Tom Roomsburg, Earl Butt, Carl Spangler, George Raubenstine, Laverne Neff, of town; "Buzz" Roomsburg, Hanover, and Paul Myers, York.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Freed and family, York, visited Mrs. Freed's mother, Mrs. Lillian Stambaugh, over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thoman, York, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Griffin recently.

Mrs. Helen Haines has received word from her son, Grover, and family, who recently arrived in Italy on the "Queen Mary." They encountered a storm at sea and Mrs. Haines was thrown to the deck and suffered a fracture right hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Crowl received word Monday of the sudden death of their daughter, Mrs. Arlene Gill, who resided in Westminster.

10 Unfriendly And 3 Friendly Witnesses

Los Angeles, Sept. 20 (AP)—The current score of the House subcommittee investigating Hollywood Reds is 10 unfriendly and only three friendly witnesses in two days of public hearings here.

Witness No. 13 was Herbert Klein, 44, newspaperman and former faculty member of Los Angeles City college and El Camino Junior college, Gardena, Calif. He was the last of five witnesses Tuesday afternoon who declined to say whether they were Communists.

All claimed protection of the U. S. Constitution's fifth amendment, which states that no persons shall be required to testify against himself.

Klein, who worked for the U. S. Department of Agriculture and War Production Board in Washington, D. C., during World War II, said he signed a loyalty oath when he entered government work. He declined to say whether he was a member of the Communist party at that time, or later when he was a movie studio press agent.

PLAYED FATAL GAME

London, Sept. 20 (AP) — The story of how a young mother played her seven-year-old son a deadly game of checkers in a gas-filled room was unfolded at an inquest Tuesday.

Coroner P. B. Skeels found that Mrs. Dorothy White, 34, kept her son's attention by playing the game until both died in the kitchen of their home. Friends said she had been despondent because of a nervous breakdown.

Berlin, Sept. 20 (AP)—Communist police occupied a steel plant in the Soviet-zone state of Saxony-Anhalt after workers rioted over production speedups, the West Berlin newspaper Nacht Depesche reported today. At the same time Communist officials in East Germany have acknowledged a serious bread and meat shortage in the bread basket state of Mecklenburg. They are cracking down on "hostile elements" —recalcitrant and lax administrators —whom the Reds are accusing of sabotage.
